

A LOWELL WOMAN CITY SOLICITOR

Was Rescued From Drowning at Revere Beach Submits an Opinion to the Board of Charities

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Two women and two life guards figured in the thrilling rescue of Mrs. Frederick England of Lowell who, while bathing at Revere Beach yesterday morning, had got beyond her depth and would have drowned but for their timely assistance.

The two women who were the first to reach Mrs. England and supported her until the life guards came, were Mrs. J. J. Foy of Revere and Miss Gertrude Barnard of Roxbury.

The life savers, who completed the rescue, were Sam Mahoney and John Murray.

The rescue was witnessed from the beach by the husband and sister of the drowning woman. For some time there the wildest kind of excitement.

Owing to the untoward weather yesterday, very few bathers were in the water. Mr. and Mrs. England and party of Lowell people had gone to Revere to pay a visit to friends. They did not wish to let the opportunity go by without taking a plunge into the sea.

While some of the party went in the water others, including Mr. England, stayed ashore to watch the bathers. Mrs. England, who is very fond of bathing, waded out ahead of the party.

She took a few strokes, and thinking that she was still within her depth, tried to touch bottom. To her terror she discovered that she was out much beyond her depth. Not being much of a swimmer, she immediately lost all presence of mind and cried lustily.

Her struggles caused her to sink, but just as she went under, Mrs. Foy and Miss Barnard reached her. Each took hold of one of Mrs. England's arms and tried to support her.

For fully ten minutes the three women struggled in the water, while other bathers who were unable to swim screamed, as did the spectators on shore. Mr. England was almost overcome with excitement as he watched the two women trying to save his wife.

The affair had been witnessed by life guards at Starlin 35, who immediately rushed to the scene and assisted by women brought Mrs. England ashore.

Mrs. England was taken to the bath house where, after working over her for some time, the matron succeeded in fully reviving her. She was, however, suffering from a nervous collapse due to the excitement that she had gone through.

City Solicitor Duncan has submitted the following opinion to the board of charities:

Board of Charities, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: I have your request for an opinion as to whether you have the legal right to pay from your present appropriation the sum of $4,358.92, due from the city of Lowell to the Massachusetts Home for Feeble Minded.

Together with such request you have sent me a copy of the estimate for your department for the year 1910 and also certain references to the charter and ordinances.

The charter amendment of 1896, section 8, provides that no sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose and that no expenditure shall be made and no liability incurred by or on behalf of the city until the city council has duly voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability.

By section 3 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance providing for estimates for appropriations and for other purposes," it is provided that "all regular annual appropriations shall be for and only applicable to the liabilities incurred during the year in which they are made, any form of phraseology in the order, resolution or vote providing for the same, to the contrary notwithstanding."

The whole matter turns on the question as to whether, when appropriations were made for the charity department for the year 1910, a sum was appropriated to cover the bill in question and included in the total amount appropriated, which was, as I understand it, seventy-five thousand dollars. If this was done, then so much of the total appropriation could not be held to be a part of the annual appropriation for the year but should rather be considered as an appropriation to cover a particular claim. Whether the bill was considered at all by the committee on appropriations and whether any specific action was taken thereon at the beginning of the year does not appear from the data submitted.

If it was considered and provided for then it should be paid at once by your department. If not, an appropriation should be made to meet it.

Respectfully submitted,
City Solicitor.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT DEMAND A SCHOOL

On a Clinton Girl Without Any Known Motive North Chelmsford Residents Up in Arms

CLINTON, Sept. 2.—Murderously assaulted by an unknown man near her home here last night, Miss Katherine A. Kelley, 36 years old, lies today in the local hospital in a dying condition. Attending physicians state that the woman has a compound depressed fracture of the skull and that the chances of recovery are against her.

Arriving in Depot square on an electric car from Worcester, Miss Kelley started for her home on Sterling street. When but a short distance from her residence and but three quarters of a mile from the center of the town an unknown man stepped out from the side of the street and, swinging a bar of iron, hit the woman over the head, causing the fractured skull.

The motive of the assault is not known by the police or the victim, Miss Kelley, who is employed as a clerk in the Clinton Savings bank, and who moves in good society in this town, stated today during a few moments she was conscious that she did not recognize her assailant and could give no motive for the incident.

Although both the state and local police are working on the case today they say they have very little to work upon. Near the scene of the assault was found the iron bar with which the unknown man fouled Miss Kelley. The scene of the assault was very dark last night and it is believed that the man has succeeded in getting away to some neighboring town.

CITY HALL NOTES

The sum of $16,211.08 was paid out at the office of the city treasurer this forenoon. The amount represented the weekly payroll.

The clerk of committees and of the common council of New Bedford has addressed a letter to City Messenger Pattee. A new municipal office building is being built in New Bedford, and the questions asked in the letter had to do with the appointments of Lowell's city hall, number of rooms, offices, janitors, etc.

Agent Bates of the board of health has returned from a vacation spent somewhere in New Hampshire. He says he had a good time and that he is good for another year. The board of health will meet this evening.

Over Neglect of Town to Provide Village With Proper School Accommodations—Lively Town Meeting Scheduled for Sept. 12

Patience has ceased to be a virtue with the people of North Chelmsford and when the special town meeting called for September 12th is held they will arise in their wrath and demand that the remainder of the town abandon its negligent policy of depriving the village of proper school accommodations, for so-called economy's sake.

One of North Chelmsford's leading industries is children. In this feature it has the four other villages beaten to a frazzle. If Theodore Roosevelt ever comes this way, undoubtedly his first inquiry will be for North Chelmsford, where long have been the leading crusaders against race suicide, the honest families of that thriving village were increasing the population with most commendable regularity.

For three years North Chelmsford

has been sorely in need of additional school accommodations for its children and as yet has not obtained them. When the school capacity of the village became taxed to its utmost an overflow room was opened in the town hall. Now that is overflowed and another room has been opened or is about to be in the attic of the firehouse. In order to prevent tragedies it has been decided to send only the older pupils to the overflow room in the firehouse. When the firehouse was built, in order to make room for the ladder and hose the building was peculiarly constructed with an unusually high studding for the first story and a steep and narrow stairway leading to the second story. The stairway is so steep as to be considered dangerous for small children. School will open on Tuesday with an overflow of pupils sufficient to fill all three additional rooms while the village birth record shows no curtailment.

Some three years ago the regular town meeting defeated a proposition to build additional rooms to the present school at the North village and the town meeting of a year later did likewise.

On May 25th a special town meeting voted to purchase the McEnally lot for a schoolhouse site, the intention being to build a new school without delay. It was voted to appropriate $12,500 for the building of the school and a committee consisting of J. Adams Bartlett, Stuart Mackay and John F. McManis was appointed to attend to the construction of the building. This committee had plans drawn by Henry L. Reardon, the well known architect, and it was found that the building would require an expenditure of $17,000 for a modern four-room schoolhouse. As it is generally estimated in figuring on schoolhouses that a building will cost on an average of $500 per room, these figures appeared to be reasonable. The committee then called a special meeting at which to call for the additional appropriation. The second meeting was held and the vote of $17,000 was voted and hence the committee is left today with a site but not a dollar with which to do business. And now comes another meeting at which the town will be asked or rather demanded to vote for an appropriation of $17,000 for a new four-room building on the McEnally lot and if the voters of North Chelmsford don't get it through it will not be because they didn't make an honest and strenuous effort.

At the present time in the North Chelmsford school in the first grade there are 70 children in one room taught by two teachers. The authorities on health and hygiene claim that such a number is far too great for one room while educators claim that two

North Chelmsford shows no sign of curtailment or shutdowns for the mills and foundries are running most prosperously.

Contractor Tarbell of Lowell has a large gang of men and 20 wagons working on the new state highway between what is known as the cross roads and the Tyngsboro line. The work is being rushed and will be finished before cold weather.

JAIL SENTENCE

DILISIO WAS GIVEN TWO AND ONE-HALF YEARS

FITCHBURG, Sept. 2.—Domineke Dinsio and James Murrell, who were found guilty by a jury last week in the superior court on a charge of assault with intent to murder Crescino Marandino at Ashburnham on July 8, were sentenced late yesterday afternoon by Judge Fessenden.

Dilasio was sentenced to the house of correction for two years and six months and Murrell to the Concord reformatory.

The defendant's attorney made a strong plea for mercy, especially for Murrell, who, he said, came from Hudson, N. Y., looking for his sister, a 15-year-old girl who had been kidnapped. The attorney told the court that while neither man was justified in committing the crimes charged, he believed that the circumstances should be considered in passing sentence.

"Jack" Johnson, who was charged with larceny from the person in this city on June 11, and who was found guilty by a jury, was sentenced to the house of correction by Judge Fessenden for three years. A letter from the chief of police at Red Bank, N. J., in which the officer said that Johnson never worked, only when he gambled and shot craps, was produced.

Ezra Benachem, charged with assault, pleaded guilty and was allowed to go upon probation.

SHOOT FOR BRIGGS TROPHY

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 2.—Under exceptionally trying conditions the inter-state team match for the Briggs trophy was begun today, the second day of the tournament, under the auspices of the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania state associations.

The wind blew a gale across the range and the light was poor. However, some good scores were made at 200 yards by some of the riders. The trophy which goes with the first prize of this match was donated by Frank O. Briggs of Trenton, United States senator.

WOMAN ARRESTED

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 2.—A woman who gave her name as Margaret Kimball of Springfield, Mass., was arrested here today charged with stealing $10 from a house where she has been staying.

Just wait a minute Ed, this strikes me funny. See this window. I was admiring ties in a window in Boston today. They were marked "Special, 66c," and what do you know, here are the same ties in the Merrimack Clothing Company's window marked "Early Fall Tie, 50c." I guess that's good enough for me. A Merrimack tie at 50c.

There's a fine display of hats! Just look at that one marked Merrimack Derby, $2.00! And say, here's a new shape in a soft hat at $2.00. The Merrimack has a dandy display of hats there. They certainly look good to me.

Say, Bill, are you going to look in that window all day? No, but what do you know about these suits marked $12 and $15—the new fall suits at that? They say that clothing is high. Now tell me, how can the Merrimack Clothing Company sell such suits at $12.00 and $15.00?

Here, see this sign, "These cool evenings remind you of Fall Top Coats." Just look at this one for $15. Isn't that a dandy at that price? Good enough for me. But if you want to pay more, there's a silk-lined one at $20. Any of these Merrimack top coats are dependable.

Willie, you have got to have a new suit for school; let us look at these in the Merrimack windows for $27.50. They look like that suit I bought for your brother down street for $5.00. Yes, ma, and these have two pairs of knicker-bocker pants, and I certainly need that extra pair of pants.

FOUR PICKPOCKETS

Sentenced to One Year Each in Police Court

They Were Arrested at Northern Depot and Held as Vagabonds—Bad Record Shown Against Them

Thomas Kelly, John W. Ellis, Ernest Capasso and Frank Gilbert, each of whom have several aliases, who were arrested on suspicion of being pickpockets last Thursday noon by Inspector Martin A. Maher of the police department, assisted by two employees of the baggage room at the Middlesex street station, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in the police court this morning on complaints charging them with being vagabonds. When arrested a week ago they were charged with larceny from the person, but this morning the complaint was changed. Lawyer Joseph Sullivan of Boston appeared for Gilbert and Capasso while the other two defendants were represented by J. Joseph Hennessy of this city. The government had a number of witnesses summoned who testified, but the only defendant to testify in his own behalf was Gilbert. The court after considering the evidence in the case found the defendants guilty and ordered each to be sentenced to 12 months in the house of correction at Cambridge. They entered appeals and were each held under $500 bonds for their appearance before the superior court.

Corcoran Was Suspicious

John J. Corcoran, ticket seller at the Middlesex street station, was the first witness for the government. He testified that a week ago yesterday morning he saw Kelly in the waiting room at the depot. He had seen the young man on several previous occasions and the manner in which the latter acted aroused his suspicion. When the 11:30 a. m. train from the north stopped at the depot Kelly and another of the defendants boarded the train. Corcoran said he saw Kelly while entering one of the cars raise a man's elbow with one of his hands and place his other hand in the man's coat pocket. Later the other two defendants appeared and when the train started all four jumped off.

Cross examined by Lawyer Sullivan relative to when he had seen Kelly before last week and what Kelly was doing, witness said that it was about two or three months ago and on that occasion Kelly was trying to gouge or fiddle a man who was attempting to enter one of the cars.

Patrolman Dooley Notified

Patrolman Jeremiah Dooley said that his attention had been called to the defendants by Mr. Corcoran. Witness saw Kelly in the waiting room while the other three defendants were outside the station. He also saw the four board the train.

On cross examination he admitted

THEY, M. C. A. FUND

Sum of $106,964.16 Received by Treasurer

F. S. PEARSON HAS PAID IN HIS $10,000

While Many Others Have Paid the Full Amount Pledged—Treasurer Whidden Urges Payment of Pledges in One Sum

The sum of $106,964.16 represents the payments of subscriptions to the Y. M. C. A. building fund up to date. In addition to this amount there is on hand $3000 received from the Dartmouth college and $768.74 income on the investments made of the money received. The $3000 received from the Dartmouth college was for certain concessions on the new site for the building.

The mortgage on the Hurd street property, $14,820 has been paid; the Locke & Canals received $25,000 for the new site. Investments in savings banks, etc., total $46,210.

Two years are allowed on the pledge cards but Treasurer Whidden requested at the start that all who could, should pay their subscriptions in one payment rather than to allow it to drag along for the two years. Quite a number acted upon the suggestion of Mr. Whidden and at the start paid up their full subscriptions.

The following letter from Dr. F. S. Pearson of New York, the largest single contributor to the fund, is self-explanatory:

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 21.
Dear Sir: I enclose herewith check for $2500, being the final payment on account of my subscription of $10,000 to the Young Men's Christian Association building fund.

Yours truly,
F. S. Pearson.

Jacob Rogers paid his pledge of $5000 in two payments. He paid $1250 Jan. 1 and the balance July 1. The following letter accompanied his final payment:

Lowell, July 1, 1910.
Dear Mr. Whidden:
I am so glad to do anything to lighten your work that I pay in full.

Yours very truly,
Jacob Rogers.
There remains to be collected, $65,557.79.

FAT MEN'S CLUB

Lowell Heavyweight is on the Committee

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Four hundred tons of fat men assemble in Boston tomorrow for the annual midsummer convention of the New England Fat Men's club.

Four hundred tons is the estimate of President W. D. Quimby of the club, who does business at 79 Portland street, Boston. Vice President William T. Flanders of Branford, Conn., estimates that the total weight of the club is only 375 tons; but all the other members of the club claim that Mr. Flanders is influenced in his estimate by the paucity of his own weight. Mr. Flanders is the slyph of the organization, weighing only 215 pounds. The other members say that he feels keenly his deficiency, and wears baggy garments to hide his lack of flesh.

No so with Mr. Quimby, however. He blushing owns to 305 pounds, a weight which is regarded with envious eyes by the 215 and 220 pound youngsters who have attained to membership.

There has been for some time a feeling that Committeemen G. E. Bicknell of Lowell, who weighs 360 pounds, and C. B. Amerman of Camden, Me., who weighs 350 pounds, have not been playing fair with the rest of the organization. It is widely rumored among the club members that both of these men have intentionally added to their weight by the constant consumption of cod liver oil—a fact which, if true, tends to discredit to a certain extent all otherwise marvelous avoirdupois.

Treasurer J. F. Hale of Wells River, Vt., who is deeply chagrined over his pathetically small weight of 217 pounds, is credited with the statement that he wants an investigation. He says that what is fair for one is fair for another, and that he feels he could easily bring his weight from 217 pounds to 225 pounds by adopting a certain diet with which he has been experimenting on one of his draught horses. He has hitherto felt, however, that such tactics would be unfair to the struggling members of the club who cannot

So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make you this unusual offer.

ZEMO is a clear liquid for external use that has cured so many cases of eczema, pimples, dandruff and other forms of skin eruption. ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person.

push their weight above 225 by ordinary means. He says that if it can be proved that Messrs. Bicknell and Amerman have attained their state of perfection by secret tipping on cod liver oil, he will leave no stone unturned to make their weight a mere bagatelle in comparison with the club members who use his system.

The convention which is to start tomorrow is the sixth annual meeting of the club, which numbers over 2700 in its membership.

On Saturday evening the club will attend the Castle Square theatre, the seats there being particularly solid and indestructible.

On Sunday the club as a whole will attend the services at Tremont Temple, and follow it up by seeking diversion at Revere beach. They have instructed the managers of the resorts at Revere to that effect, and strengthening props have been placed beneath the roller coasters and the other commoner forms of amusement which the members expect to patronize.

Monday morning will see the club en-marching upon the Nahant boat, bound for Bass Point, where the annual athletic games are to be held.

ALL COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2.—Foreign governments are to be represented at the second National Conservation congress in St. Paul, Sept. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. The question of conservation in European countries, in Canada, in Mexico and in South America will be discussed by some of these representatives.

James Bryce, ambassador from Great Britain to the United States, has written to executive secretary Thomas R. Shipp that his government will send a representative direct from that country. Romulo Escobar, commissioner of agriculture of Mexico, is coming from that country, and Norway is to be represented by O. Skjold, secretary of the Norwegian legation in Washington. Who the representatives from Germany and France will be has not yet been made known to Secretary Shipp. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, will represent the Dominion.

Dr. Edwin Boone Craighead, president of Tulane university of New Orleans, has accepted an invitation to speak on "Making Our People Count." B. A. Fowler of Phoenix, Ariz., is coming to talk on "Irrigation." Mr. Fowler is president of the National Irrigation congress which is soon to meet in Pueblo, Col. Murdo McKenzie of Trinidad, Col., at first wrote that he would not be able to attend, but has changed his plans and will be here to lead in the discussion of the address by Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, who is to talk on "Laws That Should Be Passed."

The Federation of Women's clubs is to be represented by Mrs. Simmons Crocker, chairman of the federation's conservation department.

"I think when it is all over, everybody will agree that the program of this congress was as near complete as it could possibly be made," said Secretary Thomas R. Shipp. "We start off the first day with Pres. Taft. On the second day we have the former president of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt. From that time onward men of distinction in the professional, commercial and political life of the country are to take part and as I have said before I know of no subject that could bring such a representative body of men together in a convention. I am not forgetting the women by any means. The Federation of Women's clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Red Cross society and the Woman's National Rivers and Harbors congress are to be represented by women who have done as much in their field of endeavor as most of the men."

TYNGSBORO

The members of Tyngsboro grange held a pleasant outing at Willow Dale, Wednesday, with a large attendance and a fine program. Hibbard's orchestra gave a concert program from 2 to 3 and then furnished music for dancing at the Breezy Point pavilion. The principal feature of the day was the list of sports successfully carried out by Raymond W. Sherburne.

The winners were as follows:
100 yards dash for boys—First prize 30c, second prize 20c. Won by Lawrence Brown first; Charles Coburn second.

Cricket race for men—First prize 40c, second 20c. Won by D. J. Williams, second Murray Parish.

Popcorn race for ladies—First prize 30c, second 20c. Won by Miss Annie Sawyer; Florence Williams second.

PLAYERS DRAFTED

Major Leagues Take 115 Players From the Minors

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 2.—One hundred and fifteen minor league players were drafted by the 16 clubs of the two major leagues when the national baseball commission met here yesterday. Of these, the national league secured 67, while the American league got only 48.

The Brooklyn National league led with 15 players; the New York Nationals were the next with 13 players. Philadelphia Nationals had 12 and Chicago Nationals 11 players. The Chicago Americans secured 10. The others ranged downward to a single player by Detroit and this one is under investigation, so that Detroit may come out empty handed in the drafts. A little less than $125,000 was deposited with Secretary Bruce of the commission to cover the drafts.

Before the opening of the drafts, the drawing of the lots and the awarding of the players, the commission held a long session in which they placed a ban upon the contemplated series between two all-star teams from the American and the National leagues, scheduled to make a tour of the country after the world's championship series was over. No specific reasons for the ban were given except that it would interfere greatly with the world's series.

All doubt that the world's series would take place was banished when the commission notified President Thomas Lynch of the National league to arrange his schedule in such a way as to make the world's series possible as early as possible.

Other decisions were—Player Fletcher was awarded to Brooklyn; Player Coakley was allowed to play with Elmira until his case was decided; Player Yates was declared free agent, but his claim against the St. Louis Nationals was disallowed.

The list of players drafted and secured by major league clubs includes:

National league:

By Boston—From St. Paul, Josh Clark; from Baltimore, Goode; from Birmingham, Elliott; from Roanoke, Spratt.

By Cincinnati—From Northampton, Butler.

By New York—From Toronto, Rudolph.

By Brooklyn—From Jersey City, Manser; from Newark, Zimmerman; from New Haven, Resigl.

By Philadelphia—From Syracuse, Alexander.

American league:

By Boston—From Oakland, Thomas;

from Omaha, Riggor; from Duluth, G. A. Anderson; from Fall River, Bedlett; from Spokane, Killip; from Columbus, Oa., McLeod; from Albany, O'Rourke.

By New York—From Rochester, Bacher.

By Philadelphia—From Worcester, Callamore.

By Detroit—From Regina, Steels (subject to investigation).

The draft by the Boston Americans of McTigue from New Bedford was set aside on account of his having been previously purchased under an approved agreement filed with the national commission.

Among the drafts on account of number were: From St. Paul, Josh Clark; from Cincinnati, Bedlett.

From Minneapolis, Flane; by Boston and Pittsburgh Nationals; Cravath by Detroit; Boston and New York Americans; Owens by Boston Nationals.

From Indianapolis—Hart Grove by Chicago Americans and New York and Boston national; George by Detroit, St. Louis, Boston and Washington Americans and Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Chicago and St. Louis National. Decided George was subject to draft.

From Louisville—Myers by St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Philadelphia Americans and Chicago Nationals. Decided that Myers was subject to draft.

From Toronto—Rudolph by Detroit; Americans, New York, Brooklyn and Cincinnati Nationals—Turner by Boston and Cleveland Americans; Vaughan, by Washington. Decided that Rudolph was subject to draft.

From Jersey City—Cannitz by Pittsburgh; Manzer by Brooklyn. Decided that Manzer was subject to draft.

From Rochester—Moeller by Philadelphia and Chicago nationals; McConell by Boston Nationals and Chicago Americans; Becker by Brooklyn and St. Louis Nationals and St. Louis Boston, New York and Detroit Americans. Decided that Becker was subject to draft.

From Newark—Zimmerman by New York and Brooklyn Nationals and New York Americans; London by Cincinnati. Decided that Zimmerman was subject to draft.

From Baltimore—Maroney by Philadelphia Americans; Walsh by Cincinnati; Goode, by Boston and Brooklyn Nationals; Murray by Washington and Donnelly by Cleveland. Decided that Goode was subject to draft.

From San Francisco—Hendley by New York, Boston, Pittsburgh and

Brooklyn Nationals and Washington; Stewart by Boston Americans; Bodie by Detroit, Chicago, New York and St. Louis Americans and Boston Pittsburgh and Brooklyn Nationals. Decided that Bodie was subject to draft.

From Oakland—Thomas by Boston Americans. Decided that Thomas was subject to draft.

From Los Angeles—Hallman by St. Louis; Boston and Detroit Americans. Decided that Hallman was subject to draft.

From Denver—Cranston by Boston Nationals.

From Omaha—Riggor by Boston Americans. Decided Riggor was subject to draft.

From Memphis—Crandall by Boston Nationals.

From New Orleans—Manush by New York, Brooklyn Nationals, St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, New York and Detroit Americans. Decided that Manush was subject to draft.

The system of drafting by lot was used in all of these cases.

MINERS APPEAL To Ask Roosevelt to Aid Them

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—The legal and industrial entanglement of the miners and operators in the Irwin and Westmoreland fields will be submitted to Theodore Roosevelt when he visits this city on Sept. 10.

This was announced by District President Frank Feehan of the United mine workers of America yesterday after he had been arrested with five other local officers in connection with the actions brought Wednesday in the county courts against 87 miners and officials by seven operating companies in the affected districts. Those arrested are under $2100 bonds.

Out of the 400 workmen in the mines of the Westmoreland coal company, one of the plaintiffs, 335 left work yesterday when they learned of the suits being brought. For several weeks this being brought. For several weeks this being brought.

In a statement made yesterday Richard B. Scandrett, counsel for the plaintiff companies, announced that the actions were not to be construed as attacks upon the right of workmen to organize, but "we charge that operators in the Pittsburgh district have contributed support to the maintenance of the strike and paid to have organizers in the field, that the strike might be prolonged."

Other suits will be brought against certain operators, according to Scandrett, that will reveal a sensational plot.

The union officials arrested are District President Feehan, Vice President Y. Blitzer, Secretary-Treasurer T. Donovan, Michael Halop, district manager, and George Guzzi and John Darfold, district organizers.

Attorneys for the coal operators who have filed the suits charging conspiracy in preaching sedition against the laws of the state and nation yesterday declared that these suits are the first of their kind to be filed in the United States.

BOXING GOSSIP

In booking Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette for their next meeting Tuesday evening the management of the Armory club, Boston, has made a strike for next to Jack Johnson himself no boxer is more prominently before the public today than Sam Langford, the man whom hundreds in this vicinity believe can take the championship from Johnson. The fight fans will be given an excellent opportunity to get a line on Langford next Tuesday night when he meets his old rival Jeannette, who is one of the cleverest colored man who ever donned a mitt. Local lovers of the game will be surprised to learn that once long ago Sam Langford fought a six round draw with Billy Chisholm of this city who has been long since out of the game. The bout took place way back in 1903 when Sam was not the national character in the fight world that he is today. In those days he was going against Palsey Sweeney, Joe Reed and other well known boxers of these parts, most of whom are now retired. Every fan who ever witnessed the bout between Langford and Jeannette in Lawrence in 1907 will recall one of the best scraps ever witnessed in that city. They went 12 hot rounds to a draw at that time. The year previous Langford got the decision over Jeannette in 15 rounds at Chelmsford. Since the Lawrence meeting they have boxed a 12 round draw in Boston and six rounds, no decision in New York, so that the question of supremacy is yet to be decided, and next Tuesday evening in all probability will tell the tale. In the event of Langford showing up well against Jeannette his manager will proceed to go after Johnson.

Alec MacLean, says the Post, has taken the management of Joe Thomas, the former Californian boxer, who is now a resident of Lowell. MacLean is out with a challenge to the winner of the Bill McKinnon-Frank Mantell bout, which will be decided at Lake Massabesic, Manchester, N. H., Labor day afternoon. This bout is announced to be for the middleweight championship of New England, but MacLean says that as Thomas is now a resident of Lowell he has nothing to say about it. The McKinnon-Mantell bout looks like one of the best ever billed at Manchester.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Mike "Twin" Sullivan of Boston and Paddy Layne of Buffalo boxed ten fast rounds here last night. There was no decision, both men being on their feet at the end of the bout. Sullivan scored a knockdown near the end of the first round, Layne lying on the mat for a count of eight when the gong sounded. Sullivan tried hard for a knockout in the tenth but failed.

PUGILISTS' ARM BROKEN

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Billy Allen of Ottawa outclassed De La Gass of New Bedford, Mass., in their fight here last night. The latter's right arm was broken in the fourth round, leaving him practically helpless.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Members of the Hamilton club are making most active preparations for the entertainment of former President Roosevelt when he is the guest of the club at a banquet to be given in the Congress hotel Sept. 8. The club's stuffed elephant has been especially groomed for the occasion and will occupy a prominent position where the colored man may view it. This arrangement has been made, it is said, that the guest of the club may not disagree too far from the topics that interest the

AFTER LAWRENCE

Tom Dowd Wants to Purchase Franchise

LAWRENCE, Sept. 2.—Thomas J. Dowd, who is managing the New Bedford club in the New England league this season, is a bidder for the Lawrence franchise, which it is understood, will be placed upon the market at the club's annual meeting in October. Dowd has had marked success with the New Bedford club this season and is now reasonably sure of capturing the league pennant after Worcester's four consecutive wins of the flag. He is, however, anxious to become the owner of the club and believes Lawrence offers an excellent field.

FRED TENNEY

MAY BECOME PERMANENT COACH AT HARVARD

Fred Tenney's future seems to be assured. The famous major league veteran, who has been one of the big names in baseball, since his college days at Brown university, will, it is stated on good authority, fit into Harvard's coaching system, rounding out an expert quartet of highly paid athletic instructors—Houghton in football, Wray in crew, Donovan in track, and Tenney in baseball.

Tenney declines to be interviewed, and it is not known that a contract has as yet been signed. But the men high up in Harvard's baseball council have been sounded, and they appear to be heartily in favor of installing Tenney as baseball coach permanently.

The sun of victory has dispelled the mist of prejudice against professional coaches at Cambridge. It is recognized that a regular coach, who knows his duties and takes them seriously, will best meet the student demand, which is for efficiency and up-to-date methods.

The students want to play, not as sufferers, but as expressing sound training. It is a fine opening for Tenney, as all his interests lie in the vicinity of Boston. He would never be satisfied to live anywhere else.

Tenney is a highly intelligent and sportsmanlike individual. No fears are entertained among Harvard men that his influence will increase the tendency to adopt professional baseball traditions, contrary to the spirit of fair play.

LES MISERABLES ALLEYS OPEN

Les Misérables bowling alleys in East Merrimack street which for more than twenty years has been the mecca of the leading bowlers of this city and surrounding towns, will open for the season on Saturday, Sept. 3. The name "Les Misérables" signifies a great deal as there has been more fame and records made on those alleys than on any other in New England. Years ago when the Les Misérables team was in its prime it made its home at these alleys and many competitive events were pulled off and prizes awarded.

The champion prize of the state league bowlers was fought for many a year on these alleys and the fame which the alleys achieved through the many records made on its floors has won it an estimable place in the bowling alleys of the state.

ENVOY OF POPE

Was Given Great Welcome in Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli, envoy extraordinary of Pope Pius X to the 25th international Eucharistic congress, which will meet at Montreal on Sept. 6, for a session of five days, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon on the steamer Empress of Ireland.

Cardinal Lague, primate of Ireland, Fr. Vaughan, the English Jesuit, and many bishops and priests from France, England, Ireland, Scotland and Belgium traveled with the papal legate. Quebec gave the envoys a royal welcome, more than 10,000 persons assembling on the terrace of the Chateau Frontenac. The Canadian government was represented by Sir Charles Murphy, secretary of state, who welcomed the cardinal upon landing in the name of Canada. The formal reception took place on Frontenac terrace, directly in front of the statue of Champlain.

French Canadians who had journeyed from the interior towns and villages were especially enthusiastic and at times they interrupted the legate's brief address with shouts of "Long live the pope!"

Cardinal Vannutelli spoke in French, saying that though he was almost overpowered by the tenderness of the reception, he knew the people of Quebec welcomed him, not because of himself, but because he came to them, as the representative of "Christ's vicar, Pope Pius X."

After the reception the two cardinals went to the basilica of Notre Dame de Quebec, where, in the presence of a

THE FINAL TEST

Of Torpedo Boat Destroyer Pauling

BATH, Me., Sept. 2.—The torpedo boat destroyer Pauling's ability to exceed her contract speed of 20½ knots was demonstrated today when she was given her final test of her official acceptance trials. She was taken down the Kennebec river at 8:45 a. m. after the Kennebec trial board which arrived from Washington on the morning train and when off Seguin light began her four-hour run at the highest speed attainable. She was not expected to return before 2:30 p. m. The trial board was the same that officiated at the Pauling's previous trials. It was headed by Admiral Chauncey Thomas as president. On the same trial the Pauling's sister ships, Plummer and Reid, a year ago made 30.38 and 31.86 knots respectively. They are coal-burning craft and were required to make 28 knots while the Pauling is an oil burner.

SHOE STRIKERS

ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF PICKETING

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 2.—Costas Salvanes, James Brown, Garabed Montefan and Vahan Akexhabian, two Greeks and two Armenians, were arrested last evening while on picket duty at the Estabrook Anderson shoe factory. The four men are among those who struck for higher wages at the factory several days ago.

They were charged with trespassing on Boston & Maine property, as it is claimed they spent considerable time on railroad tracks near the factory. The case of James Sardenes, another striker arrested for assault, was continued in court today and will be heard tomorrow.

THE CHOATE PETITION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 2.—George W. Chamler, who presented a petition at a meeting of the American Bar association in this city Wednesday, said to contain charges against Joseph H. Choate of New York, yesterday asked leave to withdraw the petition following the reading of resolutions adopted by the Chattanooga bar association expressing regret at the alleged attack on Mr. Choate by a member of the local association.

In an address by E. A. Farrar of New Orleans, the new president of the association, severely arraigned former President Roosevelt for his policy of nationalism. He declared that the policies emanated by Colonel Roosevelt in his Kansas City speech Wednesday portend danger to the nation.

THE ELKS' OUTING

Basket Picnic at Canobie Lake Yesterday

Despite the inclemency of the weather a fair sized gathering attended the basket picnic of Lowell lodge of Elks at Canobie lake yesterday and a good time was enjoyed by all who attended. A special car at 1:15 took many of the party to the park. Owing to the weather the ball game was omitted. The crowd gathered in one of the pavilions for lunch and during the afternoon the different attractions of the park were enjoyed.

O. M. I. CADETS

TO HOLD FIELD DAY AND SHAM BATTLE

The field day and sham battle of the O. M. I. Cadets will be held the latter part of this month. The cadets will meet at their armory at 7:30 this evening to make arrangements for the big trial affair.

Baracas Class Meeting

The Baracas Bible class of the Worthen Street Baptist church held its annual business meeting yesterday and elected the following officers for the coming year: George Dunn, president; Leroy Yellon, vice president; William Whitman, secretary; Edward Auger, treasurer. Much was planned for the coming winter in the line of socials and athletics. The first annual banquet of the Baracas will be held on Sept. 15, at the club room in the Carney bank building, Shattuck street.

STEAMER AGROUND

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 2.—The Alaska-Seattle S. S. company's steamer Watson went aground off the reef of Waadah Island near Nee bay shortly after 11 o'clock last night and now lies in a dangerous position on the rocks. The 92 passengers aboard the vessel were taken ashore in small boats.

ROOSEVELT IN OMAHA

OMAHA, Sept. 2.—The train bearing Mr. Roosevelt and party arrived here at 7 o'clock.

Surprise Party

AND PRESENTATION TO WILLIAM H. JOHNSON

A surprise party was held last night at the home of Mrs. Parker, at 936 Lakewood avenue in honor of Wm. H. Johnson, who is about to start on a long journey. During the course of the evening Mr. Johnson was presented a traveling bag the presentation speech being made by Mr. William P. Barrett.

Tennis Champion

WILL NOT BE ON THE AMERICAN TEAM

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The American lawn tennis champion, William A. Larned, will not be on the American team which will challenge for the Dwight F. Davis international challenge cup now held in Australia. His father, who is past seventy, does not wish so long a separation as would be necessary. Such a decision has been feared, but the international committee of the national association was not definitely notified until yesterday.

England wishes to decide the preliminary matches in this country and it was hoped that it would be possible to enable the British association last night that their four representatives would sail at once; but difficulty in settling a court arose and the matter went over again.

Eyes Examined Free

If you go on allowing your eyes to blur, smart, burn, water and inflame, you must take the consequences. These symptoms are nature's signals of distress, and you disregard them at your peril. It is you who are to blame. It is you who must suffer the consequences. Your eyes have asked for help many times and been denied. They have worked patiently for you since childhood and in return you have abused them. Now it is "up to you." Perhaps the trouble can be corrected now with right glasses. Tomorrow or next week the mischief may be done and I would have to say to you "Too late." Will you delay longer or will you see me this very day?

RECORDER GOFF'S DECISION

Recorder Goff of New York hit the striking cloak makers hard last Saturday when he decided that a strike which demands the closed shop is a conspiracy in restraint of trade. He quoted a decision of the court of appeals in New York in support of his decision, but another appeal will be taken so that this specific point will be passed upon. The appellate court had decided that it was a conspiracy for employers to force their workmen to join a certain union. Conversely the recorder reasoned that it would be a conspiracy for labor unions to compel any employer to hire none but union men. Should the decision be sustained it will have a far-reaching effect, although it will not compel any man to work where he does not want to work nor any employer to hire any workman he does not want.

The unions have employed ex-Judge Parker to fight this battle for them, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

THE PLAYGROUND FETE

For real benefit and interest, not only to children but to parents, nothing ever produced in this city could compare with the playground fete on the South common Tuesday afternoon.

Whatever is calculated to benefit the children interests the parents, and this alone can explain the presence of about five thousand children and perhaps as many adults, most of them parents of the children in attendance. Never have we seen such a large number of children so deeply interested as were those who witnessed the exercises by the girls. The program as carried out was a revelation to most of those present in the possibilities of supervised play.

"All this costs money," say the penurious citizens. Certainly it costs something, but a few of the good women of Lowell made this start possible without cost to the city. They have demonstrated the benefits of supervised play as carried out in Springfield and other cities, and the results are so novel, so fascinating and so substantial that if it costs $5000 or even more the city should provide the amount.

We would suggest to the park board that a repetition of the exercises on a Saturday afternoon would give all who wish an opportunity to witness the demonstration and thus to become interested in a movement that is new to Lowell.

Miss Moran, the instructress of the girls, is certainly a very able girl. She comes from Springfield while Mr. Wilton, the male supervisor, is also deserving of much praise for his work.

Altogether the results of the trial of supervised play, so far as carried out this summer, have been most successful, and the hope of those who witnessed the exhibition of yesterday is that supervised play may become a permanent feature of our playgrounds in the future.

WHAT'S THE OBJECT OF THE ROOSEVELT PLATFORM?

It seems that Roosevelt has usurped the entire democratic platform and appropriated some of the worst things which President Compers ever said about the decisions of the supreme court. Before his tour closes he will probably throw out a sop to the Socialists. Yet some people say that Roosevelt is not looking for a renomination in 1912.

He has made up his mind that the country would go to smash without his guidance and direction. While Roosevelt can talk he will not subside into what Cleveland used to term innocuous desuetude.

In spite of his bad taste in protruding himself into the limelight at this time, Col. Roosevelt has some very fine tenets in his political creed. Yet there is none that can be termed original with himself. Among the reforms he favors are the enactment of a workmen's compensation act for which The Sun has been appealing for some time and the holding the directors of every corporation liable for violations of the law by that corporation. This has been favored by The Sun, and now these reforms are very necessary, but if Col. Roosevelt intimates that they will be favored or adopted by the republican party he is misleading the public. He is not touching some of the worst abuses of the hour, abuses which are glossed over by the republican party. This declaration of his political creed by Col. Roosevelt is of no interest to the country and certainly of no benefit, but it cannot be made without an object.

What is the object?

Is it to put him in line for the nomination in 1912 or to strengthen his influence as boss over the political workings in New York? Time will tell. One thing, however, is important to remember in reference to these speeches by Col. Roosevelt. They are the utterances of a private citizen, not of the president of the United States, nor of the republican party.

While Roosevelt goes on throwing dust in the eyes of the people, the republican party maintains its alliance with the trusts which oppress the people and is preparing to defend the present tariff law against all attacks.

If Roosevelt were honest in his speeches, he would point out wherein the tariff law is wrong, wherein the people suffer by republican rule and suggest a remedy. But instead of doing so he is diverting attention to himself as the possible deliverer from all the governmental evils of which the people complain at the present time.

Roosevelt may preach a new nationalism, he may lay down political principles fit for the gods but if he does not take steps to have them adopted by his party or to correct the admitted abuses of that party, then he is untrue to his principles, and it becomes difficult to explain his purpose. He justly puts human weal and human life ahead of dividends and says we must be ready to face temporary disaster in order to secure the necessary reforms, holding still that "ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our national life brings as nothing better than swollen fortunes for the few and the triumph in both politics and business of a sordid materialism." The man who utters this sentiment should be in the democratic party, but Col. Roosevelt's inconsistency lies in the fact that while preaching democratic doctrine he is at the same time upholding the republican party in the application of doctrines diametrically opposite to those he proclaims as his own.

SEEN AND HEARD

The two summer boarders were fighting flies and mosquitoes on the front porch of the old farmhouse. "Were you here last summer?" asked the latest arrival. "Sey," retorted the other, "do you think I'd be here now if I had been here last summer?"—Chicago News.

HOCKEY DER KAISER

The Kaiser from his slumbers rose; Then, after dumb-bell capers And frugal feed, Began to read The various morning papers. There wasn't much to fret his brain— The world's affairs were steady— When, oh, his eyes Met with surprise The latest news of 'Teddy'!

The Kaiser read; his look grew tense, For stronger "spers" he craves. His breath's a hiss, He cries "Was iss?" As he absorbs the speecher. Those speeches interspersed with "I." Those speeches egotistic! He gives a roar, And to the door He darts with manner dour.

"Ho, pen und ink!" aloud he shrieks; The writing tools he snatches; He starts to write. His eyes shine bright, As feverish words he scratches. And as he writes he mutters low: "Vat! Let dot feller Teddy Go 'head of me!" Well, we shall see! I too can speak already!"

That night he spoke, and oh, his words Set all the nation crazy; And in his dreams His people dream. Fall on his shining hair, He smiles as smiles a stammering babe. And murmurs: "O you 'Teddy'! I bet dat you Must hump a few To beat me out already!" Paul West.

Two burglars were on their trial and had engaged a smart lawyer for their defense, who on cross-examining one of the witnesses, said: "You say that on the night in question the moon was so bright that you could see the burglars in the room. Was your husband awake at the time?"

"Witness—I don't know." "Was his face turned toward you or not?"

The witness answered that she did not know.

"What! You don't know? Now, come, tell me, was his face turned toward you or the wall?"

"I don't know."

"Ah, ha! I thought so" (turning to the jury); she could not see. She who identifies the prisoners could not see which way her husband's face was turned. Explain that if you can."

"Well, sir, my husband is so bald that in a dim light I can't tell his face from the back of his head."

Miss Bessie V. Hogan and Miss Alice Louise Dinsmore of Boston are on their way to Mt. Desert, Me., in a 23-foot dory launch. They sailed from Boston and intend to make the voyage without help from anyone. The launch has an eight-horse-power engine and can make 12 miles an hour. A sail is carried for emergency use, as well as oars, pneumatic life belts and food for a week. Both girls were yellow oilskins, with caps to match. Miss Hogan was at the wheel and Miss Dinsmore was at the oars.

MOVEMENTS PROCEEDED ON SLIGHTLY LOWER SCALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Commercial movements between domestic ports on the Great Lakes during the month of July, as reported to the Bureau of Statistics, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, proceeded on a slightly lower scale than during the preceding month. The main factor responsible for the less favorable result of the month is the restriction in the supply of vessel tonnage, which went into effect the month before. The total July shipments of the present year, 12,739,158 net tons, were, however, only 5 per cent below the record total for the preceding month, indicating a fuller utilization of the cargo space of the carriers at work and greater dispatch in docking, loading, and unloading, all of which went far to compensate for the smaller vessel tonnage available. The monthly total was about 400,000 net tons in excess of the corresponding 1909, and about 14 per cent in excess of the 1907 total.

Shipments of iron ore for the month, 6,662,391 gross tons, for the first time during the present year show a smaller total than for the corresponding month in 1909, when 6,727,664 gross tons were shipped. As compared with the total for the preceding month, a decline of 5 1/2 per cent is noted. Smaller shipments are shown for Duluth-Superior, Two Harbors and Escanaba, while the two smaller shipping ports, Ashland and Marquette, the month ending in the heavy shipments of the preceding month, was larger than the quantity shipped; of the total received, 5,666,933 gross tons are credited to Lake Erie ports and 1,085,760 gross tons to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments of iron ore to the end of the month aggregated 51,991,620 gross tons, compared with 52,580,497 gross tons shipped during the same period in 1909 and 17,515,888 gross tons shipped in 1907. There is little doubt that barring unexpected developments the shipments for the present year will come near, if not exceed a total of 45 million tons.

The soft coal shipments for the month, 2,735,263 net tons, show a similar decline from the higher figures recorded for the preceding month, although comparing most favorably with the July figures for 1909, 2,182,667 net tons, and those for 1908, 2,615,532 net tons. About 80 per cent of the total shipments proceeded from Toledo, Ashland, Cleveland and Lorain. About 57 per cent of the 2,735,263 net tons of soft coal received during the month is credited to Lake Superior ports and about 39 per cent to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments to the end of the month, 8,648,440 net tons, were almost 10 per cent larger than in 1909, and 19 per cent larger than in 1907. Ohio and Pennsylvania coal apparently taking the place of the deficient supply of coal from the adjacent fields brought by rail to the Lake Superior ports and about 39 per cent to Lake Michigan ports. BANDIT KILLED

When He Attempted to Hold Up Train

Was Struck By Rock Thrown By Engineer Whom He Had Shot—Two Young Men Held On Suspicion

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 2.—In a desperate attempt to hold up the west bound Colorado Midland train No. 3, four miles west of Divide, early this morning, an unknown bandit was instantly killed by a rock thrown by engineer Stewart after he had shot the bandit in the leg. Sterling Martin, two young men who were found near the scene of the holdup, are held for investigation as to their complicity in the robbery. Sterling Martin was slightly wounded in the head by a bullet.

ing to meet the east bound train. As he stopped the train Stewart turned to see his fireman, Paul Bachman, standing, his hands above his head, and heard the robber say, "Put up your hands or I'll blow your head off!" The robber then forced both to leave the engine and marched them before him to the express car. According to the story told by Stewart, who was brought to a hospital here, the robber ordered him to tell the express messenger that they were in peril of their lives, that the train had been held and that the robbers were determined to have the money in the express car. Stewart states that the robber fired several shots at the heads of passengers who looked out to see what had happened. "When we got to the express car," said Stewart, "my fireman dashed under the car and crawled to the other side. The robber leaped under the car to shoot at him and when he took his gun away from me I struck him with all my strength with a rock I had picked up. As I did so he whirled and shot at me, the bullet striking me in the leg. I guess my blow finished him for he never moved after the rock hit him. I must have fainted then for the next I knew the conductor and express messenger and a group of excited passengers were standing over me." When the remainder of the train crew heard the shots they seized weapons and rushed to the head of the train, firing as they came.

Stewart was given immediate medical attention by physicians who were on board the train and was brought to Colorado Springs. His condition is not serious.

Shortly after the hold-up Sheriff Puhl and a posse scoured the country near the scene of the attempted holdup and discovered the Martin brothers hiding in the brush.

Sterling Martin was dazed by a bullet wound in the head. He is out on parole from the state reformatory. The Martins claim they were riding the blind baggage and were being beaten their way to Grand Junction. They say Sterling was struck by a stray bullet from the bandit's gun. They are held for investigation.

GETS HER GEMS

WOMAN WAS ABLE TO PROVE AMERICAN PURCHASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Mrs. I. Reynolds Adriance, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., simplified the smuggling charges against her yesterday afternoon by proving to the satisfaction of the customs authorities that an assortment of jewelry, roughly valued at $100,000, which was seized when she arrived here last Sunday, was not purchased abroad. It was accordingly released, as was a $3000 necklace taken from her daughter Marion.

The lot released does not include, however, the $6000 pearl necklace which Mrs. Adriance had concealed in her hat. She has not denied that she bought the necklace abroad and she is still under $7500 bail pending an examination on a charge of smuggling it into the United States.

Two sealed indictments were returned by the federal grand jury last evening, just after C. C. Wall, a special treasury agent, had appeared as a witness. It was Wall who made the Adriance seizure. The contents of the indictments could not be learned.

Mrs. Adriance appeared at the custom house on notice that she would be given opportunity to prove that the jewelry was purchased in this country and therefore was not subject to duty. The hearing was conducted by Gen. Nelson H. Henry, surveyor of the port.

HUNT RESTILLI

Thought to be in Sanford, Me.

SANFORD, Me., Sept. 2.—When it comes to recognizing men for whom officers are searching men of this village are in the van. Sunday they were looking for Restilli here.

Yesterday Frank Sherburne started another man hunt which was kept up all day. Sherburne thought he recognized a shabbily dressed, poorly shod man, who accosted him as Nicholas Capasalis, wanted in Somersworth, N. H., on the charge of murdering his aunt.

Sherburne saw the man go into the woods after getting directions to Biddeford, and then he notified the police. Sheriff S. I. Smith of Dover, N. H., and a detective, as well as several deputy sheriffs and a posse of citizens went hunting for the suspect.

BIG SUBWAY

TRI-BOROUGH LINE WILL COST ABOUT $125,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Preparatory to relieving the daily increasing congestion on present transit lines in Greater New York, bids for new subways with 41 miles of track were advertised for yesterday by the public service commission.

The entire work will cost approximately $125,000,000, and will include new underground connections in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, grouped under the general title of the tri-borough subway. Bids must be submitted before Oct. 25.

The advertisement specifies two plans of construction, one entirely by private capital, the other with city money. If the latter is adopted the work will be done piecemeal, as only $50,000,000 in municipal funds is available.

SCHOOL BOILER CONTRACT

PROF. A. R. WELLS

Strongly Denounced School Secret Societies

SAGAMORE BEACH, Sept. 2.—A defence of the American colleges and schools against the charges that the student bodies were irreligious and immoral and a vigorous condemnation of secret societies in high schools were the features of yesterday's session of the Sagamore beach conference on the moral and religious training of the young.

Prof. Amos R. Wells of Boston, editorial secretary of the United Society for Christian Endeavor and a well known writer on Sunday school topics, was the speaker who denounced secret societies in high schools. "We must conclude," said Mr. Wells in summing up the sentiment of 170 letters on the subject received from college presidents, high school principals and teachers, "that the secret society is an entire and lamentable failure, a menace to the welfare of the high school and of every pupil in it. It must be abolished, and it cannot be abolished too soon. But the need which it aims unconsciously to supply must be recognized and filled with wise and loving purpose by parents and educators. Whatever organizations take its place must be democratic, open to all students that can fill the requirements. They must be open to all their details to the friendly eye and helpful companionship of the teachers. The high school secret society has no warrant for its existence in necessity or experience, and all who love the boys and girls should unite to drive it from the earth."

Mr. Wells said that of 150 replies received from educators to his question, "Do you approve of secret societies in high schools?" all but five were either "no," "decidedly not," "by no means," "absolutely no," "not in the least," "most assuredly not," "most emphatically no," "far from it," "under no consideration," "unquestionably no," "not at all," "I thoroughly disapprove it," "I strongly disapprove," "I am totally and aggressively opposed to them."

A common charge against the secret society in high schools—though not the charge most frequently made in these letters—is that it seriously affects the discipline of the schools, sometimes destroying respect for authority. They create, as a member of the United States Bureau of Education writes, a feeling of indifference, once detrimental to school work. One principal speaks of the "exaggerated self-importance" which they excite. Says the principal of the Newton high school: "When one member of a society is disciplined the whole group often feel disciplined and sympathize with the offending pupil." Another principal declares: "The secret society is a hot-bed for conceiving trouble for hatching plots to annoy the teachers." Another speaks of the "hostilities" that take refuge within its bounds, and another calls it an "organized mutiny against school authority." Many of these principals cite examples of the lawlessness fostered by secret societies, their insubordination, the destruction of school discipline that results from them. This charge alone, thoroughly substantiated as it is, would be enough to condemn them.

"But, further, many of my correspondents mention the destruction of school spirit that secret societies bring about."

"There accompanies this evil another mischievous tendency of secret societies, which also is noted by a large number of my correspondents, and that is the impairment of school work, the lowering of the scholarship of the members. Our college president, referring to college secret societies, tells me of cases in which the fraternity bills have cost half as much as the amount of the college bills, and have bankrupted the students, forcing them to leave college. Of course this is true of high school fraternities in a less degree, but still the tendency is continually to increase the expense of attending high school, and in this tendency the fraternity plays an important part. It is a tendency to be combated by all the friends of popular education."

"Of course it goes without saying that the rivalry of secret societies and secret society politics in general are hurtful to the good feeling of the school. Jealousy is aroused, factions are formed, and, as one principal says, life long petty antagonisms are often caused. Bitter disappointments, the disorganization of classes, unbecomingly rivalries, partisan strife, the destruction of the unity of the school, are frequently, according to these observers, to be laid at the door of the secret society."

In comparison with what I have mentioned, remarkably little is said in these letters about the immorality that may be fostered by secret societies in high schools. A well known college president writes: "I have known of high school societies in which the members have contracted the habit of smoking of card playing, and, it is said, of gambling and drinking." A high school principal declares that smoking is almost universal in these societies, and that there is much drinking and much tattle talk. Another enumerates among the evils of these societies, "intemperance in smoking, drinking, card-playing, profanity, and vile stories." Says another: "The members of unquestionably led into practices in the privacy of the society club room which they would otherwise escape."

COMMUNICATIONS

Lowell, September 1, 1910.
To the Editor of The Sun:

Dear Sir:—Will you kindly publish a few remarks in your valuable paper regarding some places that cannot be looked after properly by regular officers, owing to the large district they have to cover. I saw a couple of weeks ago through the petition of Messrs. Mills Clay and Robert G. Bartlett that the board of police appointed special officers for a portion of School street who were very badly needed. There is a lumber yard in that portion of the street that was continually occupied by young boys at night, insulting people passing and using bad language. As I have occasion to pass by often in that vicinity, I see there is a great change for the better.

There are other places in need of attention by the police to keep the unruly element in check. Thanking you for your space I remain
Yours truly,

NEW AUTO LAW DISCUSSED

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Senator Allen T. Treadway, president of the Massachusetts senate and Commissioner of Highways S. W. Schuler yesterday conferred with New York state officials relative to the clause in the new Callan automobile law which has been interpreted as prohibiting owners of automobiles in other states from operating their cars in New York unless they are registered with the secretary of state. The Massachusetts authorities are desirous of establishing reciprocal relations which will permit non-resident automobiles to operate their machines for a limited period without securing licenses.

GOING ON STAGE

Lowell Boys to Make a Start

Lowell is to have two new representatives in the world of vaudeville for Edwin Biron and Charles A. Gregoire make their professional debut in Boston Monday in high class vaudeville. Their sketch is novel and the scene is laid in a studio in the celebrated Latin quarter of Paris, and amid a bright and breezy dialogue Mr. Gregoire will make lightning sketches to the accompaniment of his partner's violin. As the sketch is high class and unlike the ordinary run of vaudeville acts there is no doubt as to its success. The sketch was tried out at the Boston theatre in Boston last week and was a big success. The men upon their regular engagement in Boston on Monday and later in the season are booked for the Hathaway theatre in this city.

that he did not see any of the defendants doing anything out of the way.

Put Hand in Man's Pocket
Frank A. Goss, employed in the baggage room at the depot, said he saw Kelly hold up a man's hand and then put his hand in the man's pocket. Later he saw the four defendants jump off the train and run up the stairs which lead to Chelmsford street.

Nicholas P. Fozette, a hack man, said he saw three of the defendants board the 12:12 train and saw Kelly put his hand in a man's pocket. Witness said he saw the defendants around the depot at 7 o'clock the night before the train from Worcester was pulling out of the station.

Messrs. Hill and Ryan
Pelix Hill, also employed in the baggage room, offered testimony which was along that offered by the preceding witnesses. Hill and John P. Ryan said when Inspector Maher called for assistance that they accompanied him and assisted in arresting the quartet.

Inspector Maher Testifies
Inspector Martin A. Maher of the police department testified to arresting the defendant in Western street nearly opposite the armory at about 12:30 o'clock a week ago Thursday. As a result of what he had been told Inspector Maher said he went to the depot on the day in question and saw Kelly and Capasso. They mixed in with people who were getting on the 12:12 train. They passed through one of the cars and when the train started Kelly and Capasso and the other two defendants jumped off the train and mounted the steps leading towards Chelmsford street. When they reached the street three of the defendants looked over the fence for a minute or more and then walked away. Inspector Maher then went to the baggage room and asked for a couple of men to assist him in arresting the defendants, and Hill and Ryan volunteered their services.

Supt. Welch Called
Supt. Redmond Welch took the stand and told of the conversation he had with the quartet when brought to the police station. He said that Kelly said his name was Thomas Kelly, 22 years of age and resided at 26 Concord street, Charlestown. Kelly said he came to Lowell looking for a friend named Tommy Ryan, but he did not know any person here who knew Ryan. He denied that he was at the station during the fight and said he did not hear any train.

Frank Gilbert gave his age as 28

Continued

On cross examination Gilbert persisted in stating that he came from Portland to Lowell without change and at first said he had paid $1.50 for his ticket, but later said it cost him about $2.50.

Messrs. Sullivan and Hennessy made brief arguments as did Supt. Welch, and after the court had considered the evidence in the case the defendants were found guilty and each sentenced to 12 months in the house of correction. They appealed.

Sent to Reformatory
Edward J. Halloran and James F. Cavanaugh pleaded not guilty to complaints charging them with drunkenness and the larceny of a watch from Wright Whiteley.

The complainant testified that the night before the fight after 11 o'clock he was standing at the corner of Market and Central streets waiting for a Lawrence street electric car when the defendants jostled against him and after the latter had passed, a man approached him and said: "Whitely your watch is gone." Witness told him to look in his pocket in his vest and found the chain was dangling from a buttonhole but that the watch was gone.

Patrolman Kenney said that as a result of what he was told he placed the defendants under arrest and brought them before the captain of police at the station. While the captain was talking to the pair the patrolman said he saw Halloran pulling his hand away from the direction of Cavanaugh's pocket. Witness asked Halloran what he was doing and before the latter could respond Cavanaugh pulled the watch out of his pocket and said to Halloran: "The watch I call a mean trick," whereupon Halloran said: "You are in it just as much as I am."

Supt. Welch said he had a conversation with the defendants and Cavanaugh denied that he knew anything about the larceny of the watch until he had been arrested and then did not know where the watch was until he felt Halloran drop it in his pocket.

Cavanaugh told what was considered by the court to be a straightforward story. He said that he and Halloran and "Jim" Boyle were standing at the corner of Central and Market streets and did not see Halloran do anything. When Halloran suggested that they take a walk up the street he accompanied him. Next thing he knew he was placed under arrest and when brought to the station felt the watch dropped in his pocket.

Halloran's memory was rather poor. He did not remember hardly anything that had happened that night or at least he claimed that he didn't.

Halloran was found guilty on both counts—drunkenness and larceny from the person—and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory, while in the case of Cavanaugh the court made no finding on the complaint of larceny but found him guilty of drunkenness and ordered him placed on probation.

Drunken Offenders
John J. Riley, a paroleman from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. Moise St. Denis was given a direct sentence to the state farm.

Thomas H. Higgins was sent to jail for ten days, and eight first offenders were fined $2 each.

The case of Tony Correll, charged with larceny, was continued till tomorrow morning by agreement, bail being placed at $300.

AMORY, Miss., Sept. 2.—Nick Thompson, a negro accused of attacking a 17-year old white girl at Jackson Cross-roads, near here, last Saturday, was taken to the scene of the crime yesterday afternoon by a mob and lynched. Five negroes participated in the lynching.

years and his residence, 2 North Second street, Philadelphia. He said he was a peddler of sewing machines but for the past four months had been traveling about the country. He said he had come from Portland to Lowell. He admitted that he had got on a train at the depot with the intention of going to Boston, but found that it was the wrong train.

Ernest Capasso said he was 35 years old and lived at 44 Shawmut avenue, Boston. He said he was a tailor and worked for his father. He said that the other three men arrested with him were strangers.

John V. Ellis said he was 45 years of age and lived at 425 Shawmut avenue. He knew Capasso by sight but did not know him to speak to. Ellis said he came to Lowell to visit nickedeons with the intention of selling films.

Inspector Burr Knows Men

Inspector Levi W. Burr of Boston police headquarters, whose duty it is to look after pickpockets, was called and testified in part as follows:

"I am detailed to look after pickpockets and came to Lowell last Friday at the request of the local superintendent of police. I saw the four defendants in the guardroom and recognized three of them. They have the reputation of being pickpockets. I know Kelly as Fred Berry and Andrew McLaughlin. John V. Ellis is known as 'Big John' W. Crane of Philadelphia, and Capasso is known as Frank Kelly of New York. I did not know Gilbert.

"Kelly was arrested by me and Crane was also arrested by me. I arrested Capasso about three years ago on suspicion. He was discharged on condition that he would leave the state.

Inspector Burr then produced a paper which showed that between June 10, 1904, and June 15, 1909, Capasso had been arrested three times on charges of vagrancy and twice for disorderly conduct. He received two direct sentences of six months each, was sent to the workhouse on two occasions and on one occasion was fined $10.

Gilbert Known as Zuckerman
At this point it was agreed that Gilbert was known as Nathan Zuckerman, who has, it is alleged, a police record in New York. Between 1901 and 1909 he was arrested 15 times in New York city, served 13 months in the Elmira (N. Y.) reformatory for grand larceny and on another occasion had served 100 days in the penitentiary.

The government rested its case at this point.

The Defense
Frank Gilbert was the only defendant to testify in his own behalf. He said he belonged in Philadelphia and was a speculator. He had been to Portland, boarded the train there with the intention of going to Boston, but being taken ill on the train got off at Lowell and entered a hotel near the depot where he secured stimulants. He admitted that he had served time in New York, but said after he was released from the reformatory he got married and had lived an honest life, but added that he was a marked man to the police and was arrested on the slightest pretext.

READVILLE RACES

READVILLE, Sept. 2.—The three events that were called off yesterday on account of rain made up the card for today's grand circuit meeting at the Readville track and the racing will be carried over until Saturday instead of being brought to a close today as originally intended. The 15th annual renewal of the Massachusetts stakes with a $10,000 purse for 2.14 trotters was the big race of the day. There was a purse of $3000 in the Bunker Hill stakes for pacers in the 2.05 class. The other race was a 2.10 class trot. Whether The Harvester, Ed Green's worthy champion trotting stallion, would attempt to better his mile record, as had been planned for today, depended upon the condition of the track after the regular races were finished.

that he did not see any of the defendants doing anything out of the way.

Put Hand in Man's Pocket
Frank A. Goss, employed in the baggage room at the depot, said he saw Kelly hold up a man's hand and then put his hand in the man's pocket. Later he saw the four defendants jump off the train and run up the stairs which lead to Chelmsford street.

Nicholas P. Fozette, a hack man, said he saw three of the defendants board the 12:12 train and saw Kelly put his hand in a man's pocket. Witness said he saw the defendants around the depot at 7 o'clock the night before the train from Worcester was pulling out of the station.

Messrs. Hill and Ryan
Pelix Hill, also employed in the baggage room, offered testimony which was along that offered by the preceding witnesses. Hill and John P. Ryan said when Inspector Maher called for assistance that they accompanied him and assisted in arresting the quartet.

Inspector Maher Testifies
Inspector Martin A. Maher of the police department testified to arresting the defendant in Western street nearly opposite the armory at about 12:30 o'clock a week ago Thursday. As a result of what he had been told Inspector Maher said he went to the depot on the day in question and saw Kelly and Capasso. They mixed in with people who were getting on the 12:12 train. They passed through one of the cars and when the train started Kelly and Capasso and the other two defendants jumped off the train and mounted the steps leading towards Chelmsford street. When they reached the street three of the defendants looked over the fence for a minute or more and then walked away. Inspector Maher then went to the baggage room and asked for a couple of men to assist him in arresting the defendants, and Hill and Ryan volunteered their services.

Supt. Welch Called
Supt. Redmond Welch took the stand and told of the conversation he had with the quartet when brought to the police station. He said that Kelly said his name was Thomas Kelly, 22 years of age and resided at 26 Concord street, Charlestown. Kelly said he came to Lowell looking for a friend named Tommy Ryan, but he did not know any person here who knew Ryan. He denied that he was at the station during the fight and said he did not hear any train.

On cross examination Gilbert persisted in stating that he came from Portland to Lowell without change and at first said he had paid $1.50 for his ticket, but later said it cost him about $2.50.

Messrs. Sullivan and Hennessy made brief arguments as did Supt. Welch, and after the court had considered the evidence in the case the defendants were found guilty and each sentenced to 12 months in the house of correction. They appealed.

Sent to Reformatory
Edward J. Halloran and James F. Cavanaugh pleaded not guilty to complaints charging them with drunkenness and the larceny of a watch from Wright Whiteley.

The complainant testified that the night before the fight after 11 o'clock he was standing at the corner of Market and Central streets waiting for a Lawrence street electric car when the defendants jostled against him and after the latter had passed, a man approached him and said: "Whitely your watch is gone." Witness told him to look in his pocket in his vest and found the chain was dangling from a buttonhole but that the watch was gone.

Patrolman Kenney said that as a result of what he was told he placed the defendants under arrest and brought them before the captain of police at the station. While the captain was talking to the pair the patrolman said he saw Halloran pulling his hand away from the direction of Cavanaugh's pocket. Witness asked Halloran what he was doing and before the latter could respond Cavanaugh pulled the watch out of his pocket and said to Halloran: "The watch I call a mean trick," whereupon Halloran said: "You are in it just as much as I am."

Supt. Welch said he had a conversation with the defendants and Cavanaugh denied that he knew anything about the larceny of the watch until he had been arrested and then did not know where the watch was until he felt Halloran drop it in his pocket.

Cavanaugh told what was considered by the court to be a straightforward story. He said that he and Halloran and "Jim" Boyle were standing at the corner of Central and Market streets and did not see Halloran do anything. When Halloran suggested that they take a walk up the street he accompanied him. Next thing he knew he was placed under arrest and when brought to the station felt the watch dropped in his pocket.

Halloran's memory was rather poor. He did not remember hardly anything that had happened that night or at least he claimed that he didn't.

Halloran was found guilty on both counts—drunkenness and larceny from the person—and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory, while in the case of Cavanaugh the court made no finding on the complaint of larceny but found him guilty of drunkenness and ordered him placed on probation.

Drunken Offenders
John J. Riley, a paroleman from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. Moise St. Denis was given a direct sentence to the state farm.

Thomas H. Higgins was sent to jail for ten days, and eight first offenders were fined $2 each.

Case Continued
The case of Tony Correll, charged with larceny, was continued till tomorrow morning by agreement, bail being placed at $300.

LABOR UNIONS

Will Have No Public Observance Here

At a meeting of the Trades and Labor council held last night it was decided that the council would not make any public demonstration on Labor day. The meeting was well attended and quite a number present were of the opinion that organized labor in Lowell should make some observance of Labor day, but the sense of the majority was that no particular observance of the day be made. This decision was arrived at after long and animated discussion.

Some spoke in favor of a parade, but that thought was discouraged by those who believed that this was a bad precedent to attempt anything of the kind because of the curtailment in the mills and a general slackness in industry throughout the city. The council went on record as hoping that next year the labor organizations of Lowell would see their way clear to a proper observance of the day.

The officers of the Trades and Labor council are: President, Thomas J. Reagan; Recording Secretary, Peter H. Desmond; Financial Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Annie O'Dell; Sergeant-at-Arms, William O'Connell.

NIGHT EDITION

THE LIE PASSED

Attorney Pierce Made Attack On Attorney James

Said He Was Willing to Continue the Matter "Outside"—A Lively
Time at the Railroad Rate Hearing

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The tense strain in the railroad rate hearing developed today, in the midst of which Attorney Pierce called Attorney F. B. James, representing Cincinnati shippers, a liar. Mr. Pierce added that if Mr. James was not satisfied the matter could be continued "outside."

Comptroller Nay of the Rock Island was on the witness stand undergoing cross examination by Mr. James. The latter declared that in one of the tables introduced by Mr. Nay yesterday the total freight operating revenue per mile and the total freight operating expenses had been left out, while both sets of figures appeared in a similar table.

"Why were those figures left out?" demanded Mr. James.

Witness answered that the omission was undoubtedly accidental.

Mr. James expressed a contrary opinion with regard to an accident, averring that he suspected an ulterior motive.

"Mr. Pierce at this point jumped to his feet and shouted, 'If that is your opinion you are a liar.'"

"That won't do at all, gentlemen," interposed Examiner Brown, with many raps of his gavel. Above the din Mr. Pierce cried: "We will not leave such insinuations. We are here fairly and squarely, and if the attorney is not satisfied I will meet him outside."

At this there were hisses from the shippers and handclapping from the railroad contingent, during which the gavel sounded unavailingly.

The storm spent itself without reference to the gavel and Mr. Nay resumed.

The earnings of the Rock Island proper were greater on an average than those of the whole system, he stated.

The subsidiary lines reduced the average, he said. Attorney Thorne then read from a report of the Rock Island to the Interstate Commerce commission.

He said that the report controverted the witness—that the earnings of the system averaged more than those of the railroad proper.

"The difference may be accounted for," explained the witness, "by the fact that my tables and those which you have are prepared by different methods."

Mr. Thorne demanded the formula by which earnings are arrived at and the inquiry interrupted the examination, who said: "The witness has explained that his statistics were based on a different method of bookkeeping."

"Do you think there is a nigger in the woodpile?"

"I do," was the prompt reply.

"Then go after it," replied the examiner.

At a special meeting of the board of aldermen, held this afternoon, the following traverse jurors were drawn by Alderman Adams:

William L. Crowley, 453 Riverside street, clerk.

Alexander C. Cameron, 39 Lamb street, carpenter.

Alfred Swanson, 1317 Lawrence street, granite polisher.

John A. Bernard, 118 White street, music teacher.

Marlin B. Thompson, 242 Cabot street, overseer.

Everett A. Clifford, 20 Lane street, clerk.

These jurors will report at the court house in Gorham street on the forenoon of the first Tuesday after the first Monday in September.

A number of minor petitions were referred to the proper committees.

The petition of the Gulf Refining company, to keep and sell petroleum products at its plant in Tanner street, was read and an order granting a hearing on the petition September 20, at 3 p. m. was adopted.

The absentees at the meeting this afternoon were Wainwright, Quin, Carmichael and Byam.

SHE HAD $5000

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The will of Sara E. Pearsall, who left an estate worth less than $50,000, provides for the disposal of more than $15,000 in bequests. Her coachman, Cornelius Lennihan, is given $5,000. Mrs. Pearsall's horses, ponies and conveyances, and his daughter get $1,000.

Mrs. Pearsall died at Williamsbridge, N. Y., on July 24 last. She provided in her will a $5,000 fund for the care of her Woodlawn burial plot. Three cousins are given $500 each. A maid is to receive $100 for every year she worked for Mrs. Pearsall. Alice Kearney, another employee, is given $1,000. Angelina Hunt is left $2,000. The will provides that if there is not enough money to warrant the full legacies the estate shall be divided pro rata.

KAISER PRAISES TAFT

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The emperor's autograph in the Tannenberg field of the guerrillas of Berlin and Potsdam took place yesterday, the anniversary of the battle of Sedan in 1870. Yesterday's manoeuvres were participated in by 30,000 men.

The American guests were: Myron T. Herrick, former governor of Ohio, and Mrs. Herrick; Hon. W. Taft and Mrs. Taft; Major Frederick S. Pitt, Captain Samuel G. Hooker, Captain Arthur L. Conger and members of the American embassy.

After dinner last night Emperor William engaged Messrs. Taft and Herrick in conversation and both the Americans were charmed by his agreeable personality. His majesty sent his compliments to President Taft, for whom he expressed his admiration to Mr. Herrick.

At 8:15 o'clock the president will board his car for the return trip to the east.

CITY SOLICITOR

Submits an Opinion to the Board of Charities

City Solicitor Duncan has submitted the following opinion to the board of charities:

Gentlemen: I have your request for an opinion as to whether you have the legal right to pay from your present appropriation the sum of $4,238.92, due from the city of Lowell to the Massachusetts Home for Feeble Minded.

Together with such request you have sent me a copy of the estimate for your department for the year 1910 and also certain references to the charter and ordinances.

The charter amendment of 1896, section 8, provides that no sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose and that no expenditure shall be made and no liability incurred by or on behalf of the city until the city council has duly voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability.

By section 3 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance providing for estimates for appropriations and for other purposes," it is provided that "all regular annual appropriations shall be for and only applicable to the liabilities incurred during the year in which they are made, any form of phraseology in the order, resolution or vote providing for the same, to the contrary notwithstanding."

The whole matter turns on the question as to whether, when appropriations were made for the charity department for the year 1910, a sum was appropriated to cover the bill in question and included in the total amount appropriated, which was, as I understand it, seventy-five thousand dollars.

If this was done, then so much of the total appropriation could not be held to be a part of the annual appropriation for the year but should rather be considered as an appropriation to cover a particular claim. Whether the bill was considered at all by the committee on appropriations and whether any specific action was taken thereon at the beginning of the year does not appear from the data submitted.

If it was considered and provided for then it should be paid, at once by your department. If not, an appropriation should be made to meet it.

Respectfully submitted,

City Solicitor.

DEMAND A SCHOOL

North Chelmsford Residents Up in Arms

Over Neglect of Town to Provide Village With Proper School Accommodations—Lively Town Meeting Scheduled for Sept. 12

Patience has ceased to be a virtue with the people of North Chelmsford and when the special town meeting called for September 12th is held they will arise in their wrath and demand that the remainder of the town abandon its policy of depriving the village of proper school accommodations, for so-called economy's sake.

One of North Chelmsford's leading industries is children. In this feature it has the four other villages beaten to a frazzle. If Theodore Roosevelt ever comes this way undoubtedly his first inquiry will be for North Chelmsford, where long before he became the leading crusader against race suicide, the honest families of that thriving village were increasing the population with most commendable regularity.

For three years North Chelmsford

has been sorely in need of additional school accommodations for its children and as yet has not obtained them.

When the school capacity of the village became taxed to its utmost an overflow room was opened in the town hall. Now that is overcrowded and another room has been opened or is about to be in the attic of the firehouse. In order to prevent tragedies it has been decided to send only the older pupils to the overflow room in the firehouse. When the firehouse was built, in order to make room for the ladder and hose the building was peculiarly constructed with an unusually high studding for the first story and a steep and narrow stairway leading to the second story.

The stairway is so steep as to be considered dangerous for small children. School will open on Tuesday with an overflow of pupils sufficient to fill three additional rooms while the village birth record shows no curtailment.

Some three years ago the regular town meeting defeated a proposition to build additional rooms to the present school at the North village, and the town meeting of a year later did likewise.

On May 28th a special town meeting voted to purchase the McEnally lot for a schoolhouse site, the intention being to build a new school without delay.

It was voted to appropriate $12,500 for the building of the school and a committee consisting of J. Adams Bartlett, Stuart Mackay and John F. McManis was appointed to attend to the construction of the building. This committee had plans drawn by Henry L. Bourke, the well known architect, and it was found that the building would require an expenditure of $17,000, for a modern four-room schoolhouse. As it is generally estimated in figuring on schoolhouses that a building will cost on an average of $5000 per room, these figures appeared to be reasonable. The committee then called a special meeting at which to call for the additional appropriation. The second meeting accomplished nothing in the way of progress for it voted to instruct the committee not to proceed with the building of the school until so instructed by the town.

Then a third meeting was called and the old story relating to adding four rooms to the present school was revived and thrown down for the third time. At this meeting also it was voted to rescind the motion whereby $12,500 was voted and hence the committee is left today with a site but with a dollar with which to do business. And now comes another meeting at which the town will be asked or rather demanded to vote for an appropriation of $17,000, for a new four room building on the McEnally lot and if the voters of North Chelmsford don't get it through it will not be because they didn't make an honest and a strenuous effort.

At the present time in the North Chelmsford school in the first grade there are 70 children in one room taught by two teachers. The authorities on health and hygiene claim that such a number is far too great for one room while educators claim that two teachers in one room divide the attention of the pupils and hence are not as effective in their work.

Village is Booming

North Chelmsford shows no sign of curtailment or shutdowns for the mills and foundries are running most prosperously.

Contractor Tarbell of Lowell has a large gang of men and 20 wagons working on the new state highway between what is known as the cross roads and the Tyngsboro line. The work is being rushed and will be finished before cold weather.

Selectman Small has a gang of men at work laying crushed stone on Middlesex street between the railroad and crossing and the Catholic church preparatory to macadamizing the road at this point, a job that was sorely needed.

Just wait a minute Edd, this strikes me funny. See this window. I was admiring ties in a window in Boston today. They were marked "Special, 65c." and what do you know, here are the same ties in the Merrimack Clothing Company's window marked "Early Fall Ties, 50c." I guess that's good enough for me. A Merrimack tie at 50c.

There's a fine display of hats! Just look at that one marked Merrimack Derby, $2.00! And say, here's a new shape in a soft hat at $2.00. The Merrimack has a dandy display of hats there. They certainly look good to me.

Say, Bill, are you going to look in that window all day? No, but what do you know about these suits marked $12.00, $15.00—the new full suits at that? They say that clothing is high. Now tell me, how can the Merrimack Clothing Company sell such suits at $12.00 and $15.00?

Here, see this sign, "These cool evenings remind you of Fall Top Coats." Just look at this one for $15. Isn't that a dandy at that price? Good enough for me. But if you want to pay more, there's a silk-lined one at $20. Any of those Merrimack top coats are dependable.

Willie, you have got to have a new suit for school; let us look at these in the Merrimack windows for $37.50. They look like that suit I bought for your brother down street for $50.00. Yes, ma, and these have two pairs of knickerbocker pants, and I certainly need that extra pair of pants.

CHILD BURNED

LITTLE ONE FELL INTO TUB OF BOILING WATER

Monica Kuzalitzka, aged 4 years, 2 years and residing at 267 Fayette street, was frightfully burned last evening as a result of falling into a tub of boiling water. The little one is now at St. John's hospital and is in a critical condition, little hope being entertained for her recovery.

It is said that the mother of the child left a tub of boiling hot water on the floor and being called away left the infant and another small child in the kitchen. She was startled by the cries of the baby and rushing into the room found the little one in the tub of water.

Seizing the child the mother ran to St. John's hospital where, in broken English she tried to explain to the physicians what had happened.

C. F. KEYES' SALE

The property of A. A. Jones, consisting of a two and one-half story house, two stables, carriage shed and about 18,000 square feet of land at 113 School street was sold yesterday afternoon by Auctioneer Charles F. Keyes to Walter Booth for $1300 and this year's taxes.

Mr. Jones is about to leave for California and for that reason wished to dispose of his property in this city.

The property is in good condition and the bidding was spirited throughout until finally knocked down to Mr. Booth.

A LOWELL WOMAN

Was Rescued From Drowning at Revere Beach

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Two women and two life guards figured in the thrilling rescue of Mrs. Frederick England of Lowell who, while bathing at Revere Beach yesterday morning, had got beyond her depth and would have drowned but for their timely assistance.

The two women who were the first to reach Mrs. England and supported her until the life guards came, were Mrs. Hattie Foley of Revere and Miss Gertrude Barnard of Roxbury. The life savers, who completed the rescue, were Sam Mahoney and John Murray.

The rescue was witnessed from the beach by the husband and sister of the drowning woman. For some time there the wildest kind of excitement.

Owing to the untoward weather yesterday very few bathers were in the water. Mr. and Mrs. England and party of Lowell people had gone to Revere to visit to friends. They did not wish to let the opportunity go by without taking a plunge into the sea.

While some of the party went in the water, others, including Mr. England, stayed ashore to watch the bathers. Mrs. England, who is very fond of bathing, waded out ahead of the party.

She took a few strokes, and thinking that she was still within her depth, tried to touch bottom. To her terror she discovered that she was out much beyond her depth. Not being much of a swimmer, she immediately lost all presence of mind and cried lustily.

Her struggles caused her to sink, but just as she went under, Mrs. Foley and Miss Barnard reached her. Each took hold of one of Mrs. England's arms and tried to support her.

For fully ten minutes the three women struggled in the water, while other bathers who were unable to swim screamed, as did the spectators on shore. Mr. England was almost overcome with excitement as he watched the two women trying to save his wife.

The affair had been witnessed by life guards at Station 25, who immediately rushed to the scene and assisted by the women, brought Mrs. England ashore. Mrs. England was taken to the bath house where the matron working over her for some time, the matron succeeded in fully reviving her. She was, however, suffering from a nervous collapse due to the excitement that she had gone through.

HELD IN $1000

CLERK IS ACCUSED OF ROBBING THE MAILED

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Albert Cook, the Brockton postoffice clerk who was arrested ten days ago for robbery of the mails, made a written confession to the postoffice authorities today and was held in $1000 for the coming term of the grand jury.

Cook is 23 years of age and lives in Whitman.

MAN FOUND DEAD

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—In a room full of illuminating gas the body of Robert Sutherland, 77 years old, an uncle of Edmund K. Billings, former secretary of the Good Government association, was found today lying across a bed in a south end lodging house by his landlady. Mr. Sutherland is said to have had no sense of smell. The man had been dead some time.

MAKING A LONG FLIGHT

POITIERS, France, Sept. 2.—M. Bloisue, who in a Voisin biplane is making a flight from Paris to Bordeaux, arrived here at noon from Orleans. He covered the distance from Orleans to Poitiers in two hours and 35 minutes.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Eli Darrow, a Dorchester builder, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy today with liabilities of $66,584 and secured assets of $57,850.

NEW BEDFORD STRIKE

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 2.—There were no new developments in the strike of the building laborers in this city today. The payment of strike benefits was further deferred this morning.

SAGAMORE BEACH CONFERENCE

SAGAMORE BEACH, Sept. 2.—Resolutions adopted at the closing session of the conference on the moral and religious training of the young here last night were made public today. The resolutions declare that "religious and moral training is an essential part of education" and it is "a great civic duty to stand for and be aggressive in securing what is called the better city, the better and cleaner town and village."

Resolutions of thanks to Rev. Dr. Francis C. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement, for calling and entertaining the conference also were adopted.

TEN ROUND BOAT

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 2.—Charles White, the Chicago featherweight who aspires to Albo Atelli's championship, ten rounds this evening. The show, which will be the opening of the season and will be attended by all the first nighters in Milwaukee, will determine whether boxing is to be permitted in Milwaukee this fall and winter. Mayor Ziebel will be present to see the contest and at its conclusion will announce if the many are will be permitted.

GIRL ROBBER CONFESSES

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An 11-year-old girl who makes a practice of robbing other little girls, was before Magistrate Hoyt in the Children's court yesterday. She is Esther Mucella, of No. 264 East One Hundred and Fifty-second street. Two of her alleged victims, Lillian Final, aged 10, of No. 625 East One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, and Evelyn Grace, nine, of the same address, were in court. The police said they had the names of three other girls who had been robbed by Esther.

The little prisoner admitted that she had taken money from children. The court adjourned the case for a week, remanding Esther to the Children's society.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN CASWELL AND SON

Merrill of Brockton are wearing a few days in the city as the guests of Mrs. Charles Merrill of Eastville avenue, Centralville, and Mrs. Walter Merrill of Walker street.

Mr. Jack Carter, electrician at the Appleton Mfg. Co., and wife of Liberty street, have registered at the Castle Mona hotel, Sullbury beach.

WILLIAM BARNES

WILL NOT DISCUSS NEW YORK FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—William Barnes declined to discuss a report today that the "old guard" had decided to wage a battle in the primaries in New York county to capture delegates to the state convention. Lloyd Griscom, county chairman, said that he was not aware that a contest was contemplated.

Mr. Barnes was confident today that there would be no change in the lineup in the state committee over the selection of a temporary chairman at the meeting at Saratoga on the evening of Sept. 26, with the exception of the two Erie county committeemen and Frank R. Utter of Albany, who represents the 37th district, who were absent at the last meeting. Fred Crocker, chairman of the Erie county committee, has announced that the Erie county votes will be cast for Col. Roosevelt, while Utter's position is said to be in doubt.

Mr. Barnes leaves this afternoon for Nantucket, Mass., to be gone until Tuesday. Mr. Griscom will go to Fairfield, Conn., for the week-end.

WOMAN LEPER

AND HER BOY ARE AT BELLEVUE HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The first case in several years that has been diagnosed at Bellevue hospital as leprosy, was that of Mrs. Iris Lee, who last night applied for treatment. She was taken to an isolated tent, where with her four years old son John, she will be kept until removed to Blackwell's island.

Mrs. Lee told Dr. Hopkins that she has been in New York seven years, and recently has lived at 249 West 60th street. She was born in the West Indies.

Dr. Hopkins said there is no doubt about her disease, and that she is in an advanced stage of leprosy. He could not say as much of the child, but as a precautionary measure ordered the boy isolated with the mother. At Blackwell's island they will not be alone, as New York has a little colony of six lepers there.

Their home is on the north end of the island, by the lighthouse, and where the island is scarcely 50 feet wide. The lepers have cottages and a certain tract for their exclusive use. Beyond this they cannot roam.

NATIONAL BANKS RULE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—National banks in large cities which are to act as reserve agents for banks in smaller places must hereafter be approved by the comptroller of the currency. That is a provisional law but it is the intention of the treasury department to see to its strict enforcement.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate no essential change in business conditions, although greater activity is expected as the season advances. General dullness prevails at Boston but full prospects in many lines are considered quite encouraging.

Bank statements this week at all leading cities in the United States amount to only $2,130,200,436, a decrease of 24.3 per cent. as compared with the same week last year.

OYSTER BAY'S POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Oyster Bay, N. Y., the home of ex-President Roosevelt, has a population of 21,802 as against 16,334 in 1900, an increase of 6,468. These figures include Sencell village, which adjoins Oyster Bay.

LOCK-STEP ABOLISHED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 2.—The old-fashioned lock-step which has been in vogue at the state prison and county jail since they were founded has been abolished at these institutions by order of Warden Wilcox who has just been made sheriff of Providence county. Beginning today the prisoners will walk in rows of two with a semi-military step instead of the former lock-step in which the men walked in Indian file, each with one hand on the shoulder of the man ahead.

Philadelphia's population in 1900 was 1,293,697, and that of Constantinople, estimated, 1,250,000. Osaka is next, with 1,117,151 (in 1905), and Calcutta, and suburbs follow, with 1,026,987. Then come Buenos Ayres, Shanghai, and Rio de Janeiro, in the order named, with 1,000,260, 1,000,000 and 812,265, respectively. The population of Boston in 1906 was 692,278.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Greater New York has a population of 4,761,883, under the 13th decennial census, according to figures issued last night by the director of the census. This makes New York the second largest city in the world, and as large as any two foreign cities, excepting London.

Concerning London, New York today is that city's greatest rival, and in gain of population gives reason to believe that it will yet wrest from England the honor of having the world's largest city.

While New York, according to the English census returns of 1901, is still 2,092,567 behind London in the race for the second largest city of the world, she is far ahead of the other great cities of the globe that there is little likelihood of any of them catching her in many decades.

London has 7,429,740.

The census of 1909 showed Greater London's population to be 7,429,740 as against 6,825,832 in 1901. That New York is slowly catching London is shown by the fact that in eight years London's increase was 548,908, while

KELIHER CASE A Bill of Exceptions Was Filed

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—William J. Keliher, who was recently convicted in the United States circuit court on the charge of aiding bookkeeper George W. Coleman in the embezzlement of funds in the National City bank of Cambridge, filed a bill of exceptions through his attorneys today. Judge Hale will pass on the bill on Sept. 29 and in the meantime U. S. District Attorney J. A. P. French is to make such corrections as he may desire.

The bill alleges that the judge erred in not permitting the defense to show that previous to the discovery of Coleman's defalcations the officers of the bank had been informed that the bookkeeper was spending large sums of money and leading a dissolute life.

JAIL SENTENCE

DILISIO WAS GIVEN TWO AND ONE-HALF YEARS

FITCHBURG, Sept. 2.—Dominick Dilio and James Mattee, who were found guilty by a jury last week in the superior court on a charge of assault with intent to murder Creeping Marandino at Ashburnham on July 8, were sentenced last yesterday afternoon by Judge Fessenden.

Dilio was sentenced to the house of correction for two years and six months and Mattee to the Concord reformatory.

The defendant's attorney made a strong plea for mercy, especially for Mattee, who, he said, came from Ireland, N. Y., looking for his sister, a 15-year-old girl who had been kidnapped. The attorney told the court that while neither man was justified in committing the crimes charged, he believed that the circumstances should be considered in passing sentence.

"Jack" Johnson, who was charged with larceny from the person in this city on June 11, and who was found guilty by a jury, was sentenced to the house of correction by Judge Fessenden for three years and six months, the chief of police of Red Bank, N. J., in which the officer said that Johnson never worked, only when he gambled and shot craps, was produced.

Euzabe Benuchem, charged with assault, pleaded guilty and was allowed to go upon probation.

SHOOT FOR BRIGGS TROPHY

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 2.—Under exceptionally trying conditions the inter-state team match for the Briggs trophy was begun today, the second day of the tournament, under the auspices of the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania state associations.

The wind blew a gale across the range and the light was poor. However, some good scores were made. In 200 yards by some of the riflemen. The trophy which goes with the first prize of this match was donated by Frank O. Briggs of Trenton, United States senator.

FRANCES STEWART
KNOWN AS "ANGEL OF HELL'S KITCHEN," WEDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Miss Frances Violet Stewart, affectionately called "The Angel of Hell's Kitchen," by many of those with whom she came in contact in her charity work in that locality, was married yesterday at noon to the Rev. Norman Melton Thomas, acting rector of Christ Church and assistant rector of the Brick Presbyterian church. Their wedding took place in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin.

The bride, who is the second daughter of the late William A. W. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart of No. 21 East Thirty-eighth street, was given away by her brother, Alfred Graham Stewart. She wore white satin. Her sister, Miss Mary Stewart, was her only attendant. Donald Clarke was the best man.

Both Mr. Thomas and his bride, who is wealthy in her own right, have for a number of years been identified with charities, and are popular with the young people by reason of their work for the Sunday school at the foot of Third street.

Thirty-fourth street. They met about two years ago in the course of their work, and their friendship ripened into love.

THREE SISTERS
WERE ORDERED DEPORTED BY THE OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Aboard the French line steamship La Lorraine when she left for Havre yesterday were three Spanish girls whom the immigration authorities have deported to their home in San Sebastian. They are sisters, and the eldest, Josefa Torralba, 17 years old, appealed to Commissioner Williams for protection.

When they arrived a week ago they were accompanied by Marcelino Manso, a Spaniard, who said he was their uncle, and that they were going to live with relatives in Mexico City. He had $700, the statement of Josefa caused an investigation and he also was excluded. He will be held another week, as the commissioner thought it inadvisable to let him travel with the girls.

Josefa's sisters are Magdalena, aged 15, and Pilar, aged 13. Their mother is dead and their father is too old to work. Josefa, a hairdresser, said Manso gave her father a sum of money to gain his permission to take the girls to Mexico, where he said they would earn lots of money.

AS BLACKMAILERS

THREE MEN HELD BY THE POLICE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Salvatore Lodi, a barber, of No. 1136 First avenue; James Narmain, also a barber, of the same address; and Frank Tripp, of No. 393 East Sixty-first street, were held as possible blackmailers in the Manhattan court yesterday. Fall was fixed at $1,000 in each case.

The men are accused of writing threatening letters bearing daggers and black bands to Giacomo LaPorta, of No. 620 Courtlandt avenue, the Bronx, demanding $1,500, on penalty of death.

The three were arrested following a break fight with the police after they had fought a stone in a vacant lot on Broadway and appropriated a roll of bills placed there by LaPorta at the instance of detectives and in accordance with instructions in the letters.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT FOUR PICKPOCKETS

On a Clinton Girl Without Any Known Motive

Sentenced to One Year Each in Police Court

They Were Arrested at Northern Depot and Held as Vagabonds —Bad Record Shown Against Them

CLINTON, Sept. 2.—Murderously assaulted by an unknown man near her home here last night, Miss Katherine A. Kelley, 25 years old, lies today in the local hospital in a dying condition. Attending physicians state that the woman has a compound depressed fracture of the skull and that the chances of recovery are against her.

Arriving in Depot square on an electric car from Worcester, Miss Kelley resided for her home on Sterling street. When but a short distance from her home she was seized by a man who moved in good society in this town, stated today during a few moments she was conscious that she did not recognize her assailant and could give no motive for the incident.

Although both the state and local police are working on the case today they say they have very little to work on. Near the scene of the assault was found the iron bar with which the unknown man felled Miss Kelley. The scene of the assault was very dark last night and it is believed that the man has succeeded in getting away to some neighboring town.

Passengers and Crew Had a Narrow Escape

NEWTON, Sept. 2.—The passengers and train crew on the noon express from Boston for New York over the Boston and Albany division of the New York Central railroad narrowly escaped a serious accident, when two locomotives, the baggage, mail and smoking cars left the rails on the bank of the Charles river near the Riverside station today.

Although nobody was killed or seriously injured, a number of men, a mail clerk and two or three passengers received numerous cuts and bruises.

When the engines and the three forward cars left the rails the forward locomotive turned partly on its side and the smoking car swung into the river at a point where the water was shoal. Two or three of the occupants of the smoking car were cut by broken glass when they tried to escape from the car by smashing the panes and climbing through the windows.

For a short time passenger traffic was tied up but the wrecking crew quickly cleared some of the tracks and both outward and inward traffic was resumed. The cars which had left the rails were attached to another engine and proceeded to New York.

SEN. HOOLIHAN HOUSE ENTERED

In Pursuit of Alleged Another Robbery at Narragansett Pier

Abductors

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—There was an exciting chase across the state of Connecticut yesterday for possession of Elizabeth Randkyke, a ward of former State Senator Michael Hoolihan, of Newtown, and who declared that the girl was abducted by Colonel and Mrs. Charles E. McGuire, of Brooklyn.

When Senator Hoolihan adopted the girl at an orphan asylum he was wealthy and prominent in Connecticut politics. He and his wife reared the girl and educated her.

A few years ago Senator Hoolihan's health failed, he lost most of his fortune, and the girl, to show her love and loyalty to her benefactors, offered to go to work if she could find a position and help support the aged couple. She did get a place in a lace factory, and, it is said, walked four miles to and from her home every day to tend to them.

The factory closed down and she went to work as a waitress in a summer hotel run by a man named Taylor at Newtown, Conn. There she met Colonel McGuire and his wife, who were summering at Newtown. The girl waited on the couple and they became fond of her. They learned her history. Then, it appears, they asked her if she would like to accompany them to Brooklyn and live with them. The McGuires said they were childless.

The girl told Senator Hoolihan on Wednesday night of the McGuire's offer. She asked the senator to advise her what course to pursue. He consulted with his wife, who could not bear the thought of losing the young woman. The Hoolihans pleaded with her to say "No" to the McGuires.

"Elizabeth," said Mrs. Hoolihan, as the girl started for the hotel yesterday morning, "I shall look for you at luncheon. I shall expect you home by 2 o'clock. Please don't fail to come back."

Two o'clock came and Elizabeth failed to return. Mrs. Hoolihan went over to the hotel and was told that the girl had left with the McGuires, who said they were returning to their home in Brooklyn.

The Hoolihans consulted Chief of Police Curran, who accompanied them to the railroad station. The McGuires went to the hotel and were told that the McGuires and the girl had been driven to Holyville, four miles away.

The chief and the Hoolihans got another tip and gave chase. They met the first tip returning, and told the driver learned that the party had taken a train to Sanbury and across the state line. Chief Curran wired the police all along the line to stop the girl and return her to Newtown, but he was too late.

"Elizabeth is not more than fifteen years old, and I shall get her back or prosecute the McGuires for abduction," said the senator yesterday.

NAT'L BANKS THREATENED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The controller of the currency today called on national banks for a statement of their condition at the close of business Sept. 1st.

POPULATION OF ROCHESTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The population of Rochester, N. Y., is 218,119, an increase of 55,541, or 25.2 per cent, as compared with 152,578 in 1900.

The population of Auburn, N. Y., is 34,608, an increase of 4,333, or 14.2 per cent, as compared with 30,275 in 1900.

The population of Bockford, Ill., is 15,401, an increase of 11,350, or 48.2 per cent, as compared with 4,051 in 1900.

Thomas Kelly, John W. Ellis, Ernest Capasso and Frank Gilbert, each of whom has several aliases, who were arrested on suspicion of being pickpockets last Thursday noon by Inspector Martin A. Maher of the police department, assisted by two employees of the baggage room at the Aldwych street station, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in the police court this morning on complaints charging them with being vagabonds. When arrested a week ago they were charged with larceny from the person, but this morning the complaint was changed. Lawyer Joseph Sullivan of Boston appeared for Gilbert and Capasso while the other two defendants were represented by J. Joseph Hennessy of this city. The government had a number of witnesses summoned who testified, but the only defendant to testify in his own behalf was Gilbert. The court after considering the evidence in the case, found the defendants guilty and ordered each to be sentenced to 12 months in the house of correction at Cambridge. They entered appeals and were each held under $500 bonds for their appearance before the superior court.

Corcoran Was Suspicious

John J. Corcoran, ticket seller at the Middlesex street station, was the first witness for the government. He testified that a week ago yesterday morning he saw Kelly in the waiting room at the depot. He had seen the young man on several previous occasions and the manner in which the latter acted aroused his suspicion. When the 11:30 a. m. train from the north stopped at the depot Kelly and another of the defendants boarded the train. Corcoran said he saw Kelly while entering one of the cars raise a man's elbow with one of his hands and place his other hand in the man's coat pocket. Later the other two defendants appeared and when the train started all four jumped off.

Cross examined by Lawyer Sullivan relative to when he had seen Kelly before last week and what Kelly was doing, witness said that it was about two or three months ago and on that occasion Kelly was trying to gouge or jostle a man who was attempting to enter one of the cars.

Patrolman Dooley Notified

Patrolman Jeremiah Dooley said that his attention had been called to the defendants by Mr. Corcoran. Witness saw Kelly in the waiting room while the other three defendants were outside the station. He also saw the four board the train.

On cross examination he admitted Continued to page eleven

TELEPHONE GIRL HANGED HIMSELF

Becomes Bride of a Biddeford, Me., Man

Wealthy Man

Committed Suicide

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Miss Agnes Nelman, who has been "Information" at the Bryant telephone exchange for several years, and whose charming voice may have been heard over the wire, eloped yesterday with Benjamin Wait, a surveyor and son of wealthy parents of Brooklyn. The pair were married at the Little Church Around the Corner, enjoyed a wedding supper at the Hotel Astor, and went to Atlantic City for a honeymoon trip. It is a matter of the fact that the bride's mother is lying at her home, 353 East One Hundred and Forty-first street, with a broken leg.

Miss Nelman, who is eighteen years old, extremely pretty and of the brunette type, was one of the most valued employees of the telephone company. Recently she was sent at the head of a squad of telephone operators to reorganize the telephone system of the state of Virginia. They toured the state and Miss Nelman received a bonus from the company for her excellent work.

Mr. Wait is a well-to-do young man about town. He has his own automobile and is a member of several clubs. He asked for "Bryant" information about four years ago and liked the tone of the girl's voice so well that he acquired an insatiable appetite for information. He thought up more excuses for calling up information than there are hairs on a cat. Then Wait went on a honeymoon some one who knew "Bryant" information by her real name. He was finally presented.

JOSEPH CHOATE

SAYS CHARGES AGAINST HIM ARE WITHOUT FOUNDATION

STOCKBRIDGE, Sept. 2.—Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, on being informed at his summer residence here today by the Associated Press that George W. Champlin had asked leave to withdraw his petition for consideration by the American Bar Association of charges made against Mr. Choate by John R. Watts of New York and that the association probably would take no action on the charges, made the following statement: "The charges of Mr. John R. Watts against me are absolutely unfounded and I am glad the American Bar Association has disavowed all responsibility for them."

"I have never acted for Mr. Watts or had any knowledge of his affairs. So far as his charges against my former firm have heretofore come to my knowledge I have investigated them and found them to be without foundation."

SONDER YACHTS

To Engage in Series of Trial Races

MARION, Sept. 2.—The sonder yacht aspirants for honors in Germany next June as members of the American team in races for the Emperor William and Prince Henry clips gathered in Buzzards bay today in anticipation of a series of trial races held by the Eastern Yacht club. There was much disappointment that the Harpoon, which won the Taft cup in the recent Spanish-American series, did not enter, but Mr. Adams acknowledged a platitude of racing for the present season and furthermore would not sign the agreement to go to Germany in case he won. All the other yacht owners, however, have bound themselves to take their yachts across in case they prove their worth. Of the entries the Beaver and the Rebelot, Harry P. HATHAWAY THEATRE

Hathaway's Theatre will reopen for the vaudeville season next Monday, under the exclusive management of John I. Shannon, and local theatre-goers may rest assured that a fine entertainment has been arranged for their delectation. A fine list of attractions has been booked for the season, and Lovell people are assured of the best vaudeville that the city has ever seen. The opening bill is an excellent sample of what is to come. The feature attraction, Laddie Cliff, England's premier boy comedian and grotesque dancer, is one of the most sought-for attractions in the variety world, and his contracts are made for years in advance. He is now making his farewell tour of America, and local audiences are lucky in having the opportunity of seeing him for the first time. Here is what Variety's critic said of Laddie on the occasion of his first appearance in New York: "Just one simple mistake occurred in the American debut of Laddie Cliff. Someone named the boy 'Laddie' instead of 'Kiddie.' He's a cute kid," will be the first thing you will say when Laddie Cliff walks on the stage, and it will be the last thing said when he leaves. He is a cute kid and a performer from his head to his toes. The lad is a 'comer' in every sense of the word, and he could have had New York easily when he appeared for the first time at the Colonial. Dressed as an Eton youth, Laddie, who cannot be over seventeen years old, sang and danced his way right into the Colonial audience. His legs are a couple of spindles and he is a comedian with them; also an eccentric dancer of a high class, without seemingly having had anyone teach him grotesque steps, as his particular style of loose dancing has been developed over here. Laddie could have been a contortionist or an acrobat as well, but he has chosen dancing and singing. The boy sings well, and has a flexible face, which he uses for comedy while singing.

The Woods and Woods Trio, two men and a pretty woman, give a wonderful exhibition on the tight wire. Their act which is entitled "An Elopement by Wire" begins with a demonstration of how to perform the elopement stunt by this method, and then proceeds with the execution of seemingly impossible feats of balancing on the wire. In one of them, the woman makes her way across it while riding a safety bicycle with the front wheel in the air. A masterly dramatic sketch—"The Other Man," and it is splendidly played by Miss Elsie Ridgely and a fine supporting company. The story is of a young society girl, who has fallen in love with a married man, and plans to elope with him. She is visited by another woman, who claims to be the man's wife, and from the moment their interview begins, there is a sequence of surprises, culminating in the rescue of the young woman, though the manner of its accomplishment is not at all what the audience has been led to expect. The playlet is brilliantly written, and the dialogue sparkles with witty epigrams.

The Van Der Koors, two men, cooperate in a strikingly funny comedy magic act. A feature is the appearance of the wonderful educated duck, a burlesque novelty which is making a hit everywhere.

Charles A. Pusey and Oscar Ragland, "those two little fellows with the 'big laughs,'" are entertainers with an unending flow of funny talk, and their singing is first class.

Then Lightner's pianologue is a musical caprice that will be found very pleasant. She is a brilliant manipulator of the piano keys, and her singing and conversation are on a par with her performance on the piano.

and hoop rolling are cleverly done by Jarvis and Martin. An excellent series of moving pictures will be shown.

MAN PAID $340

FOR A ONE CENT PIECE AT AN AUCTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Henry Chapman, a Numismatist paid $340, for a one-cent piece at an auction yesterday. The price, according to dealers, is the largest ever paid for a penny. Two hundred and seventy-five dollars is the biggest previous price which could be remembered. The coin was struck in the year 1793. It is of the Liberty cap variety and was formerly owned by Peter Housley, the grocer-numismatist of Cincinnati.

A PRETTY AND EFFECTIVE SCENE IN CLYDE FITCH'S COMEDY, "GIRLS" THAT COMES TO THE LOWELL OPERA HOUSE ON TUESDAY, SEPT. 5.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The season at the Opera House will open next Monday, with a matinee and evening performance, the attraction being Daniel Ryan and a well balanced company in a new play of French Canadian life entitled "The Black Fox," a vivid melodramatic story of the great Northwestern country tersely and vigorously told in a series of intensely dramatic scenes and crisp dialogue permeated with the atmosphere of the "Frozen North." Legends of the North country and character drawings of the people who inhabit this part of the Canadian wilds are powerfully expressed and clearly and sharply drawn. Mr. Ryan, who in the past has been noted for the excellence with which he has portrayed romantic roles, will be seen in the character of a Halibut trapper, and it is safe to say that Mr. Ryan's impersonation of the vigorous woodsman will be worth while. The supporting company is said to be an excellent one and the production is carried complete. The engagement here will be for one day only, Monday afternoon and evening, and will be played at popular prices. Seats for both performances are now on sale.

When "The Midnight Sons" Lewis Fields' mammoth musical production was first brought out in New York it was little thought that it would be seen in any other cities save Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. These places have now had a glimpse of this colossal play and the Messrs. Shubert and Mr. Fields are sending it to various other cities where their attractions are now being booked.

Lowell is to be included in the itinerary of "The Midnight Sons," the engagement being scheduled for two days at the Opera House, beginning Friday, Sept. 9. The production, which travels intact, with over 100 people including the large stage crew, will be given here in its entirety, including the realistic theatre scene showing the interior of a playhouse with an audience of 500 people. Such a scene has never been duplicated. It is said to be the nearest approach to life of any stage picture ever conceived. There are thirty musical numbers and a chorus of 50.

"Girls," the sparkling, scintillating comedy from the pen of Clyde Fitch, which was presented for 225 consecutive nights at Daly's theatre, New York, will be seen at the Opera House, Tuesday, Sept. 6th.

This is said to be one of the brightest of the comedies written by Mr. Fitch. The struggle of a trio of girls who have come to New York to fight their way through life without the assistance of the sterner sex present a series of amusing incidents. One scene which is that of their retiring for the night in a room furnished with a folding bed, a sofa couch and a Morris chair, is said to be one of the most unique and realistic ever presented.

That the young ladies finally yield to the charm of the luted sex is a foregone conclusion. The entire performance sparkles with a wit and humor that held the attention of the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

THEATRE VOYONS

One of the most beautiful subjects in point of story and scenic settings yet offered the public is "The Vow" one of the numbers on the Theatre Voyons' bill today. It tells the story of Jephthah's daughter is a most pleasing way and its staging is unusually appealing. "A Modern Prodigal" is a biograph subject with a strong moral lesson finely acted and well staged. "The Emigrant" is a comedy drama that combines both a funny story and an interesting tale of life in a big city. On Sunday the usual big concert will be given at which the best of pictures and musical numbers will be given. It runs continuous from one in the afternoon till ten thirty in the evening and every minute is enjoyable.

DONATED BRONZE TABLET PASADENA, Cal., Sept. 2.—Professor Pickering of Harvard university surprised the scientists attending the international astronomical convention here today by donating a bronze tablet commemorating the establishment of the first solar observatory. This pioneer observatory was founded on Harvard peak, one of the peaks of Mount Wilson, 21 years ago, and Prof. William Pickering of Harvard was then in charge.

Prof. Charles F. Abbott of the Smithsonian astro-physical laboratory, in Washington, read a paper giving the results of observations made by him with the pyrohelionometer, an instrument that notes the variation of heat in the sun's rays and surface. Professor Abbott said he believed the instrument would become commercially important through its availability in determining the effect of such variations upon the atmosphere of the earth and on the products of the soil.

Professor Newell of the university observatory, Cambridge, England, commented the work accomplished by Dr. George F. Hale of Carnegie solar observatory, Mount Wilson. His discovery that the sunspots were vortical and of electricity and that the cyclones which whirl from left to right were positive in character, and those revolving the reverse direction were negative had completely revolutionized the study of solar spots, said Professor Newell.

LEFT $100,000 ESTATE WORCESTER, Sept. 2.—The will of George Mixer of Boston, who left an estate valued at from $100,000 to $500,000, was filed for probate here yesterday.

Mr. Mixer was owner of the famous Mixer farm in Hardwick, and one of the finest herds of blue-blooded Guernsey cows in the country is at the farm. The chief beneficiaries under the will are Dr. Samuel J. Mixer of Boston, a brother, and a sister, Mary A. Mixer of Hardwick.

A bequest of $1000 is left to a clerk, Webster Spooner, and another of $5000 to Harrison Spooner. Dr. Mixer is named as executor.

DIV. I, A. O. H.

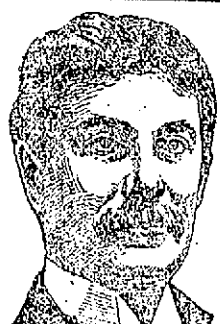

IS WELL PLEASED WITH SUCCESS OF CONVENTION

A well attended meeting of Division I, A. O. H. was held last night in Hibernian hall. President McMillan in the chair. The president gave a long and interesting talk on the excellent showing made by the members of the division and thanked them for their co-operation during the convention. Remarks were also made by John McLaughlin and Daniel E. Hogan. The members are all delighted at the success of the big convention.

PLAYERS DRAFTED

Major Leagues Take 115 Players From the Minors

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 2.—One hundred and fifteen minor league players were drafted by the 16 clubs of the two major leagues when the national baseball commission met here yesterday. Of these, the national league secured 48, while the American league got only 48.

The Brooklyn National league led with 15 players; the New York Nationals were the next with 13 players. Philadelphia Nationals had 12 and Chicago Nationals 11 players. The Chicago Americans secured 10. The others ranged downward to a single player by Detroit and this one is under investigation, so that Detroit may come out empty handed in the drafts. A little less than $125,000 was deposited with Secretary Bruce of the commission to cover the drafts.

Before the opening of the drafts, the drawing of the lots and the awarding of the players, the commission held a long session in which they placed a lien upon the contemplated series between two all-star teams from the American and the National leagues, scheduled to make a tour of the country after the world's championship series was over. No specific reasons for the ban were given except that it would interfere greatly with the world's series.

All doubt that the world's series would take place was banished when the commission notified President Thomas Lynch of the National league to arrange his schedule in such a way as to make the world's series possible as early as possible.

Other decisions were—Player Fletcher was awarded to Brooklyn; Player Cookley was allowed to play with Elmira until his case was decided; Player Yates was declared free agent, but his claim against the St. Louis Nationals was disallowed.

The list of players drafted and secured by major league clubs includes:

National league: By Boston—From St. Paul, Josh Clark; from Baltimore, Goode; from Birmingham, Elliott; from Knoxville, Spratt.

By Cincinnati—From Northampton, Butler.

By New York—From Toronto, Rudolph.

By Brooklyn—From Jersey City, Manser; from Newark, Zimmerman; from New Haven, Resig.

By Philadelphia—From Syracuse, Alexander.

American league: By Boston—From Oakland, Thomas;

from Omaha, Rigger; from Duluth, G. A. Anderson; from Fall River, Bedient; from Spokane, Killian; from Columbus, Ga., McLeod; from Albany, O'Rourke.

By New York—From Rochester, Beherer.

By Philadelphia—From Worcester, Callamore.

By Detroit—From Regina, Skeels (subject to investigation).

The draft by the Boston Americans of McTigue from New Bedford was set aside on account of his having been previously purchased under an approved agreement filed with the national commission.

Among the drafts on account of number were: From St. Paul, Josh Clark, by Boston Nationals. Decided that Clark was found to draft.

From Minneapolis, Fene; by Boston and Pittsburgh Nationals; Cravath by Detroit; Boston and New York Americans; Owens by Boston Nationals.

From Indianapolis—Jard Grove by Chicago Americans and New York and Boston national; George by Detroit, St. Louis, Boston and Washington Americans and Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Chicago and St. Louis National. Decided George was subject to draft.

From Louisville—Myers by St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago and Philadelphia Americans and Chicago Nationals. Decided that Myers was subject to draft.

From Toronto—Rudolph by Detroit Americans, New York, Brooklyn and Cincinnati Nationals; Townsend by Boston and Cleveland Americans; Vaughan, by Washington. Decided that Rudolph was subject to draft.

From Jersey City—Cannitz by Pittsburgh; Manzur by Brooklyn. Decided that Manzur was subject to draft.

From Rochester—Moeller by Philadelphia and Chicago nationals; McConnell by Boston Nationals and Chicago Americans; Decker by Brooklyn and St. Louis Nationals and St. Louis Boston, New York and Detroit Americans. Decided that Beecher was subject to draft.

From Newark—Zimmerman by New York and Brooklyn Nationals and New York Americans; Louden by Cincinnati. Decided that Zimmerman was subject to draft.

From Baltimore—Maroney by Philadelphia Americans; Walsh by Cincinnati; Goode by Boston and Brooklyn Nationals; Murray by Washington and Donnelly by Cleveland. Decided that Goode was subject to draft.

From San Francisco—Henley by New York, Boston, Pittsburgh and

Brooklyn Nationals and Washington; Stewart by Boston Americans; Bodie by Detroit, Chicago, New York and St. Louis Americans and Boston, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn Nationals. Decided that Bodie was subject to draft.

From Oakland—Thomas by Boston Americans. Decided that Thomas was subject to draft.

From Los Angeles—Hallman by St. Louis; Boston and Detroit Americans. Decided that Hallman was subject to draft.

From Denver—Oranston by Boston Nationals.

From Omaha—Rigger by Boston Americans. Decided Rigger was subject to draft.

From Memphis—Crandall by Boston Nationals.

From New Orleans—Manush by New York, Brooklyn Nationals, St. Louis, Boston, Cleveland, New York and Detroit Americans. Decided that Manush was subject to draft.

The system of drafting by lot was used in all of these cases.

MINERS APPEAL

To Ask Roosevelt to Aid Them

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—The legal and industrial entanglement of the miners and operators in the Irwin and Westmoreland fields will be submitted to Theodore Roosevelt when he visits this city on Sept. 10.

This was announced by District President Frank Feehan of the United mine workers of America yesterday after he had been arrested with five other local officers in connection with the actions brought Wednesday in the county courts against 87 miners and officials by seven operating companies in the affected districts. Those arrested are under $2100 bonds.

Out of the 400 workmen in the mines of the Westmoreland coal company, one of the plaintiffs, 355 left work yesterday when they learned of the suits being brought. For several weeks this mine has been running at full capacity.

In a statement made yesterday Richard B. Scandrett, counsel for the plaintiff companies, announced that the actions were not to be construed as attacks upon the right of workmen to organize, but "we charge that operators in the Pittsburgh district have contributed support to the maintenance of the strike and paid to have organizers in the field, that the strike might be prolonged."

Other suits will be brought against certain operators, according to Scandrett, that will reveal a sensational plot.

The union officials arrested are District President Feehan, Vice President V. Blumer, Secretary-Treasurer T. Donovan, Michael Halop, district manager, and George Guzzi and John Barfolds, district organizers.

Attorneys for the coal operators who have filed the suits charging conspiracy in preaching sedition against the laws of the state and nation yesterday declared that these suits are the first of their kind to be filed in the United States.

BOXING GOSSIP

In boxing Sam Langford and Joe Jeannette for their next meeting Tuesday evening the management of the Army club, Boston, has made a ten strike for next to Jack Johnson himself no boxer is more prominently before the public today than Sam Langford, the man whom hundreds of this vicinity believe can take the championship from Johnson. The fight fans will be given an excellent opportunity to get a line on Langford next Tuesday night when he meets his old rival Jeannette, who is one of the cleverest colored men who ever donned a mitt.

Local lovers of the game will be surprised to learn that once long ago Sam Langford fought a six round draw with Billy Chisholm of this city who has been long since out of the game. The bout took place way back in 1903 when Sam was not the national character in the athletic world that he is today. In those days he was going against Palsey Sweeney, Joe Reed and other well known boxers of these parts, most of whom are now retired. Every fan who ever witnessed the bout between Langford and Jeannette in Lawrence in 1907 will recall one of the best scraps ever witnessed in that city. They went 12 hot rounds to a draw at that time.

The year previous Langford got the decision over Jeannette in 15 rounds at Chelsea. Since the Lawrence meeting they have boxed a 12 round draw in Boston and six rounds, no decision in New York, so that the question of supremacy is yet to be decided, and next Tuesday evening in all probability will tell the tale. In the event of Langford showing up well against Jeannette his manager will proceed to go after Johnson.

Alec MacLean, says the Post, has taken the management of Joe Thomas, the former Californian boxer, who is now a resident of Lowell. MacLean is out with a challenge to the winner of the Bill McKinnon-Frank Mantell contest, which will be decided at Lake Massabesic, Manchester, N. H. Labor day afternoon. This bout is announced to be for the middleweight championship of New England, but MacLean says that as Thomas is now a resident of Lowell he has something to say about it. The McKinnon-Mantell bout looks like one of the best ever billed at Manchester.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Mike "Twin" Sullivan of Boston and Paddy Lavine of Buffalo boxed ten fast rounds here last night. There was no decision, both men being on their feet at the end of the bout. Sullivan scored a knockout near the end of the first round, Lavine lying on the mat for a count of eight when the gong sounded. Sullivan tried hard for a knockout in the tenth but failed.

PUGILIST'S ARM BROKEN

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—Billy Allen of Ottawa outclassed De La Gas of New Bedford, Mass., in their fight here last night. The latter's right arm was broken in the fourth round, leaving him practically helpless.

AFTER LAWRENCE

Tom Dowd Wants to Purchase Franchise

LAWRENCE, Sept. 2.—Thomas J. Dowd, who is managing the New Bedford club in the New England league this season, is a bidder for the Lawrence franchise, which, it is understood, will be placed upon the market at the club's annual meeting in October. Dowd has had marked success with the New Bedford club this season and is now reasonably sure of capturing the league pennant after Worcester's four consecutive wins of the flag. He is, however, anxious to become the owner of the club and believes Lawrence offers an excellent field.

FRED TENNEY

MAY BECOME PERMANENT COACH AT HARVARD

Fred Tenney's future seems to be assured. The famous major league veteran, who has been one of the big names in baseball, since his college days at Brown university, will, it is stated on good authority, fit into Harvard's coaching system, rounding out an expert quartet of highly paid athletic instructors—Haughton in football, Wray in crew, Donovan in track, and Tenney in baseball.

Tenney declines to be interviewed, and it is not known that a contract has as yet been signed. But the men high up in Harvard's baseball council have been sounding, and they appear to be heartily in favor of installing Tenney as baseball coach permanently.

The sun of victory has dispelled the mist of prejudice against professional coaches at Cambridge. It is recognized that a regular coach, who knows his duties and takes them seriously, will best meet the student demand, which is for efficiency and up-to-date methods. The students want to play, not as duffers, but as expressing sound training.

It is a fine opening for Tenney, as all his interests lie in the vicinity of Boston. He would never be satisfied to live anywhere else.

Tenney is a highly intelligent and sportsmanlike individual. No fears are entertained among Harvard men that his influence will increase the tendency to adopt professional baseball traditions contrary to the spirit of fair play.

LES MISERABLES ALLEYS OPEN

Les Misérables bowling alleys in East Merrimack street which for more than twenty years has been the mecca of the leading bowlers of this city and surrounding towns, will open for the season on Saturday, Sept. 3.

The name "Les Misérables" signifies a great deal as there has been more fame and records made on those alleys than on any other in New England. Years ago when the Les Misérables team was in its prime it made its home at these alleys and many competitive events were pulled off and prizes awarded.

The champion prize of the state league bowlers was fought for many a year on these alleys and the fame which the alleys achieved through the many records made on its floors has won it an estimable place in the bowling alleys of the state.

During the lay-off season Manager

Thomas M. Welch has had the entire place repainted and the alleys replaced so that at this time the alleys are as beautiful as the first year they were opened.

Commencing with the opening day Manager, Welch will receive bookings for the private alleys for the entire season. Several local clubs have already applied for evenings and so as to treat all fairly, he desires all societies having any idea of hiring the alleys for contests to apply at once so that he can arrange a schedule of open nights for the accommodation of the parties which will be formed later in the season. He also has private alleys for ladies and private parties where they can enjoy bowling. For datings at these alleys, call or order by mail or telephone.

Collector Edwin U. Curtis appeared surprised when asked if it were true that there was to be a probe of the customs service in Boston. He said he had not heard of any and did not expect Capt. Armstrong to return with the eight special treasury agents.

Survivor Jeremiah J. McCarthy also admitted ignorance of the examination at this time. He said he knew there was to be one, but thought it would come later.

There were rumors about the custom house that there has been a quiet examination of accounts going on unknown to officials or clerks, but little credence was placed in these rumors.

During the past few months Captain Armstrong and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury James Freeman Curtis have been in town and together have visited the Tremont street custom house. No significance is attached to the fact that they went to the building together.

NO CANDIDATE NAMED

ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 2.—The Sixth District Republican convention met here yesterday and adjourned without making a nomination after adopting resolutions to the Taft administration and the state party organization.

Thomas Lee Moore, former United States attorney for the western district, declined a nomination for congress, Carter C. Lass, of Lynchburg, the present incumbent, is the democratic candidate.

STRENUOUS EFFORTS BEING MADE TO BRING FAMOUS WRESTLERS TOGETHER AGAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Promoters of wrestling here are straining every effort to bring Frank Gotch, the world's champion and George Hackenschmidt, "the Russian lion," together in a finish bout to be held in this city before the holidays not in. Hackenschmidt announced recently that he intended to visit this country shortly to seek a return match with the champion. "The Russian lion" expected to meet Gotch in a return match in Australia last spring, but the champion declared the contest off. Hack has come to the belief that there is no prospect of a return match unless he comes to America again. The former champion claims he is in better condition than ever and is confident that he can wipe out that defeat handed to him by Gotch here in 1908. Gotch announced the other day that he was tired of the wrestling game and would in the future devote his time to farming in Humboldt, Ia. The promoters here say that the champion is not sincere in his intention and will consent to another match with Hackenschmidt. The pair met in this city in April, 1908. After a grueling contest, with neither man gaining a fall in one hour and forty-five minutes, Hackenschmidt quit. Since then "the Russian lion" has toured Europe and Australia, defeating all comers.

Bright, Sears & Co. BANKERS AND BROKERS Wyman's Exchange SECOND FLOOR

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Members of the Hamilton club are making most active preparations for the entertainment of former President Roosevelt when he is the guest of the club at a banquet to be given in the Congress hotel Sept. 8. The club's stuffed elephant has been especially groomed for the occasion and will occupy a prominent position where the colonel may view it. This arrangement has been made, it is said, that the guest of the club may not digress too far from the topics that interest the O. O. P. Judge Charles P. Fishback will preside at the banquet as toastmaster, and George Dixon and Guy Guernsey will be his assistants.

ENVOY OF POPE

Was Given Great Welcome in Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli, envoy extraordinary of Pope Pius X to the 25th International Eucharistic congress, which will meet at Montreal on Sept. 6, for a session of five days, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon on the steamer Empress of Ireland.

Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, Fr. Vaughan, the English Jesuit, and many bishops and priests from France, England, Ireland, Scotland and Belgium traveled with the papal legate. Quebec gave the envoys a royal welcome, more than 10,000 persons assembling on the terrace of the Chateau Frontenac. The Canadian government was represented by Sir Charles Murphy, secretary of state, who welcomed the cardinal upon landing in the name of Canada. The formal reception took place on Frontenac terrace, directly in front of the statue of Champlain.

French Canadians who had journeyed from the interior towns and villages were especially enthusiastic and at times they interrupted the legate's brief address with shouts of "Long live the pope!"

Cardinal Vannutelli spoke in French, saying that though he was almost overpowered by the tenderness of the reception, he knew the people of Quebec welcomed him, not because of himself, but because he came to them, as the representative of "Christ's vicar, Pope Pius X."

After the reception the two cardinals went to the basilica of Notre Dame de Quebec, where, in the presence of a

THE FINAL TEST

Of Torpedo Boat Destroyer Pauling

BATH, Me., Sept. 2.—The torpedo boat destroyer Pauling's ability to exceed her contract speed of 29½ knots was demonstrated today when she was given her final test of her official acceptance trials. She was taken down the Kennebec river at 8:15 a. m. after arriving aboard the trial board which arrived from Washington on the morning train and when off Segun light began her four-hour run at the highest speed attainable. She was not expected to return before 2:30 p. m. The trial board was the same that officiated at the Pauling's previous trials. It was headed by Admiral Chauncey Thomas as president. On the same trial the Pauling's sister ships, Flusser and Reid, a year ago made 30.38 and 31.86 knots respectively. They are coal-burning craft and were required to make 28 knots while the Pauling is an oil burner.

SHOE STRIKERS

ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF PICKETING

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 2.—Costas Salvanes, James Brown, Garabed Montanian and Vahan Alexabian, two Greeks and two Armenians, were arrested last evening while on picket duty at the Estabrook Anderson shoe factory. The four men are among those who struck for higher wages at the factory several days ago.

They were charged with trespassing on Boston & Maine property, as it is claimed they spent considerable time on railroad tracks near the factory. The case of James Salvanes, another striker arrested for assault, was continued in court today and will be heard tomorrow.

THE CHOAETE PETITION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 2.—George W. Chamie, who presented a petition at a meeting of the American Bar association in this city Wednesday, said to contain charges against Joseph H. Choate of New York, yesterday asked leave to withdraw the petition following the reading of resolutions adopted by the Chattanooga Bar association expressing regret at the alleged attack on Mr. Choate by a member of the local association. In an address by E. A. Farrar of New Orleans, the new president of the association, severely arraigned former President Roosevelt for his policy of nationalism. He declared that the policies enunciated by Colonel Roosevelt in his Kansas City speech Wednesday portend danger to the nation.

THE ELKS' OUTING

Basket Picnic at Canobie Lake Yesterday

Despite the inclemency of the weather a fair sized gathering attended the basket picnic of Lowell lodge of Elks at Canobie lake yesterday and a good time was enjoyed by all who attended. A special car at 1:15 took many of the party to the park. Owing to the weather the ball game was omitted. The crowd gathered in one of the pavilions for lunch and during the afternoon the different attractions of the park were enjoyed.

SURPRISE PARTY

AND PRESENTATION TO WILLIAM H. JOHNSON

A surprise party was held last night at the home of Mrs. Parker, at 936 Lakeview avenue in honor of Wm. H. Johnson, who is about to start on a long journey. During the course of the evening Mr. Johnson was presented a traveling bag the presentation speech being made by Mr. William P. Barrett. Songs were sung, games enjoyed and refreshments were served. The older members of the party played whist, and Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus W. Johnson were declared the winners of the first prize, while Mr. and Mrs. Younger took the bulky prize. The party broke up at a late hour.

TENNIS CHAMPION

WILL NOT BE ON THE AMERICAN TEAM

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The American lawn tennis champion, William A. Larned, will not be on the American team which will challenge for the Dwight F. Davis international challenge cup, now held in Australia. His father, who is past seventy, does not wish so long a separation as would be necessary. Such a decision has been feared, but the international committee of the national association was not definitely notified until yesterday. England wishes to decide the preliminary matches in this country and it was hoped that it would be possible to catch the British association last night that their four representatives would sail at once; but difficulty in selecting a court arose and the matter went over again.

O. M. I. CADETS

TO HOLD FIELD DAY AND SHAM BATTLE

The field day and sham battle of the O. M. I. Cadets will be held the latter part of this month. The cadets will meet at their armory at 7:30 this evening to make arrangements for the big to return before 2:30 p. m. The trial board

Eyes Examined Free

If you go on allowing your eyes to blur, smart, burn, water and inflame, you must take the consequences. These symptoms are nature's signals of distress, and you disregard them at your peril. It is you who are to blame. It is you who must suffer the consequences. Your eyes have asked for help many times and been denied. They have worked patiently for you since childhood and in return you have abused them. Now it is "up to you." Perhaps the trouble can be corrected now with right glasses. Tomorrow or next week the mischief may be done and I would have to say to you "Too late." Will you delay longer or will you see me this very day?

RECORDER GOFF'S DECISION

Recorder Goff of New York hit the striking cloak makers hard last Saturday when he decided that a strike which demands the closed shop is a conspiracy in restraint of trade. He quoted a decision of the court of appeals in New York in support of his decision, but another appeal will be taken so that this specific point will be passed upon. The appellate court had decided that it was a conspiracy for employers to force their workmen to join a certain union. Conversely the recorder reasoned that it would be a conspiracy for labor unions to compel any employer to hire none but union men. Should the decision be sustained it will have a far-reaching effect, although it will not compel any man to work where he does not want to work nor any employer to hire any workman he does not want.

The unions have employed ex-Judge Parker to fight this battle for them, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

THE PLAYGROUND FETE

For real benefit and interest, not only to children but to parents, nothing ever produced in this city could compare with the playground fete on the South common Tuesday afternoon.

Whatever is calculated to benefit the children interests the parents, and this alone can explain the presence of about five thousand children and perhaps as many adults, most of them parents of the children in attendance. Never have we seen such a large number of children so deeply interested as were those who witnessed the exercises by the girls. The program as carried out was a revelation to most of those present in the possibilities of supervised play.

"All this costs money," say the penurious citizens. Certainly it costs something, but a few of the good women of Lowell made this start possible without cost to the city. They have demonstrated the benefits of supervised play as carried out in Springfield and other cities, and the results are so novel, so fascinating and so substantial that if it costs $5000 or even more the city should provide the amount.

We would suggest to the park board that a repetition of the exercises on a Saturday afternoon would give all who wish an opportunity to witness the demonstration and thus to become interested in a movement that is new to Lowell.

Miss Moran, the instructress of the girls, is certainly a very able girl. She comes from Springfield while Mr. Wilton, the male supervisor, is also deserving of much praise for his work.

Altogether the results of the trial of supervised play, so far as carried out this summer, have been most successful, and the hope of those who witnessed the exhibition of yesterday is that supervised play may become a permanent feature of our playgrounds in the future.

WHAT'S THE OBJECT OF THE ROOSEVELT PLATFORM?

It seems that Roosevelt has usurped the entire democratic platform and appropriated some of the worst things which President Gompers ever said about the decisions of the supreme court. Before his tour closes he will probably throw out a sop to the Socialists. Yet some people say that Roosevelt is not looking for a renomination in 1912.

He has made up his mind that the country would go to smash without his guidance and direction. While Roosevelt can talk he will not subside into what Cleveland used to term innocuous desuetude.

In spite of his bad taste in protruding himself into the limelight at this time, Col. Roosevelt has some very fine tenets in his political creed. Yet there is none that can be termed original with himself. Among the reforms he favors are the enactment of a workmen's compensation act for which The Sun has been appealing for some time and the holding the directors of every corporation liable for violations of the law by that corporation. This has been favored by The Sun, and now these reforms are very necessary, but if Col. Roosevelt intimates that they will be favored or adopted by the republican party he is misleading the public. He is not touching some of the worst abuses of the hour, abuses which are glossed over by the republican party. This declaration of his political creed by Col. Roosevelt is of no interest to the country and certainly of no benefit, but it cannot be made without an object.

What is the object?

Is it to put him in line for the nomination in 1912 or to strengthen his influence as boss over the political workings in New York? Time will tell. One thing, however, is important to remember in reference to these speeches by Col. Roosevelt. They are the utterances of a private citizen, not of the president of the United States, nor of the republican party.

While Roosevelt goes on throwing dust in the eyes of the people, the republican party maintains its alliance with the trusts which oppress the people and is preparing to defend the present tariff law against all attacks.

If Roosevelt were honest in his speeches, he would point out wherein the tariff law is wrong, wherein the people suffer by republican rule and suggest a remedy. But instead of doing so he is diverting attention to himself as the possible deliverer from all the governmental evils of which the people complain at the present time.

Roosevelt may preach a new nationalism, he may lay down political principles fit for the gods but if he does not take steps to have them adopted by his party or to correct the admitted abuses of that party, then he is untrue to his principles, and it becomes difficult to explain his purpose. He justly puts human well and human life ahead of dividends and says we must be ready to face temporary disaster in order to secure the necessary reforms, holding still that "ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our national life brings us nothing better than swollen fortunes for the few and the triumph in both politics and business of a sordid materialism." The man who utters this sentiment should be in the democratic party, but Col. Roosevelt's inconsistency lies in the fact that while preaching democratic doctrine he is at the same time upholding the republican party in the application of doctrine diametrically opposite to those he proclaims as his own.

HOCK! DER KAISER!

The Kaiser from his slumbers rose; Then, after dumb-bell capers And frugal feed, Began to read The various morning papers. There wasn't much to fret his brain— The world's affairs were steady— When, oh, his eyes Met with surprise The latest news of Teddy!

The Kaiser read; his look grew tense. For stronger "specs" he craves. His breath's a hiss, He cries "Was iss?" As he absorbs the speeches. Those speeches interspersed with "I." Those speeches egotistic! He gives a roar, And to the door He darts with manneristic.

"Ho, pen und ink!" aloud he shrieks; The writing tools he snatches; He starts to write, His eyes shine bright As feverish words he scratches. And as he writes he mutters low: "Verr! Let der feller Tedd! Go 'head of me!" Yell, vo shall seel, I too can speak already!"

That night he spoke, and oh, his words Set all the nation crazy. And in his dreams He people's screams Fall on his listening ears. He smiles as smiles a slumbering babe. And murmurs: "O you Tedd! I bet dat you Must hump a few To beat me out already!"

Two burglars were on their trial and had engaged a smart lawyer for their defense, who, on cross-examination, one of the witnesses, said: "You say that on the night in question the moon was as bright that you could see the burglars in the room. Was your husband awake at the time?"

"Witness—I don't know."

"Was his face turned toward you or not?"

The witness answered that she did not know.

"What! You don't know? Now, come, tell me, was his face turned toward you or the wall?"

"I don't know."

"Ah, ha! I thought so" (turning to the jury); she could not see. She who identifies the prisoners could not see which way her husband's face was turned. Explain that if you can."

"Well, sir, my husband is so bald that in a dim light I can't tell his face from the back of his head."

They sailed from Boston and intend to make the voyage without help from anyone. The launch has an eight horsepower engine and can make 12 miles an hour. A sail is carried for emergency use, as well as oars, pneumatic life belts and food for a week. Both girls wore yellow oilskins, with caps to match. Miss Hogan was at the wheel and Miss Dinsmore was at the oars.

LAKE COMMERCE

MOVEMENTS PROCEEDED ON SLIGHTLY LOWER SCALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Commercial movements between domestic ports on the Great Lakes during the month of July, as reported to the Bureau of Statistics, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, proceeded on a slightly lower scale than during the preceding month. The main factor responsible for the less favorable result of the month is the restriction in the supply of vessel tonnage, which went into effect the month before. The total July shipments of the present year, 12,789,158 net tons, were, however, only 6 per cent below the record total for the preceding month, indicating a fuller utilization of the cargo space of the carriers at work and greater dispatch in docking, loading, and unloading, all of which went far to compensate for the smaller vessel tonnage available. The monthly total was about 400,000 net tons in excess of the corresponding 1909, and about 14 per cent in excess of the 1907 total.

Shipments of iron ore for the month, 6,082,001 gross tons, for the first time during the present year show a smaller total than for the corresponding month in 1909, when 6,127,661 gross tons were shipped. As compared with the total for the preceding month, a decline of 5 1/2 per cent is noted. Smaller shipments are shown for Duluth-Superior, Two Harbors and Escanaba, while the two smaller shipping ports, Ashland and Marquette, the month, owing to the heavy shipments of the preceding month, was larger than the quantity shipped; of the total received, 6,066,083 gross tons are credited to Lake Erie ports and 1,198,760 gross tons to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments of iron ore to the end of the month aggregated 12,304,050 gross tons, compared with 15,280,107 gross tons shipped during the same period in 1909 and 17,335,888 gross tons shipped in 1907. There is little doubt that barring unexpected developments the shipments for the present year will come near, if not exceed a total of 45 million tons.

The soft coal shipments for the month, 2,735,263 net tons, show a similar decline from the higher figures recorded for the preceding month, although comparing most favorably with the July figures for 1909, 2,162,087 net tons, and those for 1908, 2,615,523 net tons. About 30 per cent of the total shipments proceeded from Toledo, Ashland, Cleveland and Lorain. About 57 per cent of the 2,813,315 net tons of soft coal received during the month is allotted to Lake Superior ports and about 22 per cent to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments to the end of the month, 8,648,440 net tons, were almost 10 per cent larger than in 1907. Ohio and Pennsylvania coal apparently taking the place of the deficient supply of coal from the adjacent fields brought by rail to the Lake Superior ports and about 30 per cent to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments to the end of the month, 8,648,440 net tons, were almost 10 per cent larger than in 1907. Ohio and Pennsylvania coal apparently taking the place of the deficient supply of coal from the adjacent fields brought by rail to the Lake Superior and Michigan ports. The July shipments of hard coal, 538,782 net tons, were also below the June shipments. The coal shipments just stated are exclusive of 255,524 net tons of bunker coal supplied during the month to vessels in the domestic trade, and of 41,222 net tons to vessels in the foreign trade.

How to Cure Eczema

A NEW IDEA THAT UPSETS THE OLD METHOD

The old method of treating eczema and similar skin diseases as blood disorders is being rapidly superseded by the new compound called Cadum. This remedy is applied direct to the affected parts, thus excluding the air and starting the healing process at once. The itching ceases the moment Cadum is applied, and the most stubborn cases yield to its wonderful curative powers in a remarkably short time. Other skin troubles, such as salt rheum, (psoriasis), acne, herpes, tetter, itching piles, blackheads, pimples, eruptions, etc., are also cured quickly by Cadum, which is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box.

Lumber shipments during the month, 141,260 M feet, while sharing in the general decline, show a fairly heavy volume when compared with the corresponding figures of 1909 and 1908, 146,860 and 116,580 M feet respectively. The seven months' shipments, 602,713 M feet, exceeded the corresponding 1909 figures by over 10 per cent.

The grain and faxseed shipments during the month, 5,236,820 bushels, while in excess of the corresponding 1909 total of 8,276,886 bushels, were, however, only one-half the size of the 1907 shipments of 19,536,849 bushels. The season shipments to the end of July, 46,116,376 bushels, were about 37 per cent below the corresponding shipments in 1907. The season shipments of wheat, 11,016,728 bushels, show a decline of 43 per cent since 1907; the season shipment of corn, 16,839,807 bushels, show a decline of almost 39 per cent; the season shipments of oats, 11,749,820 bushels, declined about 20 per cent, while those of flaxseed, 511,687 bushels, constituted less than one-tenth of the volume shipped in 1907.

July shipments of pig iron, 21,331 gross tons, were larger, and those of iron manufactures, 67,851 net tons, smaller than during the preceding month. Shipments of copper for the month, 15,589 net tons, and salt, 57,611 net tons, share in the general decrease since last month. The movement of unclassified, including package freight, for the month, 938,719 net tons, likewise shares in the general decline, the monthly total falling below the corresponding 1908 total of 1,045,076 net tons.

The Sault Ste. Marie canal authorities report a slight increase of traffic since June from 8,830,872 net tons to 9,975,173 net tons, the latter figure representing the largest monthly freight tonnage recorded in the history of the "Soo" canals. The number of vessel passages from July is stated as 2242, representing a vessel tonnage of 7,876,468 net tons register, compared with 2089 passages of 7,994,314 net tons for the preceding month. It is thus seen that the average size of the vessel loaded through the canals in July was 2430 net tons against 2570 the month before.

SUFFRAGISTS POLITICIANS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2.—Are the suffragists politicians working for a political end?

"They are," says Bernard N. Baker, president of the National Conservation congress, which meets in St. Paul on Sept. 5 to 9.

"Not a bit of it," declare the women. With the convention only a few days off, this is the way the controversy between the suffragists who want to be represented on the program and the officers of the congress stand. President Baker has said that the suffragists will not be allowed representation in the congress and so far as the officers who are in St. Paul know he has not changed his mind.

It is the aim of the officers to keep politics out of the proceedings if possible. They recognize that this will be a difficult task. It is in fact the aim of the persons prominently connected with this congress to at least lay the foundation of the St. Paul convention for what will be America's largest and most effective economic association, one in which the membership will be as wide as the United States. It will be larger than any organization of labor, more concentrated in its operative capacity than a federation of miners, or an association of business interests, and more efficient in procuring desirable legislation even than a political party. It will be greater than these, according to antipathons, because it will contain the bulk of the men and women interested in the various activities by which life is sustained.

People from every nook and corner of the United States are coming to the St. Paul convention. For every 4000 persons there will be one representative in the congress. Every phase of the conservation question will be represented on the list of delegates. Some of those coming to St. Paul are affected by the ravages of destructive insects. Some are made poorer by the worst condition of the soil on which they live. There are those who would like to prevent the useless slaughter of game. Some are unable to provide for the shelter they need because of the high prices of lumber, made high through forest fires and the waste in cutting timber. Many would enjoy greater luxuries if the streams, once navigable, could now carry their commerce. Then there are those who would wage a more strenuous war on preventable diseases, like tuberculosis and typhoid.

Gifford Pinchot, who is president of the National Conservation association, according to his friends, would be the logical head of such an organization. The National Conservation association has been striving to further all legislation wisely designed to diminish sickness, prevent accident and increase the welfare of American life, believing that human efficiency, health and happiness are natural resources quite as important as forests, waters, lands and minerals.

SECY. MACVEAGH'S RULING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Secretary MacVeagh's ruling on the term "commercial paper" in the treasury department's interpretation of the emergency currency law, became known in its full import here yesterday.

Business men and banks throughout the country have been anxiously waiting for it, feeling that an adverse ruling would bar effective currency associations. The way now is made clear for the banks of the United States to put into circulation $500,000,000 in emergency money at the first sign of a financial stringency.

The law provides that commercial paper upon which emergency currency may be issued, shall include only notes representing actual commercial transactions which shall bear the names of at least two responsible persons and have not more than four months to run. Many banks hold the notes of reputable individuals and corporations which have been bought from note brokers. Those notes bear only the names of the makers.

SUFFRAGETTES PROTEST

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Four Baltimore suffragettes descended on the women's night court last night and upbraided Magistrate McAdoo for permitting convicted women of the street to be measured and examined. Their protest that such regulations took away the brightness of the sex. The magistrate responded courteously that he had not made the law.

"But you're a party to it," insisted Mrs. Hooker. The magistrate waived the question and retired.

BANDIT KILLED

Was Struck By Rock Thrown By Engineer Whom He Had Shot—Two Young Men Held On Suspicion

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 2.—In a desperate attempt to hold up the west bound Colorado Midland train No. 3, four miles west of Divide, early this morning, an unknown bandit, was instantly killed by a rock thrown by Engineer Stewart after he had shot the bandit in the leg. Stirling and Chas. Martin, two young men who were found near the scene of the holdup, are held for investigation as to their complicity in the robbery. Stirling Martin was slightly wounded in the head by a bullet.

one and rushed to the head of the train, firing as they came. Stewart was given immediate medical attention by physicians who were on board the train and was brought to Colorado Springs. His condition is not serious.

Shortly after the hold-up, Sheriff Publ and a posse scoured the country near the scene of the attempted holdup and discovered the Martin brothers' hiding in the brush.

Sterling Martin was dazed by a bullet wound in the head. He is out on parole from the state reformatory. The Martins claim they were riding the blind baggage and were heading their way to Grand Junction. They say Stirling was struck by a stray bullet from the bandit's gun. They are held for investigation.

GETS HER GEMS

WOMAN WAS ABLE TO PROVE AMERICAN PURCHASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Mrs. I. Reynolds Adriance of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., simplified the smuggling charges against her yesterday afternoon by proving to the satisfaction of the customs authorities that an assortment of jewelry, roughly valued at $100,000, which was seized when she arrived here last Sunday, was not purchased abroad. It was accordingly released, as was a $3000 necklace taken from her daughter Marion.

The lot released does not include, however, the $6000 pearl necklace which Mrs. Adriance had concealed in her hat. She has not denied that she bought the necklace abroad and she is still under $7500 bail pending an examination on a charge of smuggling it into the United States.

Two sealed indictments were returned by the federal grand jury last evening, just after C. C. Walls, a special treasury agent, had appeared as a witness. It was Walls who made the Adriance seizure. The contents of the indictments could not be learned.

Mrs. Adriance appeared at the custom house on notice that she would be given opportunity to prove that the jewelry was purchased in this country and therefore was not subject to duty. The hearing was conducted by Gen. Nelson H. Henry, surveyor of the port.

HUNT RESTILLI

Thought to be in Sanford, Me.

SANFORD, Me., Sept. 2.—When it comes to recognizing men for whom officers are searching men of this village are in the van. Sunday they were looking for Restilli here.

Yesterday, Frank Sherburne started another man hunt which was kept up all day. Sherburne thought he recognized a shabbily dressed, poorly shod man, who accosted him as Nicholas Capasalis, wanted in Somersworth, N. H., on the charge of murdering his aunt.

Sherburne saw the man go into the woods after getting directions to Biddeford, and then he notified the police. Sheriff S. I. Smith of Dover, N. H., and a detective, as well as several deputy sheriffs and a posse of citizens went hunting for the suspect.

BIG SUBWAY

TRI-BOROUGH LINE WILL COST ABOUT $125,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Preparatory to relieving the daily increasing congestion on present transit lines in Greater New York, bids for new subways with 41 miles of track were advertised for yesterday by the public service commission.

The entire work will cost approximately $125,000,000, and will include new underground connections in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, grouped under the general title of the tri-borough subway. Bids must be submitted before Oct. 28.

The advertisement specifies two plans of construction, one entirely by private capital, the other with city money. If the latter is adopted the work will be done piecemeal, as only $50,000,000 in municipal funds is available.

PROF. A. R. WELLS

Strongly Denounced School Secret Societies

oroughly substantiated as it is, would be enough to condemn them.

"But, further, many of my correspondents mention the destruction of school spirit that secret societies bring about.

"There accompanies this evil another mischievous tendency of secret societies, which also is noted by a large number of my correspondents, and that is the impairment of school work, the lowering of the scholarship of the members. Our college president, referring to college secret societies, tells me of cases in which the fraternity bills have cost half as much as the amount of the college bills, and have bankrupted the students, forcing them to leave college. Of course this is true of high school fraternities in a less degree; but still the tendency is continually to increase the expense of attending high school, and in this tendency fraternity plays an important part. It is a tendency to be combated by all the friends of popular education.

"Of course it goes without saying that the rivalry of secret societies and secret society politics in general are hurtful to the good feeling of the school. Jealousy is aroused, factions are formed, and, as one principal says, life long petty antagonisms are often caused. Bitter disappointments, the disorganization of classes, unseemly rivalries, partisan strife, the destruction of the unity of the school, are frequently, according to these observers, to be laid at the door of the secret society.

"In comparison with what I have mentioned, remarkably little is said in these letters about the immorality that may be fostered by secret societies in high schools. A well known college president writes: 'I have known of high school societies in which the members have contracted the habit of smoking, of card playing, and, it is said, of gambling and drinking.' A high school principal declares that smoking is almost universal in these societies, and that there is much drinking and much immoral talk. Another enumerates among the acts of these societies, 'indulgence in smoking, drinking, card-playing, profanity, and vile stories.' Says another: 'The members of unquestionably led into practices in the privacy of the society club room which they would otherwise escape.'

COMMUNICATIONS

Lowell, September 1, 1910.

To the Editor of The Sun:

Dear Sir:—

Will you kindly publish a few remarks in your valuable paper regarding some places that cannot be looked after properly by regular officers, owing to the large district they have to cover. I saw a couple of weeks ago through the petition of Messrs. Milo Clay and Robert G. Bartlett that the board of police appointed special officers for a portion of School street who were very badly needed. There is a lumber yard in that portion of the street that was continually occupied by young boys at night, insulting people passing and using bad language. As I have occasion to pass by often in that vicinity, I see there is a great change for the better.

There are other places in need of attention by the police to keep the unruly element in check. Thanking you for your space I remain

NEW AUTO LAW DISCUSSED

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Senator Allen T. Treadway, president of the Massachusetts senate and Commissioner of Highways S. W. Schimler yesterday conferred with New York state officials relative to the clause in the new Callan automobile law which has been interpreted as prohibiting owners of automobiles in other states from operating their cars in New York unless they are registered with the secretary of state. The Massachusetts authorities are desirous of establishing reciprocity relations which will permit non-resident motorists to operate their machines for a limited period without securing licenses.

SAGAMORE BEACH, Sept. 2.—A defiance of the American colleges and schools against the charge that the student bodies were irreligious and immoral and a vigorous condemnation of secret societies in high schools were the features of yesterday's session of the Sagamore beach conference on the moral and religious training of the young.

Prof. Amos R. Wells of Boston, editorial secretary of the United Society for Christian Endeavor and a well known writer on Sunday school topics, was the speaker who denounced secret societies in high schools. "We must up the sentiment of 170 letters on the subject received from college presidents, high school principals and teachers, that the secret society is an entire and lamentable failure, a menace to the welfare of the high school and of every pupil in it. It must be abolished, and it cannot be abolished unconsciously to supply must be recognized and filled with wise and loving purpose by parents and educators. Whatever organizations take its place must be democratic, open to all students that can fill the requirements. They must be open in all their details to the friendly eye and helpful companionship of the teachers. The high school secret society has no warrant for its existence in necessity or expediency, and all who love the boys and girls should unite to drive it from the earth."

Mr. Wells said that of 150 replies received from educators to his question: "Do you approve of secret societies in high schools?" all but five were either "no," "decidedly no," "by no means," "absolutely no," "not in the least," "most assuredly not," "most emphatically no," "far from it," "under no consideration," "unequivocally no," "not at all," "I thoroughly disapprove it," "I strongly disapprove," "I am totally and aggressively opposed to them."

"A common charge against the secret society in high schools—though not the charge most frequently made in these letters—is that it seriously affects the discipline of the schools, sometimes destroying respect for authority. They create, as a member of the United States Bureau of Education writes, a feeling of independence detrimental to school work. One principal speaks of 'the exaggerated self-importance' which they excite. Says the principal of the Newton high school: 'When one member of a society is disciplined the whole group often feel disciplined and sympathize with the offending pupil.' Another principal declares: 'The secret society is a hot-bed for concealing trouble for hatching plots to annoy the teachers.' Another speaks of the 'headings that take refuge within its bounds' and another calls it an 'organized mutiny against school authority.' Many of these principals cite examples of the lawlessness fostered by secret societies, their insubordination, the destruction of school discipline that results from them. This charge alone, thor-

THEY, M. C. A. FUND FAT MEN'S CLUB

Sum of $106,964.16 Received by Treasurer

F. S. PEARSON HAS PAID IN HIS $10,000

While Many Others Have Paid the Full Amount Pledged—Treasurer Whidden Urges Payment of Pledges in One Sum

The sum of $106,964.16 represents the payments of subscriptions to the Y. M. C. A. building fund up to date. In addition to this amount there is on hand $3000 received from the Dartmouth college and $768.73 income on the investments made of the money received. The $3000 received from the Dartmouth college was for certain concessions on the new site for the building.

The mortgage on the Hurd street property, $14,320 has been paid; the Locke & Canals received $25,000 for the new site. Investments in savings banks, etc., total $45,218.

Two years ago allowed on the pledge cards but Treasurer Whidden requested that the start that all who could, should pay their subscriptions in one payment rather than to allow it to drag along for the two years. Quite a number acted upon the suggestion of Mr. Whidden and at the start paid up their full subscriptions.

The following letter from Dr. F. S. Pearson of New York, the largest single contributor to the fund, is self-explanatory:

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 21.
Dear Sir: I enclose herewith check for $2500, being the final payment on account of my subscription of $10,000 to the Young Men's Christian Association building fund.

Yours truly,
F. S. Pearson.

Jacob Rogers paid his pledge of $5000 in two payments. He paid $1250 Jan. 1 and the balance July 1. The following letter accompanied his final payment:

Lowell, July 1, 1910.
Dear Mr. Whidden:
I am so glad to do anything to lighten your work that I pay in full.

Yours very truly,
Jacob Rogers.

There remains to be collected, $65,557.79.

GARDE FRONTENAC

WILL COMPETE AT MANCHESTER ON LABOR DAY

At Manchester Labor Day the great joint convention of L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique, the French American volunteer brigade of New England, the Société du Dénier de St. Pierre and the Association de la Jeunesse Catholique Franco-Américaine and a grand street parade will mark the opening. The Garde Frontenac, Garde d'Honneur, Garde des Saints-Anges and the Garde Jacques-Cartier of this city will participate in the parade. In the afternoon a military competition will take place at Vaneh park, in which the Garde Frontenac is entered.

Capt. Albert Bergeron will command the Garde Frontenac; Captain Joseph L. Lamoureux, the Garde d'Honneur; Capt. Joseph L. Pigeon, the Garde Jacques-Cartier, and Capt. Arthur Lamoureux the Garde des Saints-Anges, assisted by First Lieut. Charles Germain and Second Lieut. Eugene Ricard. Rev. Fr. Jerome Ouellette, O. M. I., director of the Garde des Saints-Anges, will accompany the boys to Manchester.

Lowell Heavyweight is on the Committee

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Four hundred tons of fat men assemble in Boston tomorrow for the annual midsummer convention of the New England Fat Men's club.

Four hundred tons is the estimate of President W. D. Quimby of the club, who does business at 75 Portland street, Boston. Vice President William T. Flanders of Branford, Conn., estimates that the total weight of the club is only 375 tons; but all the other members of the club claim that Mr. Flanders is influenced in his estimate by the paucity of his own weight. Mr. Flanders is the sylph of the organization, weighing only 215 pounds. The other members say that he feels keenly his deficiency, and wears baggy garments to hide his lack of flesh.

No so with Mr. Quimby, however. He blushing owns to 305 pounds, a weight which is regarded with envious eyes by the 215 and 220 pound youngsters who have attained to membership.

There has been for some time a feeling that Committeemen G. E. Bicknell of Lowell, who weighs 360 pounds, and C. B. Amerman of Camden, Me., who weighs 355 pounds, have not been playing fair with the rest of the organization. It is widely rumored among the club members that both of these men have intentionally added to their weight by the constant consumption of cod liver oil—a fact which, if true, tends to discredit to a certain extent an otherwise marvelous avoidance.

Treasurer J. F. Hale of Wells River, Vt., who is deeply chagrined over his pathetically small weight of 217 pounds, is credited with the statement that he wants an investigation. He says that what is fair for one is fair for another, and that he feels he could easily bring his weight from 217 pounds to 295 pounds by adopting a certain diet with which he has been experimenting on one of his draught horses. He has hitherto felt, however, that such tactics would be unfair to the struggling members of the club who cannot

AND ZEMO SOAP

AN UNUSUAL OFFER

The A. W. Dows Co. says to every person, be it man, woman or child, who has an irritated, tender or itching skin to come to our store and procure a bottle of ZEMO and a cake of ZEMO soap and if you are not entirely satisfied with results, come back and get your money. So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make you this unusual offer.

ZEMO is a clear liquid for external use that has cured so many cases of eczema, pimples, dandruff and other forms of skin eruption. ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person.

push their weight above 225 by ordinary means. He says that if it can be proved that Messrs. Bicknell and Amerman have attained their state of perfection by secret tipping on cod liver oil, he will leave no stone unturned to make their weight a mere bagatelle in comparison with the club members who use his system.

The convention which is to start tomorrow is the sixth annual meeting of the club, which numbers over 2700 in its membership.

On Saturday evening the club will attend the Castle Square theatre, the seats there being particularly solid and indestructible.

On Sunday the club as a whole will attend the services at Tremont Temple, and follow it up by seeking diversion at Revere beach. They have instructed the managers of the resorts at Revere to that effect, and strengthening props have been placed beneath the roller coasters and the other commoner forms of amusement which the members expect to patronize.

Monday morning will see the club en-marching upon the Nahant boat bound for Bass Point, where the annual athletic games are to be held.

ALL COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2.—Foreign governments are to be represented at the second National Conservation congress in St. Paul, Sept. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. The question of conservation in European countries, in Canada, in Mexico and in South America will be discussed by some of these representatives.

James Bryce, ambassador from Great Britain to the United States, has written to executive secretary Thomas R. Shipp that his government will send a representative direct from that country. Romulo Escobar, commissioner of agriculture of Mexico, is coming from that country, and Norway is to be represented by O. Skjvab, secretary of the Norwegian legation in Washington. Who will be a representative from Germany and France will be has not yet been made known to Secretary Shipp. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, will represent the Dominion.

Dr. Edwin Boone Craighead, president of Tulane university of New Orleans, has accepted an invitation to speak on "Making Our People Count." B. A. Fowler of Phoenix, Ariz., is coming to talk on "Irrigation." Mr. Fowler is president of the National irrigation congress which is soon to meet in Pueblo, Col. Murdo McKenzie of Trinidad, Col., at first wrote that he would not be able to attend, has changed his plans and will be here to lead in the discussion of the address by Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, who is to talk on "Laws That Should Be Passed."

The Federation of Women's clubs is to be represented by Mrs. Eunoms Crocker, chairman of the federation's conservation department.

"I think when it is all over, everybody will agree that the program of this congress was as near complete as it could possibly be made," said Secretary Thomas R. Shipp. "We start off the first day with Pres. Taft. On the second day we have the former president of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt. From that time onward men of distinction in the professional, commercial and political life of the country are to take part and as I have said before, I know of no subject that could bring such a representative body of men together in a convention. I am not forgetting the women by any means. The Federation of Women's clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Red Cross society and the Woman's National Rivers and Harbors congress are to be represented by women who have done as much in their field of endeavor as most of the men."

TYNGSBORO

The members of Tyngsboro grange held a pleasant outing at Willow Dale, Wednesday, with a large attendance and a fine program. Hibbard's orchestra gave a concert program from 2 to 3 and then furnished music for dancing at the Breezy Point pavilion. The principal feature of the day was the list of sports successfully carried out by Raymond W. Sherburne.

The winners were as follows:
100 yards dash for boys—First prize 20c, second prize 20c. Won by Lawrence Brown first; Charles Coburn second.

Overalls race for men—First prize 30c, second 20c. Won by D. J. Williams, second Murray Parish.

Furthermore the promoter offers $1000 additional to the man who will complete 500 miles and another $1000 to the man who will beat Dan O'Leary's record of 520 1/2

REFUSED TO MOVE

Fairweather Avenue Tenants Stick to Their Homes

While Workmen Tear Away the Roof, Windows, Doors and Finally the Inner Walls to Make Way for Keith's New Theatre

That a man's home is his castle is being demonstrated in a most interesting manner by Sanford Kattell of Fairweather avenue, where the new Keith theatre is soon to be erected, although by the time this story gets to its most distant reader there will be little left of the castle but the walls and foundation.

Kattell and his wife and a spunky little woman named Catherine Fleming have been living for the past eight years in the last building in the row of old corporation houses in Fairweather avenue, a lane that runs from Bridge street to Canal street in the rear of the tunnels building.

Since the purchase of the buildings by the Keith people the tenants have been in constant fear of being ejected. Time and again they have been told that the new owners were going to tear down the building but they never started and hence they came to regard it as a "dream." When finally the word was sent around that the building was to be torn down right away and that all must leave, everybody in the block but Kattell's family and the Fleming woman bade the old place a long farewell and folded his belongings and beat it.

Not so with Kattell, for he had heard so many fine dreams about the place that he became a resident of Missouri and they had to show him.

Last Saturday he was informed that the work of tearing down the block would begin on Monday, but the information failed to make the slightest impression on him and he pursued the even tenor of his way regardless of the consequences.

On Monday morning bright and early a gang of workmen came along and in his absence and after removing all the windows from the building barred up most of the doors and removed the steps at the front entrance so that in order to get into the building one had to go around by Canal street and get in through a rear door.

Kattell observed the work of devastation upon his return, but made nary a move toward decamping, while the Fleming woman, who occupied a room on one flight, upon seeing what was coming thanked heaven that it wasn't because I might get killed and it would be an awful thing to get killed while alone in the house."

Officer Murphy agreed with her that it would be decidedly unlucky, not to speak of being unfortunate to get killed while alone, and Mrs. Fleming assured him that if that, well, delinquent job wagon man would ever get around she would get out while yet the four walls were intact.

But Mr. Kattell? He was game to the core and he went away early this morning as he had done every morning since the work of demolition began. The reporter could not find him but it's a good bet if he doesn't return by night he'll have to get an atlas to find out just where his home once stood.

The locality, it is said, derived its name "Fairweather avenue," as a mark of distinction to former Alderman Fairweather, who while at city hall was a member of the street committee, rather than from anybody's attempt to perpetrate a joke. Whatever the weather might have been there in the day time, the police report many a rough and squally night and are duly appreciative of the fact that it has passed away for all time.

DANGEROUS FIRE

Broke Out at St. John, N. B., Today

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 2.—Several buildings just off Main street in this city were burned this afternoon and a high wind carried the flames to other structures. Starting in a livery stable, the fire destroyed that building, a carriage shop, a woodworking shop, a store and a shed. By the middle of the afternoon it was believed to be under control.

WEALTHY PEOPLE

TRAVELED IN STEERAGE OF THE LUSITANIA

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Several wealthy Americans traveled across the Atlantic ocean in the steerage of the Lusitania so anxious were they to get home. With more than nine hundred passengers in the cabins the steerage was all taken. In the steerage of the Lusitania, which came into port today, was a well known jurist and his family of six. They offered any price for steerage but could not get them. A director of a local trust company and a public service corporation also came over in the steerage.

CAR ROBBED

THIEVES WORK UNMOLESTED ON NEW HAVEN TRAIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An Adams express car was robbed and the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad Wednesday night between New York City and South Norwalk in a way that puzzled railroad detectives yesterday.

The car was one of three attached to the 9:30 local from New York. It contained express matter for South Norwalk and Danbury. Behind it was another sealed car with express matter for Bridgeport, and behind this car was a third one with Bridgeport express matter. John E. Moulthrop, the express messenger, rode in the third car. It carried a safe, in which were pouches containing money, jewelry and other valuables. Moulthrop said he heard or saw nothing to arouse his suspicions on the run from New York to South Norwalk. The robbery was discovered when the first car was out of there.

It is believed that several men were concerned in the robbery. One theory expressed by the police is that a robber concealed himself in the car before leaving New York and took on his colleagues at some way station. The loss will amount to more than $1000.

CITY SOLICITOR A LOWELL WOMAN

Submits an Opinion to the Board of Charities Was Rescued From Drowning at Revere Beach

CITY SOLICITOR DUNCAN has submitted the following opinion to the board of charities:

Board of Charities, Lowell, Mass.

Gentlemen: I have your request for an opinion as to whether you have the legal right to pay from your present appropriation the sum of $4,238.92, due from the city of Lowell to the Massachusetts Home for Feeble Minded.

Together with such request you have sent an estimate for the total amount for the year 1910 and also certain references to the charter and ordinances.

The charter amendment of 1896, section 8, provides that no sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose and that no expenditure shall be made and no liability incurred by or on behalf of the city until the city council has duly voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability.

By section 3 of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance providing for estimates for appropriations and for other purposes" it is provided that "all regular annual appropriations shall be for and only applicable to the liabilities incurred during the year in which they are made, any form of phraseology in the order, resolution or vote providing for the same, to the contrary notwithstanding."

The whole matter turns on the question as to whether, when appropriations were made for the charity department for the year 1910, a sum was appropriated to cover the bill in question and included in the total amount appropriated, which was, as I understand it, seventy-five thousand dollars. If this was done, then so much of the total appropriation could not be held to be a part of the annual appropriation for the year but should rather be considered as an appropriation to cover a particular claim. Whether the bill was considered at all by the committee on appropriations and whether any specific action was taken thereon at the beginning of the year does not appear from the data submitted.

If it was considered and provided for then it should be paid at once by your department. If not, an appropriation should be made to meet it.

Respectfully submitted,
City Solicitor.

SALEM STRIKE A LOWELL BOY JURORS DRAWN

Negotiations to End it Takes Southern Girl as His Bride At Special Meeting of the Aldermen

SALEM, Sept. 2.—Industrial peace in the local shoe manufacturing business seemed assured today, according to Business Agent Charles Stanton, the representative of the striking operators. Although negotiations for a settlement were halted yesterday they were renewed today with every prospect of success.

It was stated authoritatively today that the strikers would probably return to work next Tuesday morning. One of the conditions the manufacturers impose on their signing the new working agreement is that work be resumed before the manufacturers' signatures are affixed to the agreement. This condition is acceptable to the strikers.

There is some doubt whether work will be resumed on Tuesday at the factory of the L. G. Straw & Dunham Co., where the strike originated. It is generally understood that the Straw & Dunham shop is the only one where the operators had a grievance and that the strike in the other factories was of a sympathetic nature. The grievance at the Straw & Dunham shop has not, it is said, been adjusted yet.

Mr. John J. McSorley, a former resident of this city, was united in marriage Tuesday to Miss Leora Sims O'Neale, daughter of Capt. Richard O'Neale of Columbia, N. C. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Vincent Taylor, O. S. B., pastor of the church in Greensboro, North Carolina, which Mr. McSorley attends, and took place at the home of the bride. Owing to the recent death of the mother of the bride the ceremony was a quiet one, no invitations having been issued. The bride is a member of one of the leading families of the south and is a most beautiful woman. Mr. McSorley is a son of the late Alexander McSorley, who was a well known resident of this city. He left here several years ago to accept a position with the large commission house of Cone Co. and has met with great success in the south. He is a graduate of St. Patrick's Boys' academy and Holy Cross college. Mr. and Mrs. McSorley will make an extended honeymoon trip in the south.

MAN DROWNED

HE WAS SEIZED WITH CRAMPS AT OLD ORCHARD

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Sept. 2.—Seized with cramps while bathing at Old Orchard, where he was passing his vacation, Charles McLaughlin, aged 24, a salesman for a rubber company in New York city, was drowned this afternoon. His body was recovered and is being forwarded to his home at Cambridge, Mass. With him at the time was James Conley of Cambridge. He was unmarried.

PERSONALS

Miss Elizabeth Maguire, Miss Alice Masterson of this city, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore of the Boston Dental parlors, and Miss Nellie Hogan of Lawrence have returned after a very pleasant two weeks' vacation spent at Rockport, Mass.

The local exchange of the Bright and Sears Co. in Wyman's exchange, will not open tomorrow owing to the day being a holiday on the exchanges in New York and Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Walker and Mrs. E. P. McOsker left Thursday for a trip to Quebec and the Saguenay river. They will attend the Eucharistic congress in Montreal next week, and also visit Ottawa, returning to this city on Sept. 17.

Bernard Judge, the popular conductor on the Christian Hill-Pawtucketville line of the Boston & North-ern, and Mrs. Judge are rejoicing over the arrival of a ten-pound son at their home, 42 Humphrey street, this morning. "Barney" is passing around the cigars and in return is receiving congratulations.

A son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kiernan, 983 Moody street today.

HE LOST A SOVEREIGN

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The royal newborn Lord Cowdray, who arrived today on the Lusitania bound to Mexico to fight the Standard Oil company was found today in the upper dining saloon where he was recognized by white spots beneath a coat-tail that protruded from under a table. Surrounding him and also on their knees were five saloon steamer stewards. When Lord Cowdray's head appeared from beneath a corner of the table he explained "My word, I have lost a sovereign. I don't mind the loss so much, don't you know, but I don't like the principle."

He had gone to the saloon to see the stewards and had dropped the sovereign on the carpeted floor and it rolled out of sight. The sovereign was not found.

BASEBALL GAME

Next at Philadelphia, first game—New York 2, Philadelphia 3.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Two women and two life guards figured in the thrilling rescue of Mrs. Frederick England of Lowell, who, while bathing at Revere Beach yesterday morning, had got beyond her depth and would have drowned but for their timely assistance.

The two women who were the first to reach Mrs. England and supported her until the life guards came, were Mrs. Hattie Foley of Revere and Miss Gertrude Barnard of Roxbury. The life savers, who completed the rescue, were Sam Mahoney and John Murray.

The rescue was witnessed from the beach by the husband and sister of the drowning woman. For some time there the wildest kind of excitement.

Owing to the untoward weather yesterday, very few bathers were in the water. Mr. and Mrs. England and party of Lowell people had gone to Revere to pay a visit to friends. They did not wish to let the opportunity go by without taking a plunge into the sea.

While some of the party went in the water others, including Mrs. England, stayed ashore to watch the bathers. Mrs. England, who is very fond of bathing, waded out ahead of the party.

She took a few strokes, and thinking that she was still within her depth, tried to touch bottom. To her terror she discovered that she was out much beyond her depth. Not being much of a swimmer, she immediately lost all presence of mind and cried lustily.

Her struggles caused her to sink, but just as she went under, Mrs. Foley and Miss Barnard reached her. Each took hold of one of Mrs. England's arms and tried to support her.

For fully ten minutes the three women struggled in the water, while other bathers who were unable to swim screamed, as did the spectators on shore. Mr. England was almost overcome with excitement as he watched the two women trying to save his wife.

The affair had been witnessed by life guards at Station 55, who immediately rushed to the scene and assisted by the women, brought Mrs. England ashore. Mrs. England was taken to the bath house where, after working over for some time, the maids succeeded in fully reviving her. She was, however, suffering from a nervous collapse due to the excitement that she had gone through.

WILLIAM BARNES WILL NOT DISCUSS NEW YORK FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—William Barnes declined to discuss a report today that the "old guard" had decided to wage a battle in the primaries in New York county to capture delegates to the state convention. Lloyd Griscom, county chairman, said that he was not aware that a contest was contemplated. Mr. Barnes was confident today that there would be no change in the lineup in the state committee over the selection of a temporary chairman at the meeting at Saratoga on the evening of Sept. 28, with the exception of the two Erie county committeemen and Frank R. Utter of Albany, who represents the 37th district, who were absent at the last meeting. Fred Greiner, chairman of the Erie county committee, has announced that the Erie county votes will be cast for Col. Roosevelt, while Utter's position is said to be in doubt.

Mr. Barnes leaves this afternoon for Manchester, Mass., to be gone until Tuesday. Mr. Griscom will go to Fairfield, Conn., for the week-end.

WOMAN LEPER AND HER BOY ARE AT BELLEVUE HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The first case in several years that has been diagnosed at Bellevue hospital as leprosy was that of Mrs. Iris Lee, who last night applied for treatment. She was taken to an isolated tent, where with her four years old son John, she will be kept until removed to Blackwell's Island.

Mrs. Lee told Dr. Hopkins that she has been in New York seven years, and recently has lived at 240 West 60th street. She was born in the West Indies.

Dr. Hopkins said there is no doubt about her disease, and that she is in an advanced state of leprosy. He could not say as much of the child, but as a precautionary measure ordered the boy isolated with the mother. At Blackwell's Island they will not be alone, as New York has a little colony of six lepers there.

Their home is on the north end of the island, by the lighthouse, and where the island is scarcely 50 feet wide. The lepers have cottages and a certain tract for their exclusive use. Beyond this they cannot roam.

SHE HAD $5000

SHE LEFT BEQUESTS AMOUNTING TO $15,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The will of Sara E. Pearsall, who left an estate worth less than $5000, provides for the disposal of more than $15,000 in bequests. Her coachman, Cornelius Lennihan, is given $5000, Mrs. Pearsall's horses, ponies and conveyances, and his daughter gets $1000.

Mrs. Pearsall died at Williamsbridge, N. Y., on July 24 last. She provided in her will a $5000 fund for the care of her Woodlawn burial plot. Three cousins are given $500 each. A maid is to receive $100 for every year she worked for Mrs. Pearsall. Alice Kearney, another employee, is given $1000. A fund of $2500 is left for the poor. The will provides that if there is not enough money to warrant the full legacies the estate shall be divided pro rata.

Just wait a minute Edd, this strikes me funny. See this window. I was admiring ties in a window in Boston today. They were marked "Special, 65c" and what do you know, here are the same ties in the Merrimack Clothing Company's window marked "Early Fall Ties, 50c." I guess that's good enough for me. A Merrimack tie at 50c.

There's a fine display of hats. Just look at that one marked Merrimack Durby, $2.00. And say, I've a hunch there's a soft hat at $2.00. The Merrimack has a dandy display of hats there. They certainly look good to me.

Say, Bill, are you going to look in the window all day? No, but what do you know about those suits marked $12 and $15. The new fall suits at that? They say that clothing is high. Now tell me, how can the Merrimack Clothing Company sell such suits at $12.00 and $15.00?

Here, see this sign. "These real evening gowns, made of Fall Top Coats." Just look at this one for $15. Isn't that a dandy at that price? Good enough for me. But if you want to pay more, there's a silk-lined one at $25. Any of these Merrimack top coats are dependable.

While, you have got to have a new suit for school, let us look at these in the Merrimack window for $8.75. They look like that and I bought for your brother down about $6.00. Yes, and there have two pairs of knickerbocker pants, and I certainly had that extra pair of pants.

NATIONAL BANKS RULE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—National banks in large cities which are to act as reserve agents for banks in smaller places must hereafter be approved by the comptroller of the currency. That is a provisional law but it is the intention of the treasury department to see to its strict enforcement.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate no essential change in business conditions, although greater activity is expected as the season advances. General distress prevails at Boston but full prospects in many lines are considered quite encouraging.

Bank statements this week at all leading cities in the United States amount to only $2,720,000,489, a decrease of $4.3 per cent. as compared with the same week last year.

OYSTER BAY'S POPULATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Oyster Bay, N. Y., the home of ex-President Roosevelt, has a population of 21,502 against 16,331 in 1900, an increase of 5,169. These figures include Setauket village, which adjoins Oyster Bay.

LOCK-STEP ABOLISHED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 2.—The old fashioned lock-step which has been in vogue at the state prison and county jail since they were founded has been abolished at these institutions by order of Warden Wilcox who has just been made sheriff of Providence county. Reclining today the prisoners walk in rows of two with a semi-military step instead of the former lock-step in which the men walked in the same file, each with one hand on the shoulder of the man ahead.

6 O'CLOCK SECOND IN WORLD New York Exceeded in Population Only by London

London, 7,429,740
New York, 6,581,372
Paris, 2,768,333
Tokyo, 2,156,079
Berlin, 2,040,143
Chicago, 1,698,375
St. Petersburg, 1,678,060
Vienna, 1,674,957
Canton, 1,600,000
Peking, 1,600,000
Moscow, 1,339,254

Philadelphia's population in 1900 was 1,293,637, and that of Constantinople, estimated, 1,125,000. Osaka is next, with 1,117,131 (in 1903), and Calcutta, and suburbs follow, with 1,026,987. Then come Buenos Ayres, Shanghai, and Rio de Janeiro, in the order named, with 1,000,000 and 1,125, respectively. The population of Boston in 1900 was 402,278.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Greater New York has a population of 4,766,833, under the 13th decennial census, according to figures issued last night by the director of the census. This makes New York the second largest city in the world, and as large as any two foreign cities, excepting London. New York today is that city's greatest rival, and in gain of population gives reason to believe that it will yet wrest from England the honor of having the world's largest city.

While New York, according to the English census returns of 1909, is still 2,662,887 behind London in the race for the greatest city of the world, she is so far ahead of the other great cities of the globe that there is little likelihood of any of them catching her in many decades.

London has 7,429,740

The census of 1909 showed Greater London's population to be 7,429,740 as against 6,581,372 in 1901. That New York is slowly catching London is shown by the fact that in eight years London's increase was 845,368, while that of New York for 10 years was 1,293,637.

Paris, according to the census of 1906, was the third largest city in the world, with a population of 2,768,333, while Tokyo, under the census of 1908, was fourth, with 2,156,079. Berlin in 1906 had a population of 2,040,143. Leaving aside the figures of large cities, New York city now has a population greater than many of the countries of the world. For instance, Australia in 1908 had within its borders 4,275,300 persons exclusive of aborigines, while Ireland last year had a population of 4,374,155.

Bulgaria in 1908 showed a census return of 4,155,409 and Denmark and Greece respectively had 2,559,000 and 2,632,000 subjects of their kings. Norway in the same year was populated by 2,355,786 persons and Switzerland by 3,559,000.

38.7 Per Cent Gain
Since 1900 the population of the metropolis has increased by 1,293,637, or 28.7 per cent, as compared with 4,347,202 under the last census.

The borough of Bronx showed the greatest increase in population, with 1,117,131 in 1909, and Richmond and Manhattan following next in order. The figures for these boroughs, together with the increases, are as follows: Bronx, 430,980, an increase of 230,473, or 114.9 per cent.

Queens, 228,041, an increase of 131,042, or 55.5 per cent. Brooklyn, 1,534,351, an increase of 477,569, or 49.1 per cent.

Richmond, 55,000, an increase of 18,467, or 33.6 per cent. Manhattan, 2,331,542, an increase of 351,440, or 20 per cent.

New York city contains only 104,549 fewer people than the combined 14 cities of the United States, namely: Pittsburg, Boston, Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland, Newark, Milwaukee, Washington, Indianapolis, Jersey City, Kansas City, Portland, St. Paul and Denver. The aggregate population of the cities named is given as 4,931,532.

FRANCES STEWART
KNOWN AS "ANGEL OF HELL'S KITCHEN," WEDES

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Miss Frances Violet Stewart, affectionately called "The Angel of Hell's Kitchen," by many of those with whom she came in contact in her charity work in that locality, was married yesterday at noon to the Rev. Norman Metton Thomas, acting pastor of Christ Church and assistant pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church. Their wedding took place in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin.

The bride, who is the second daughter of the late William A. W. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, of No. 27 East Thirty-eighth street, was given away by her brother, Alfred Graham Stewart. She wore white satin. Her sister, Miss Mary Stewart, was her only attendant. Dumond Clarke was the best man.

Both Mr. Thomas and his bride, who is wealthy in her own right, have for a number of years been identified with charities, and are popular with the young people by reason of their work for the Summer school at the foot of Thirty-fourth street. They met about two years ago in the course of their work, and their friendship ripened into love.

THREE SISTERS
WERE ORDERED DEPORTED BY THE OFFICIALS

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Aboard the French line steamship La Lorraine when she left for Havre yesterday were three Spanish girls whom the immigration authorities have deported to their home in San Sebastian. They are sisters, and the eldest, Josefa Torralba, 17 years old, appeared to Commissioner Williams for protection.

When they arrived a week ago they were accompanied by Marcelino Manzo, a Spaniard, who said he was their uncle, and that they were going to live with relatives in Mexico City. He had sold, but the statement of Josefa caused an investigation and he also was excluded. He will be held another week, as the commissioner thought it inadvisable to let him travel with the girls.

Josefa's sisters are Magdalena, aged 15, and Pilar, aged 13. Their mother is dead and their father is too old to work. Josefa, a hairdresser, said Manzo gave her father a sum of money to gain his permission to take the girls to Mexico, where he said they would earn lots of money.

AS BLACKMAILERS
THREE MEN HELD BY THE POLICE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Salvatore Lollo, a barber, of No. 1130 First avenue; Lancelotti, also a barber, of the same address; and Frank Trampa, of No. 303 East Sixty-first street, were held as possible blackmailers in the Morrisania court yesterday. Bail was fixed at $1,000 in each case.

The men are accused of writing threatening letters bearing daggers and black hands to Giacomo Laporta, of No. 620 Courtlandt avenue, in the Bronx, demanding $1,500, on penalty of death.

The three were arrested following a break fight with the police after they had lifted a stone in a vacant lot on Decatur avenue and appropriated a roll of bills placed there by Laporta at the instance of detectives and in accordance with instructions in the latter's

KELIHER CASE A Bill of Exceptions Was Filed

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—William J. Keliher, who was recently convicted in the United States circuit court on the charge of aiding Bookkeeper George W. Coleman in the embezzlement of funds in the National City bank of Cambridge, filed a bill of exceptions through his attorneys today. Judge Hale will pass on the bill on Sept. 29 and in the meantime U. S. District Attorney Asa E. French is to make such corrections as he may desire.

JAIL SENTENCE

DILISIO WAS GIVEN TWO AND ONE-HALF YEARS

FITCHBURG, Sept. 2.—Dominick Dihielo, and James Matrone, who were found guilty by a jury last week in the superior court on a charge of assault with intent to murder Crescino Marandino at Ashburnham on July 8, were sentenced last yesterday afternoon by Judge Fassenden.

Dililio was sentenced to the house of correction for two years and six months and Matrone to the Concord reformatory.

The defendant's attorney made a strong plea for mercy, especially for Matrone, who, he said, came from Hudson, N. Y., looking for his sister, a 16-year-old girl who had been kidnapped. The attorney told the court that while neither man was justified in committing the crimes charged, he believed that the circumstances should be considered in passing sentence.

"Jack" Johnson, who was charged with larceny from the person in this city on June 11 and who was found guilty by a jury, was sentenced to the house of correction by Judge Fassenden for three years. A letter from the chief of police at Red Bank, N. J., in which the officer said that Johnson never worked, only when he gambled and shot craps, was produced.

Eusebe Beuchemin, charged with assault, pleaded guilty and was allowed to go upon probation.

SHOOT FOR BRIGGS TROPHY

SEA GIRT, N. J., Sept. 2.—Under exceptionally trying conditions the inter-state team match for the Briggs trophy was begun today, the second day of the tournament, under the auspices of the New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania state associations.

The wind blew a gale across the range and the light was poor. However, some good scores were made at 200 yards by some of the riflemen. The trophy which goes with the first prize of the match was donated by Frank O. Briggs of Trenton, United States senator.

ELIOT CHURCH IS UNDERGOING ELABORATE INTERIOR DECORATIONS

Until the interior decorations which have been going on at the Eliot church have been finished, services will be held in the vestries and will commence on Sunday morning, Sept. 4. The church will look very pretty when the decorators have finished with it.

DOMESTIC RELATIONS COURT NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—I now declare the court of domestic relations open, call the first case.

With so much and no more formality, the first court in this state specifically established to deal with cases of abandonment was opened yesterday. The court will not listen to squall testimony and petty bickering, but it will make a genuine attempt to effect reconciliations where possible, and when that is past hope, to note out justice.

POPULATION OF ROCHESTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The population of Rochester, N. Y., is 138,149, an increase of 1,641, or 30.2 per cent, as compared with 136,508 in 1900.

The population of Auburn, N. Y., is 34,058, an increase of 4,323, or 14.2 per cent, as compared with 33,335 in 1900.

The population of Rochester, Ill., is 48,401, an increase of 14,360, or 40.2 per cent, as compared with 34,041 in 1900.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT FOUR PICKPOCKETS On a Clinton Girl Without Any Sentenced to One Year Each Known Motive in Police Court

They Were Arrested at Northern Depot and Held as Vagabonds—Bad Record Shown Against Them

CLINTON, Sept. 2.—Murderously assaulted by an unknown man near her home here last night, Miss Katherine A. Kelley, 35 years old, lies today in the local hospital in a dying condition. Attending physicians state that the woman has a compound depressed fracture of the skull and that the chances of recovery are against her.

Arriving in Depot square on an electric car from Worcester, Miss Kelley was working on the case today when they say they have very little to work on. Near the scene of the assault was found the iron bar with which the unknown man felled Miss Kelley. The scene of the assault was very dark last night and it is believed that the man has succeeded in getting away to some neighboring town.

Passengers and Crew Had a Narrow Escape

NEWTON, Sept. 2.—The passengers and train crew on the noon express from Boston for New York over the Boston & Albany division of the New York Central railroad narrowly escaped a serious accident, when two locomotives, the baggage mail and passenger cars left the rails on the bank of the Charles river near the Riverside station today. Although nobody was killed or seriously injured three trainmen, a mail clerk and two or three passengers received numerous cuts and bruises.

SEN. HOOLIHAN HOUSE ENTERED

In Pursuit of Alleged Another Robbery at Narragansett Pier

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—There was an exciting chase across the state of Connecticut yesterday for the possession of Elizabeth Randkay, a ward of former State Senator Michael Hoolihan, of Newtown, and who declared that the girl was abducted by Colonel and Mrs. Charles E. McGuire, of Brooklyn.

When Senator Hoolihan adopted the girl at an orphan asylum he was wealthy and prominent in Connecticut politics. He and his wife reared the girl and educated her.

A few years ago Senator Hoolihan's health failed, he lost most of his fortune, and the girl, to show her love and loyalty to her benefactors, offered to go to work if she could find a position and help support the aged couple. She did get a place in a lace factory, and it is said, walked four miles to and from her home every day to reach her work.

The factory closed down and she went to work as a waitress in a summer hotel run by a man named Taylor at Newtown, Conn. There she met Colonel McGuire and his wife, who were summering at Newtown. The girl waited on the couple and they became fond of her. They learned her history, and it appears they asked her if she would like to accompany them to Brooklyn and live with them. The McGuires said they were childless.

The girl told Senator Hoolihan on Wednesday night of the McGuires' offer. She asked the senator to advise her what course to pursue. He consulted with his wife, who could not but have thought of the young woman as the thought of losing the young woman.

The Hoolihans pleaded with her to say "No" to the McGuires. "Elizabeth," said Mrs. Hoolihan, as the girl started for the hotel yesterday morning, "I shall look for you after luncheon today. I shall expect you home by 6 o'clock. Please don't fail to come back."

Two o'clock came and Elizabeth failed to return. Mrs. Hoolihan went over to the hotel and was told that the girl had left with the McGuires, who said they were returning to their home in Brooklyn.

The Hoolihans consulted Chief of Police Carlton, who accompanied them to the railroad station. The McGuire had not left by that route. The Hoolihans went to the livery stable and were told that the McGuires and the girl had been driven to Holyville, four miles away.

The chief and the Hoolihans got another tip and gave chase. They met the driver in a clearing, and from the driver learned that the party had taken a train to Sanbury and across the state line. Chief Carlton wired the police all along the line to stop the girl and return her to Newtown, but he was too late.

"Elizabeth is not more than fifteen years old, and I shall get her back or prosecute the McGuires for abduction," said the senator yesterday.

Becomes Bride of a Biddeford, Me., Man Wealthy Man Committed Suicide

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Miss Agnes Neilman, who has been "Information" at the Bryant telephone exchange for several years, and whose charming voice you may have heard over the wire, eloped yesterday with Benjamin H. Choate, a son of a wealthy family of Brooklyn. The pair were married at the Little Church Around the Corner, enjoyed a wedding supper at the Hotel Astor, and went to Atlantic City for a honeymoon trip. Ignorant of the fact that bride's mother was lying in bed, home, 253 East One Hundred and Forty-first street, with a broken leg.

Miss Neilman, who is eighteen years old, extremely pretty and of the brunette type, was one of the most valued employees of the telephone company. Recently she was sent at the head of a squad of telephone operators to organize the telephone system of the state of Virginia. They toured the state and Miss Neilman received a bonus from the company for her excellent work.

Mr. Wait is a well-to-do young man about town. He has his own automobile and is a member of several clubs. He asked for "Bryant Information" about four years ago and liked the tone of the girl's voice so well that he acquired an insatiable appetite for information. He thought up more excuses for calling up information than there are hairs on a cat. Then Wait went on a hunt for some one who knew "Bryant Information" by her real name. He was finally presented.

SONDER YACHTS

To Engage in Series of Trial Races

MARION, Sept. 2.—The sonder yacht aspirants for honors in Germany next June as members of the American team in races for the Emperor William and Prince Henry cups gathered in Buzzards bay today in anticipation of a series of trial races held by the Eastern Yacht club. There was much disappointment that the Harpoon, which won the Tait cup in the recent Spanish-American series, did not enter, but Mr. Adams acknowledged a plentifulness of racing for the present season and furthermore would not sign the agreement to go to Germany in case he won. All the other yacht owners, however, have bound themselves to take their yachts across in case they prove their worth. Of the entries the Beaver and Cima raced against the Spanish at Marblehead, the Sally VIII failed to qualify in the trials of 1906, the Sally XI was one of the last to be eliminated in the trial races at Marblehead this year, the Spokane III was in the trial races last year at Marblehead, while the other yachts have not sailed outside of Buzzards bay. The entries, with their owners, clubs, designers and date of construction follow:

Beaver, J. C. Edwards, Beverly Yacht club, Bourne, 1905.

Beaver, G. B. Dabney, et al., Beverly Yacht club, Bourne, 1910.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Hathaway's theatre will reopen for the vaudeville season next Monday, under the exclusive management of John I. Shannon, and local theatregoers may rest assured that a fine entertainment has been arranged for their delectation. A fine list of attractions has been booked for the season and Lowell people are assured of the best vaudeville that the city has ever seen. The opening bill is an excellent sample of what is to come. The feature attraction, Laddie Cliff, England's premier boy comedian and grotesque dancer, is one of the most sought-for attractions in the variety world, and his contracts are made for years in advance. He is now making his farewell tour of America and local audiences are lucky in having the opportunity of seeing him for the first time. Here is what Variety's critic said of Laddie on the occasion of his first appearance in New York: "Just one simple mistake occurred in the American debut of Laddie Cliff. Someone named the boy 'Laddie' instead of 'Kiddie.' He's a cute kid, will be the first thing you will say when Laddie Cliff walks on the stage, and it will be the last thing said when he leaves. He is a cute kid and a performer from his head to his toes. The lad is a 'comer' in every sense of the word, and he could have had New York easily when he appeared for the first time at the Colonial. Dressed as an Eton youth, Laddie, who cannot be over seventeen years old, sang and danced his way right into the Colonial audience. His legs are a couple of spindles and he is a comedian with them; also an eccentric dancer of a high class, without seemingly having had anyone teach him grotesque steps, as his particular style of loose dancing has been developed over here. Laddie could have been a contortionist or an acrobat as well, but he has chosen dancing and singing. The boy sings well, and has a flexible face, which he uses for comedy while singing."

The Woods and Woods Trio, two men and a pretty woman, give a wonderful exhibition on the tight wire. Their act which is entitled "An Elopement by Wire" begins with a demonstration of how to perform the elopement stunt by this method, and then proceeds with the execution of seemingly impossible feats of balancing on the wire. In one of them, the woman makes her way across it while riding a safety bicycle with the front wheel in the air. A masterly dramatic sketch is "The Other Man," and it is splendidly played by Miss Elsie Ridgeley and a fine supporting company. The story is of a young society girl, who has fallen in love with a married man, and plans to elope with him. She is visited by another woman, who claims to be the man's wife, and from the moment their interview begins there is a sequence of surprises, culminating in the rescue of the young woman, though the manner of its accomplishment is not at all what the audience has been led to expect. The playlet is brilliantly written, and the dialogue sparkles with witty epigrams.

The Van Der Kours, two men, cooperate in a shriekingly funny comedy magic act. A feature is the appearance of the wonderful educated duck, a burlesque novelty which is making a hit everywhere.

Charles A. Pusey and Oscar Ragland, "those two little fellows with the 'big laughs,'" are entertainers with an undying flow of funny talk, and their singing is first class.

Then Lightner's pianologue is a musical captive that will be found very pleasant. She is a brilliant manipulator of the piano keys, and her singing and conversation are on a par with her instrumental ability. Her songs and hoop rolling are cleverly done by Jarvis and Martin. An excellent series of moving pictures will be shown.

MAN PAID $340

FOR A ONE CENT PIECE AT AN AUCTION

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Henry Chapman, a Numismatist paid $340, for a one-cent piece at an auction yesterday. The price, according to dealers, is the largest ever paid for a penny. Two hundred and seventy-five dollars is the highest previous price which could be remembered. The coin was struck in the year 1793. It is of the "Liberty cap" variety and was formerly owned by Peter Hough, the grocer-numismatist of Cincinnati.

A PRETTY AND EFFECTIVE SCENE IN CLYDE FITCH'S COMEDY, "GIRLS," THAT COMES TO THE LOWELL OPERA HOUSE ON TUESDAY, SEPT. 6.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The season at the Opera House will open next Monday, with a matinee and evening performance, the attraction being Daniel Ryan and a well balanced company in a new play of French Canadian life entitled "The Black Fox," a vivid melodramatic story of the great Northwestern country, and vigorously told in a series of intensely dramatic scenes and crisp dialogue permeated with the atmosphere of the "frozen North." Legends of the North country and character drawings of the people who inhabit this part of the Canadian wilds are powerfully expressed and clearly and sharply drawn. Mr. Ryan, who in the past has been noted for the excellence with which he has portrayed romantic roles, will be seen in the character of a habitant trapper, and it is safe to say that Mr. Ryan's impersonation of the vigorous woodsman will be worth while. The supporting company is said to be an excellent one and the production is carried complete. The engagement here will be for one day only, Monday afternoon and evening, and will be played at popular prices. Seats for both performances are now on sale.

"When 'The Midnight Song,' Lew Fields' mammoth musical production, was first brought out in New York it was little thought that it would be seen in any other cities save Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. These places have now had a glimpse of this colossal play and the Messrs. Shubert and Mr. Fields are sending it to various other cities where their attractions are now being looked.

Lowell is to be included in the itinerary of "The Midnight Song," the engagement being scheduled for two days at the Opera House, beginning Friday, Sept. 9. The production, which travels intact, with over 100 people including the large stage crew, will be given here in its entirety, including the realistic theatre scene showing the interior of a playhouse with an audience of 600 people. Such a scene has never been duplicated. It is said to be the nearest approach to life of any stage picture ever conceived. There are thirty musical numbers and a chorus of 50.

"GIRLS"

"Girls," the sparkling, scintillating comedy from the pen of Clyde Fitch, which was presented for 225 consecutive nights at Daly's theatre, New York, will be seen at the Opera House, Tuesday, Sept. 6th.

This is said to be one of the brightest of the comedies written by Mr. Fitch. The struggle of a trio of girls who have come to New York to fight their way through life without the assistance of the sterner sex present a series of amusing incidents. One scene which is that of their retiring for the night in a room furnished with a folding bed, a sofa couch and a Morris chair, is said to be one of the most unique and realistic ever presented.

That the young ladies finally yield to the charm of the hated sex is a foregone conclusion. The entire performance sparkles with a wit and humor that held the attention of the audience from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

THEATRE VOYONS

One of the most beautiful subjects in point of story and scenic settings yet offered the public is "The Vow" one of the numbers on the Theatre Voyons bill today. It tells the story of Jephthah's daughter is a most pleasing way and its staging is unusually appealing. "A Modern Prodigal" is a biographical subject with a strong moral lesson finely acted and well staged. "The Emigrant" is a comedy drama that combines both a funny story and an interesting tale of life in a big city. On Sunday the usual big concert will be given at which the best of pictures and musical numbers will be given. It runs continuously from one in the afternoon till ten thirty in the evening and every minute is enjoyable.

DONATED BRONZE TABLET

PASADENA, Cal. Sept. 2.—Professor Pickering of Harvard university surprised the scientists attending the international astronomical convention here today by donating a bronze tablet commemorating the establishment of the first solar observatory. This pioneer observatory was founded on Harvard peak, one of the peaks of Mount Wilson, 21 years ago, and Prof. William Pickering of Harvard was then in charge.

Prof. Charles F. Abbott of the Smithsonian astro-physical laboratory, in Washington, read a paper giving the results of observations made by him with the pyrohelionometer, an instrument that notes the variation of heat in the sun's rays and surface. Professor Abbott said he believed the instrument would become commercially important through its availability in determining the effect of such variations upon the atmosphere of the earth and on the products of the soil.

Professor Newell of the university observatory, Cambridge, England, commented the work accomplished by Dr. George F. Hale of Carnegie solar observatory, Mount Wilson. His discovery that the sunspots were vortices of electricity and that the cyclones which whirl from left to right were positive in character, and those revolving the reverse direction were negative had completely revolutionized the study of solar spots, said Professor Newell.

WORCESTER, Sept. 2.—The will of George Mixer of Boston, who left an estate valued at from $100,000 to $500,000, was filed for probate here yesterday.

Mr. Mixer was owner of the famous Mixer farm in Hardwick, and one of the finest herds of blue-blooded Guernsey cows in the country is at the farm. The chief beneficiaries under the will are Dr. Samuel J. Mixer of Boston, a brother, and a sister, Mary A. Mixer of Hardwick.

A bequest of $1000 is left to a clerk, Webster Spooner, and another of $5000 to Harrison Spooner. Dr. Mixer is named as executor.

DIV. I. A. O. H.

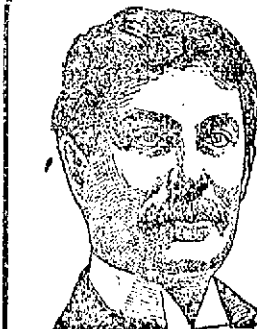

IS WELL PLEASED WITH SUCCESS OF CONVENTION

A well attended meeting of Division I. A. O. H. was held last night in Hibernian hall, President McMullen in the chair. The president gave a long and interesting talk on the excellent showing made by the members of the division and thanked them for their co-operation during the convention. Remarks were also made by John McLaughlin and Daniel E. Hogan. The members are all delighted at the success of the big convention.

THE LIE PASSED

Attorney Pierce Made Attack On Attorney James

Said He Was Willing to Continue the Matter "Outside"—A Lively Time at the Railroad Rate Hearing

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The tense strain in the railroad rate hearing developed today, in the midst of which Attorney Pierce called Attorney F. B. James, representing Cincinnati shippers, a liar. Mr. Pierce added that if Mr. James was not satisfied the matter could be continued "outside."

Comptroller Noy of the Rock Island was on the witness stand undergoing cross examination by Mr. James. The latter declared that in one of the tables introduced by Mr. Noy yesterday the total freight operating revenue per mile and the total freight operating expenses had been left out, while both sets of figures appeared in a similar table.

"Why were those figures left out?" demanded Mr. James.

"Witness answered that the omission was undoubtedly accidental."

Mr. James expressed a contrary opinion with regard to an accident, averring that he suspected an ulterior motive.

Mr. Pierce at this point jumped to his feet and shouted, "If that is your opinion you are a liar."

"That won't do at all, gentlemen," interposed Examiner Brown, with many raps of his gavel. Above the din Mr. Pierce cried: "We will not stand such insinuations. We are here fairly and squarely, and if the attorney is not sat-

CHILD BURNED

LITTLE ONE FELL INTO TUB OF BOILING WATER

Monica Kazaliska, aged two years, and residing at 257 Fayette street, was frightfully burned last evening as a result of falling into a tub of boiling water. The little one is now at St. John's hospital and is in a critical condition, little hope being entertained for her recovery.

It is said that the mother of the child left a tub of boiling hot water on the floor and being called away left the infant and another small child in the kitchen. She was startled by the cries of the baby and rushing into the room found the little one in the tub of water.

Seizing the child the mother ran to St. John's hospital where, in broken English she tried to explain to the physicians what had happened.

C. F. KEYES' SALE

The property of A. A. Jones, consisting of a two and one-half story house, two stables, carriage shed and about 15,000 square feet of land at 113 School street was sold yesterday afternoon by Auctioneer Charles F. Keyes to Walter Booth for $1300 and this year's taxes.

Mr. Jones is about to leave for California and for that reason wished to dispose of his property in this city.

The property is in good condition and the bidding was spirited throughout until finally knocked down to Mr. Booth.

Spot Cotton

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Cotton spot closed quiet, 60 points lower. Mid Ups, 15.00; Mid Gulf 15.25. Sales, 600 bales.

BOSTON MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Professional sellers of stocks were disinclined to extend their commitments after yesterday's considerable openness. A scanty demand was sufficient, therefore, to harden prices. Fractional advances were the rule by noon. Bonds were firmer.

THE MONEY MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Prime mercantile paper 5 1/2 to 6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady at 48.25 @ 48.45 for 60 day bills and at 48.40 for demand. Commercial bills 48 1/2 @ 48.35. Bar silver 52 1/2. Mexican dollars 44. Government bonds easy. Railroad bonds steady.

CONDITION OF COTTON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Department of agriculture condition of cotton Aug. 25 is 72.1.

MINERS' APPEAL

To Ask Roosevelt to Aid Them

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2.—The legal and industrial entanglement of the miners and operators in the Irwin and Westmoreland fields will be submitted to Theodore Roosevelt when he visits this city on Sept. 10.

This was announced by District President Frank Feehan of the United Mine Workers of America yesterday after he had been arrested with five other local officers in connection with the actions brought Wednesday in the county courts against 87 miners and officials by seven operating companies in the affected districts. Those arrested are under $2100 bonds.

Out of the 400 workmen in the mines of the Westmoreland coal company, one of the plaintiffs, 335 left work yesterday when they learned of the suits being brought. For several days this mine has been running at full capacity.

In a statement made yesterday Richard B. Scandrett, counsel for the plaintiff companies, announced that the actions were not to be construed as attacks upon the right of workmen to organize, but "we charge that operators in the Pittsburgh district have contributed support to the maintenance of the strike and paid to have organizers in the field, that the strike might be prolonged."

Other suits will be brought against certain operators, according to Scandrett, that will reveal a sensational plot.

The union officials arrested are District President Feehan, Vice President V. Sitton, Secretary Treasurer T. Donnan, Michael Halop, district manager, and George Guzz and John Burdolls, district organizers.

Attorneys for the coal operators who have filed the suits charging conspiracy in preaching sedition against the laws of the state and nation yesterday declared that these suits are the first of their kind to be filed in the United States.

LES MISERABLES BOWLING OPEN

Les Miserables bowling alleys in East Merrimack street which for more than twenty years has been the mecca of the leading bowlers of this city and surrounding towns, will open for the season on Saturday, Sept. 3. The name "Les Miserables" signifies a great deal as there has been more fame and records made on those alleys than on any other in New England. It was when the Les Miserables ten years ago its prime it made its home at these alleys and many competitive events were pulled off and prizes awarded. The champion prize of the state league bowlers was fought for many a year on these alleys and the fame which the alleys achieved through the many records made on its floors has won it an estimable place in the bowling alleys of the state.

During the lay-off season Manager Thomas M. Welch has had the entire place repainted and the alleys replanned so that at this time the alleys are as beautiful as the first year they were opened.

Commencing with the opening day Manager Welch will receive bookings for the private alleys for the entire season. Several local clubs have already applied for evenings and so as to treat all fairly, he desires all societies having any idea of hiring the alleys for contests to apply at once so he can arrange a schedule of open nights for the accommodation of the parties which will be formed later in the season. He also has private alleys for ladies and private parties where they can enjoy bowling. For datings at these alleys, call or order by mail or telephone.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Mike "Twin" Sullivan of Boston and Paddy Lavigne of Lowell, who were last night, both men being on their feet at the end of the bout. Sullivan scored a knockdown near the end of the first round, Lavigne lying on the mat for a couple of minutes before he got up.

STOCK MARKET

PRICES SLIPPED BACK IN THE FINAL HOUR

They Did Not Reach Last Night's Closing—The Market was Steady at the Close

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Opening quotations were lower than last night but there was a sprinkling of gains, including Reading with a small fractional advance. U. P. R. & O. and Amal. Cop. declined 1/2. The dealings were on a very small scale.

Prices took a uniform tendency downward and the leading stocks lost large fractions. These losses were made up later when the shorts bought to cover. Trading became very sluggish on the rally. Louisville & Nashville declined 2 points. Sloss Sheffield Steel 2 1/2 and Canadian Pacific 1. Interborough Metropolitan pf. Improved 1/2.

The market was devoid of feature aside from its intense dullness. The list was practically at a standstill in the afternoon.

Prices slipped back a fraction in the final hour but did not reach last night's closing prices as a rule. The market closed steady.

The Money Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Prime mercantile paper 5 1/2 to 6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady at 48.25 @ 48.45 for 60 day bills and at 48.40 for demand. Commercial bills 48 1/2 @ 48.35. Bar silver 52 1/2. Mexican dollars 44. Government bonds easy. Railroad bonds steady.

Money on call easy: ruling rate 1 1/2; last loan 1 1/2; closing bid 1 1/2, offered at 1 1/2.

Time loans steady, 60 days 3 1/2 @ 4 per cent. and 90 days 4 @ 4 1/2 per cent. Six months 4 @ 4 1/2 per cent.

ENVOY OF POPE

Was Given Great Welcome in Quebec

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli, envoy extraordinary of Pope Pius X to the 26th international Eucharistic congress, which will meet at Montreal on Sept. 6, for a session of five days, arrived at this port yesterday afternoon on the steamer Empress of Ireland.

Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, Fr. Vaughan, the English Jesuit, and many bishops and priests from France, England, Ireland, Scotland and Belgium traveled with the pope's legate. Quebec gave the envoys a royal welcome, more than 10,000 persons assembling on the terrace of the Chateau Frontenac. The Canadian government was represented by Sir Charles Murphy, secretary of state, who welcomed the cardinal upon landing in the name of Canada. The formal reception took place on Frontenac terrace, directly in front of the statue of Champlain.

French Canadians who had journeyed from the interior towns and villages were especially enthusiastic and at times they interrupted the legate's brief address with shouts of "Long live the pope!"

Cardinal Vannutelli spoke in French, saying that though he was almost overpowered by the tenderness of the reception, he knew the people of Quebec welcomed him, not because of himself, but because he came to them, as the representative of "Christ's vicar, Pope Pius X."

After the reception the two cardinals went to the basilica of Notre Dame du Quebec, where, in the presence of a

THE FINAL TEST

Of Torpedo Boat Destroyer Pauling

RATH, Me., Sept. 2.—The torpedo boat destroyer Pauling's ability to exceed her contract speed of 29½ knots was demonstrated today when she was given her final test of her official acceptance trials. She was taken down the Kennebec river at 8.45 a. m. after taking aboard the trial board which arrived from Washington on the morning train and when off Seaburg light began her four-hour run at the highest speed attainable. She was not expected to return before 2.30 p. m. The trial affair.

SHOE STRIKERS

ARRESTED ON A CHARGE OF PICKETING

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 2.—Costas Salvanes, James Brown, Garabed Montanian and Vahan Akexbabian, two Greeks and two Armenians, were arrested last evening while on picket duty at the Estabrook Anderson shoe factory. The four men are among those who struck for higher wages at the factory several days ago.

They were charged with trespassing on Boston & Maine property, as it is claimed they spent considerable time on railroad tracks near the factory. The case of James Salvanes, another striker or arrested for assault, was continued in court today and will be heard tomorrow.

THE CHAOTE PETITION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 2.—George W. Chamlee, who presented a petition at a meeting of the American Bar association in this city Wednesday, said to contain charges against Joseph H. Choate of New York, yesterday asked leave to withdraw the petition following the reading of resolutions adopted by the Chattanooga Bar association expressing regret at the alleged attack on Mr. Choate by a member of the local association.

In an address by E. A. Farrar of New Orleans, the new president of the association, severely arraigned former President Roosevelt for his policy of anti-unionism. He declared that the policies emanated by Colonel Roosevelt in his Kansas City speech Wednesday portend danger to the nation.

THE ELKS' OUTING

Basket Picnic at Canobie Lake Yesterday

Despite the inclemency of the weather a fair sized gathering attended the basket picnic of Lowell lodge of Elks at Canobie lake yesterday and a good time was enjoyed by all who attended. A special car at 1.15 took many of the party to the park. Owing to the weather the ball game was omitted. The crowd gathered in one of the pavilions for lunch and during the afternoon the different attractions of the park were enjoyed.

Eyes Examined Free

If you go on allowing your eyes to blur, smart, burn, water and inflame, you must take the consequences. These symptoms are nature's signals of distress, and you disregard them at your peril. It is you who are to blame. It is you who must suffer the consequences.

Your eyes have asked for help many times and been denied. They have worked patiently for you since childhood and in return you have abused them. Now it is "up to you." Perhaps the trouble can be corrected now with right glasses. Tomorrow or next week the mischief may be done and I would have to say to you "Too late." Will you delay longer or will you see me this very day?

RECORDER GOFF'S DECISION

Recorder Goff of New York hit the striking cloak makers hard last Saturday when he decided that a strike which demands the closed shop is a conspiracy in restraint of trade. He quoted a decision of the court of appeals in New York in support of his decision, but another appeal will be taken so that this specific point will be passed upon. The appellate court had decided that it was a conspiracy for employers to force their workmen to join a certain union. Conversely the recorder reasoned that it would be a conspiracy for labor unions to compel any employer to hire none but union men. Should the decision be sustained it will have a far-reaching effect, although it will not compel any man to work where he does not want to work nor any employer to hire any workman he does not want.

The unions have employed ex-Judge Parker to fight this battle for them, and the outcome will be watched with interest.

THE PLAYGROUND FETE

For real benefit and interest, not only to children but to parents, nothing ever produced in this city could compare with the playground fete on the South common Tuesday afternoon.

Whatever is calculated to benefit the children interests the parents, and this alone can explain the presence of about five thousand children and perhaps as many adults, most of them parents of the children in attendance. Never have we seen such a large number of children so deeply interested as were those who witnessed the exercises by the girls. The program as carried out was a revelation to most of those present in the possibilities of supervised play.

"All this costs money," say the penurious citizens. Certainly it costs something, but a few of the good women of Lowell made this start possible without cost to the city. They have demonstrated the benefits of supervised play as carried out in Springfield and other cities, and the results are so novel, so fascinating and so substantial that if it costs $5000 or even more the city should provide the amount.

We would suggest to the park board that a repetition of the exercises on a Saturday afternoon would give all who wish an opportunity to witness the demonstration and thus to become interested in a movement that is new to Lowell.

Miss Moran, the instructress of the girls, is certainly a very able girl. She comes from Springfield while Mr. Wilton, the male supervisor, is also deserving of much praise for his work.

Altogether the results of the trial of supervised play, so far as carried out this summer, have been most successful, and the hope of those who witnessed the exhibition of yesterday is that supervised play may become a permanent feature of our playgrounds in the future.

WHAT'S THE OBJECT OF THE ROOSEVELT PLATFORM?

It seems that Roosevelt has usurped the entire democratic platform and appropriated some of the worst things which President Gompers ever said about the decisions of the supreme court. Before his tour closes he will probably throw out a sop to the Socialists. Yet some people say that Roosevelt is not looking for a renomination in 1912.

He has made up his mind that the country would go to smash without his guidance and direction. While Roosevelt can talk he will not subside into what Cleveland used to term innocuous desuetude.

In spite of his bad taste in protruding himself into the limelight at this time, Col. Roosevelt has some very fine tenets in his political creed. Yet there is none that can be termed original with himself. Among the reforms he favors are the enactment of a workmen's compensation act for which The Sun has been appealing for some time and the holding the directors of every corporation liable for violations of the law by that corporation. This has been favored by The Sun, and now these reforms are very necessary, but if Col. Roosevelt intimates that they will be favored or adopted by the republican party he is misleading the public. He is not touching some of the worst abuses of the hour, abuses which are glossed over by the republican party. This declaration of his political creed by Col. Roosevelt is of no interest to the country and certainly of no benefit, but it cannot be made without an object.

What is the object?

Is it to put him in line for the nomination in 1912 or to strengthen his influence as boss over the political workings in New York? Time will tell. One thing, however, is important to remember in reference to these speeches by Col. Roosevelt. They are the utterances of a private citizen, not of the president of the United States, nor of the republican party.

While Roosevelt goes on throwing dust in the eyes of the people, the republican party maintains its alliance with the trusts which oppress the people and is preparing to defend the present tariff law against all attacks.

If Roosevelt were honest in his speeches, he would point out wherein the tariff law is wrong, wherein the people suffer by republican rule and suggest a remedy. But instead of doing so he is diverting attention to himself as the possible deliverer from all the governmental evils of which the people complain at the present time.

Roosevelt may preach a new nationalism, he may lay down political principles fit for the gods but if he does not take steps to have them adopted by his party or to correct the admitted abuses of that party, then he is untrue to his principles, and it becomes difficult to explain his purpose. He justly puts human weal and human life ahead of dividends and says we must be ready to face temporary disaster in order to secure the necessary reforms, holding still that "ruin in its worst form is inevitable if our national life brings us nothing better than swollen fortunes for the few and the triumph in both politics and business of a sordid materialism." The man who utters this sentiment should be in the democratic party, but Col. Roosevelt's inconsistency lies in the fact that while preaching democratic doctrine he is at the same time upholding the republican party in the application of doctrines diametrically opposite to those he proclaims as his own.

HOCKEY DER KAISER!

The Kaiser from his slumbers rose; Then, after dumb-bell capers And frugal feed, Began to read The various morning papers. There wasn't much to fret his brain— The world's affairs were steady— When, oh, his eyes Met with surprise The latest news of Teddy!

The Kaiser read; his look grew tense, For stronger "specie" he reaches. His breaths a hiss. He cries "Was ist?" As he absorbs the speeches. Those speeches interspersed with "I." Those speeches caustic! He gives a roar, And to the door He darts with manneristic.

"Ho, pen und ink!" aloud he shrieks; The writing tools he snatches; He starts to write. His eyes shine bright. As feverish words he scratches. And as he writes he mutters low; "Vat! Let dot feller Tedd! Go 'head of me! Veil, ve shall see! I too can speak already!"

That night he spoke, and oh, his words Set all the nation crazy. And in his dreams His people's dreams Fall on his darling hazy. He smiles as smiles a slumbering babe. And murmurs: "O you Tedd! I bet dat you Must hump a few To beat me out already!"

"Witness—"I don't know."

"Was his face turned toward you or not?"

The witness answered that she did not know.

"What! You don't know? Now, come, tell me, was his face turned toward you or the wall?"

"I don't know."

LAKE COMMERCE

MOVEMENTS PROCEEDED ON SLIGHTLY LOWER SCALE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Commercial movements between domestic ports on the Great Lakes during the month of July, as reported to the Bureau of Statistics, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, proceeded on a slightly lower scale than during the preceding month. The main factor responsible for the less favorable result of the month is the restriction in the supply of vessel tonnage, which went into effect the month before. The total July shipments of the present year, 12,789,158 net tons, were, however, only 6 per cent below the record total of the preceding month, indicating a fuller utilization of the cargo space of the carriers at work and greater dispatch in docking, loading, and unloading, all of which went far to compensate for the smaller vessel tonnage available. The monthly total was about 400,000 net tons in excess of the corresponding 1909, and about 14 per cent in excess of the 1907 total.

Shipments of iron ore for the month, 6,882,901 gross tons, for the first time during the present year show a smaller total than for the corresponding month in 1909, when 6,727,664 gross tons were shipped. As compared with the total for the preceding month, a decline of 6 1/2 per cent is noted. Smaller shipments are shown for Duluth-Superior, Two Harbors and Escanaba, while the two smaller shipping ports, Ashland and Marquette, the month, owing to the heavy shipments of the preceding month, was larger than the quantity shipped; of the total received, 5,666,883 gross tons are credited to Lake Erie ports and 1,198,760 gross tons to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments of iron ore to the end of the month aggregated 21,394,080 gross tons, compared with 15,230,497 gross tons shipped during the same period in 1909 and 17,615,888 gross tons shipped in 1907. There is little doubt that barring unexpected developments the shipments for the present year will come near, if not exceed a total of 45 million tons.

The soft coal shipments for the month, 2,735,223 net tons, show a similar decline from the higher figures recorded for the preceding month, although comparing most favorably with the July figures for 1909, 2,182,067 net tons, and those for 1908, 2,615,532 net tons. About 80 per cent of the total shipments proceeded from Toledo, Ashland, Cleveland and Lorain. About 57 per cent, of the 2,813,216 net tons of soft coal received during the month is credited to Lake Superior ports and about 39 per cent to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments to the end of the month, 8,648,440 net tons, were almost 10 per cent larger than in 1907, Ohio and Pennsylvania coal apparently taking the place of the deficient supply of coal from the adjacent fields brought by rail to the Lake Superior ports and about 39 per cent to Lake Michigan ports. The season shipments to the end of the month, 8,648,440 net tons, were almost 10 per cent larger than in 1907, Ohio and Pennsylvania coal apparently taking the place of the deficient supply of coal from the adjacent fields brought by rail to the Lake Superior and Michigan ports. The July shipments of hard coal, 560,788 net tons, were also below the June shipments. The coal shipments just stated are exclusive of 235,524 net tons of bunker coal supplied during the month to vessels in the domestic trade, and of 41,232 net tons to vessels in the foreign trade.

How to Cure Eczema

A NEW IDEA THAT UPSETS THE OLD METHOD

The old method of treating eczema and similar skin diseases as blood disorders is being rapidly superseded by the new compound called Cadum. This remedy is applied direct to the affected parts, thus excluding the air and starting the healing process at once. The itching ceases the moment Cadum is applied, and the most stubborn cases yield to its wonderful curative powers in a remarkably short time. Other skin troubles, such as salt rheum, (psoriasis), acne, herpes, tetter, itching piles, blackheads, pimples, eruptions, etc., are also cured quickly by Cadum, which is sold by all druggists at 10c and 25c a box.

Lumber shipments during the month, 141,920 M feet, with a decline in the general decline, show a fairly heavy volume when compared with the corresponding figures of 1909 and 1908, 145,860 and 116,530 M feet respectively. The seven months' shipments, 602,713 M feet, exceeded the corresponding 1909 figures by over 16 per cent.

The grain and flaxseed shipments during the month, 5,236,820 bushels, while in excess of the corresponding 1909 total of 5,276,886 bushels, were, however, only one-half the size of the 1907 shipments of 10,536,940 bushels. The season shipments to the end of July, 45,116,376 bushels, were about 37 per cent below the corresponding shipments in 1907. The season shipments of wheat, 13,616,723 bushels, show a decline of 48 per cent since 1907; the season shipment of corn, 16,639,807 bushels, show a decline of almost 39 per cent; the season shipments of oats, 11,749,820 bushels, declined about 20 per cent, while those of flaxseed, 511,667 bushels, constituted less than one-tenth of the volume shipped in 1907.

July shipments of pig iron, 21,821 gross tons, were larger, and those of iron manufactures, 67,951 net tons, smaller than during the preceding month. Shipments of copper for the month, 16,659 net tons, and salt, 57,611 net tons, share in the general decrease since last month. The movement of declassified, including package freight, for the month, 938,719 net tons, likewise shares in the general decline, the monthly total falling below the corresponding 1909 total of 1,045,075 net tons.

The Sault Sainte Marie canal authorities report a slight increase of traffic since June from 9,889,872 net tons to 9,975,173 net tons, the latter figure representing the largest monthly freight tonnage recorded in the history of the "Soo" canal. The number of vessel passages from July is stated as 3242, representing a vessel tonnage of 7,876,458 net tons register, compared with 5033 passages of 7,844,314 net tons for the preceding month. It is thus seen that the average volume of the vessel locked through the canal in July was 2430 net tons against 2570 the month before.

SUFFRAGISTS POLITICIANS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2.—Are the suffragists politicians working for a political end?

"They are," says Bernard N. Baker, president of the National Conservation congress, which meets in St. Paul on Sept. 5 to 9.

"Not a bit of it," declare the women.

With the convention only a few days off, this is the way the controversy between the suffragists who want to be represented on the program and the officers of the congress stand. President Baker has said that the suffragists will not be allowed representation in the congress and so far as the officers who are in St. Paul know he has not changed his mind.

It is the aim of the officers to keep politics out of the proceedings if possible. They recognize that this will be a difficult task. It is in fact the aim of the persons prominently connected with this congress to at least lay the foundation at the St. Paul convention for what will be America's greatest and most effective economic organization, one in which the membership will be as wide as the United States. It will be larger than any organization of labor more concentrated in its operative capacity than a federation of miners, or an association of business interests, and more efficient in procuring desirable legislation even than a political party. It will be greater than these, according to anticipations, because it will contain the bulk of the men and women interested in the various activities by which life is sustained.

People from every nook and corner of the United States are coming to the St. Paul convention. For every 4000 persons there will be one representative in the congress. Every phase of the conservation question will be represented on the list of delegates. Some of those coming to St. Paul are affected by the ravages of destructive insects. Some are made poorer by the worn-out condition of the soil on which they live. There are those who would like to prevent the useless slaughter of game. Some are unable to provide for the shelter they need because of the high prices of lumber, made high through forest fires and the waste in cutting timber. Many would enjoy greater luxuries if the streams, once navigable, could now carry their commerce. Then there are those who would wage a more strenuous war on preventable diseases, like tuberculosis and typhoid.

Gifford Pinchot, who is president of the National Conservation association, according to his friends, would be the logical head of such an organization. The National Conservation association has been striving to further all legislation wisely designed to diminish sickness, prevent accident and increase the welfare of American life, believing that human efficiency, health and happiness are natural resources quite as important as forests, waters, lands and minerals.

SEC. Y. MACVEAGH'S RULING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Secretary MacVeagh's ruling on the term "commercial paper" in the treasury department's interpretation of the emergency currency law, became known in its full import here yesterday.

Business men and banks throughout the country have been anxiously waiting for it, feeling that an adverse ruling would bar effective currency associations. The way now is made clear for the banks of the United States to put into circulation $500,000,000 in emergency money at the first call of a financial stringency.

The law provides that commercial paper upon which emergency currency may be issued, shall include only notes representing actual commercial transactions which shall bear the names of at least two responsible persons and have not more than four months to run. Many banks hold the notes of reputable individuals and corporations which have been bought from note brokers. Those notes bear only the names of the makers.

SUFFRAGETTES PROTEST
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Four Baltimore suffragettes descended on the women's night court last night and upbraided Magistrate McAdoo for permitting convicted women of the street to be measured and examined. Their leader, Mrs. Donald C. Hooper, protested that such regulations took away the brightness of the sex. The magistrate responded courteously that he had not made the law.
"But you're a party to it," insisted Mrs. Hooper.
The magistrate waived the question and retired.

BANDIT KILLED

Was Struck By Rock Thrown By Engineer Whom He Had Shot—Two Young Men Held On Suspicion

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 2.—In a desperate attempt to hold up the westbound Colorado Midland train No. 3, four miles west of Divide, early this morning, an unknown bandit was instantly killed by a rock thrown by Engineer Stewart after he had shot the bandit in the leg. Sterling and Chas. Martin, two young men who were found near the scene of the holdup, are held for investigation as to their complicity in the robbery. Sterling Martin was slightly wounded in the head by a bullet.

The highwayman crawled over the tender as the train slowed up at a siding to meet the east bound train. As he stopped the train Stewart turned to see his fireman, Paul Buchanan, standing, his hands above his head, and heard the robber say, "Put up your hands or I'll blow your head off!" The robber then forced both to leave the engine and marched them before him to the express car. According to the story told by Stewart, who was brought to a hospital here, the robber ordered him to tell the express messenger that they were in peril of their lives, that the train had been held and that the robbers were determined to have the money in the express car. Stewart states that the robber fired several shots at the heads of passengers who looked out to see what had happened.

"When we got to the express car," said Stewart, "my fireman dashed under the car and crawled to the other side. The robber leaned over the car to shoot at him and when he took his gun away from me I struck him with all my strength with a rock I had picked up. As I did so he whirled and shot at me, the bullet striking me in the leg. I guess my blow finished him for he never moved after the rock hit him. I must have fainted then for the next I knew the conductor and express messenger and a group of excited passengers were standing over me."

When the remainder of the train crew heard the shots they seized weapons and rushed to the head of the train, firing as they came.

Stewart was given immediate medical attention by physicians who were on board the train and was brought to Colorado Springs. His condition is not serious.

Shortly after the hold-up Sheriff Puhl and a posse scoured the country near the scene of the attempted holdup and discovered the Martin brothers hiding in the brush. Sterling Martin was dazed by a bullet wound in the head. He is out on parole from the state reformatory. The Martins claim they were riding the blind baggage and were beating their way to Grand Junction. They say Sterling was struck by a stray bullet from the bandit's gun. They are held for investigation.

GETS HER GEMS

WOMAN WAS ABLE TO PROVE AMERICAN PURCHASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Mrs. I. Reynolds Adriance of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., simplified the smuggling charges against her yesterday afternoon by proving to the satisfaction of the customs authorities that an assortment of jewelry, roughly valued at $100,000, which was seized when she arrived here last Sunday, was not purchased abroad. It was accordingly released, as was a $3000 necklace taken from her daughter Marion.

The lot released does not include, however, the $6000 pearl necklace which Mrs. Adriance had concealed in her hat. She has not denied that she bought the necklace abroad and she is still under $7000 bail pending an examination on a charge of smuggling it into the United States.

Two sealed indictments were returned by the federal grand jury last evening, just after C. C. Wall, a special treasury agent, had appeared as a witness. It was Wall who made the Adriance seizure. The contents of the indictments could not be learned.

Mrs. Adriance appeared at the custom house on notice that she would be given opportunity to prove that the jewelry was purchased in this country and therefore was not subject to duty. The hearing was conducted by Gen. Nelson H. Henry, surveyor of the port.

HUNT RESTILLI

Thought to be in Sanford, Me.

SANFORD, Me., Sept. 2.—When it comes to recognizing men for whom officers are searching men of this village are in the van. Sunday they were looking for Restilli here.

Yesterday Frank Sherburne started another man hunt which was kept up all day. Sherburne thought he recognized a shabbily dressed, poorly shod man, who accosted him as Nicholas Capsalis, wanted in Somersworth, N. H., on the charge of murdering his aunt.

Sherburne saw the man go into the woods after getting directions to Biddeford, and then he notified the police. Sheriff S. L. Smith of Dover, N. H., and a detective, as well as several deputy sheriffs and a posse of citizens went hunting for the suspect.

BIG SUBWAY

TRI-BOROUGH LINE WILL COST ABOUT $125,000,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Preparatory to relieving the daily increasing congestion on present transit lines in Greater New York, bids for new subways with 41 miles of track were advertised for yesterday by the public service commission.

The entire work will cost approximately $125,000,000, and will include new underground connections in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx, grouped under the general title of the tri-borough subway. Bids must be submitted before Oct. 28.

The advertisement specifies two plans of construction, one entirely by private capital, the other with city money. If the latter is adopted the work will be done piecemeal, as only $60,000,000 in municipal funds is available.

SCHOOL BOILER CONTRACT

The contract to furnish a new boiler and circulation for the Chapel street school has been awarded to Scott & O'Day for $280. The bids were opened yesterday afternoon and were as follows:

Scott & O'Day, $280; E. T. Shaw company, $295; Carroll Brothers, $288; Welch Brothers, $285; Barker Manufacturing company, $288, and Farrel & Conatoni, $307.

PROF. A. R. WELLS

Strongly Denounced School Secret Societies

SAGAMORE BEACH, Sept. 2.—A defense of the American colleges and schools against the charge that the student bodies were irreligious and immoral and a vigorous condemnation of secret societies in high schools were the features of yesterday's session of the Sagamore beach conference on the moral and religious training of the young.

Prof. Amos R. Wells of Boston, editorial secretary of the United Society for Christian Endeavor and a well known writer on Sunday school topics, was the speaker who denounced secret societies in high schools. "We must conclude," said Mr. Wells in summing up the sentiment of 170 letters on the subject received from college presidents, high school principals and school teachers, "that the secret society is an enemy to the welfare of the high school and of every pupil in it. It must be abolished, and it cannot be abolished too soon. But the need which it aims unconsciously to supply must be recognized and filled with wise and loving purpose by parents and educators. Whatever organizations take its place must be democratic, open to all students that can fill the requirements. They must be open in all their details to the friendly eye and helpful companionship of the teachers. The high school secret society has no warrant for its existence in necessity or experience, and all who love the boys and girls should unite to drive it from the earth."

Mr. Wells said that of 190 replies received from educators to his question: "Do you approve of secret societies in high schools?" all but five were either "no," "decidedly not," "by no means," "absolutely no," "not in the least," "most assuredly not," "most emphatically no," "far from it," "under no consideration," "unconsciously no," "not at all," "I thoroughly disapprove it," "I strongly disapprove," "I am totally and aggressively opposed to them."

A common charge against the secret society in high schools—though not the charge most frequently made in these letters—is that it seriously affects the discipline of the schools, sometimes destroying respect for authority. They create, as a member of the United States Bureau of Education writes, a feeling of independence detrimental to school work. One principal speaks of the exaggerated self-importance which they excite. Says the principal of the Newton high school: "When one member of a society is disciplined the whole group often feel disciplined and sympathetic with the offending pupil." Another principal declares: "The secret society is a hot-bed for concealing trouble for hatching plots to annoy the teachers." Another speaks of the "hoodlums" that take refuge within its bounds, and another calls it an "organized malignancy" against school authority. Many of these principals give examples of the lawlessness fostered by secret societies, their insubordination, the destruction of school discipline that results from them. This charge alone, thoroughly substantiated as it is, would be enough to condemn them.

"But, further, many of my correspondents mention the destruction of school spirit that secret societies bring about."

"There accompanies this evil another mischievous tendency of secret societies, which also is noted by a large number of my correspondents, and that is the impairment of school work, the lowering of the scholarship of the members. Our college president, referring to college secret societies, tells me of cases in which the fraternity bills have cost half as much as the amount of the college bills, and have bankrupted the students, forcing them to leave college. Of course this is true of high school fraternities in a less degree; but still the tendency is continually to increase the expense of attending high school, and in this tendency the fraternity plays an important part. It is a tendency to be combated by all the friends of popular education."

"Of course it goes without saying that the rivalry of secret societies and secret society politics in general are harmful to the good feeling of the school, and as one principal says, 'life long petty antagonisms are often caused. Bitter disappointments, the disorganization of classes, unseemly rivalries, partisan strife, the destruction of the unity of the school, are frequently, according to these observers, to be laid at the door of the secret society.'"

"In comparison with what I have mentioned, remarkably little is said in these letters about the immorality that may be fostered by secret societies in high schools. A well known college president writes: 'I have known of high school societies in which the members have contracted the habit of smoking, of card playing, and, it is said, of gambling and drinking.' A high school principal declares that smoking is almost universal in these societies, and that there is much drinking and much impure talk. Another enumerates among the evils of these societies, 'Indulgence in smoking, drinking, card-playing, profanity, and vile stories.' Says another: 'The members of unquestionably led into practices in the privacy of the society club room which they would otherwise escape.'"

COMMUNICATIONS

Lowell, September 1, 1910.

To the Editor of The Sun:

Dear Sir:—

Will you kindly publish a few remarks in your valuable paper regarding some places that cannot be looked after properly by regular officers, owing to the large district they have to cover. I saw a couple of weeks ago through the petition of Messrs. Milo Clay and Robert G. Bartlett that the board of police appointed special officers for a portion of School street who were very badly needed. There is a lumber yard in that portion of the street that was continually occupied by young boys at night, insulting people passing and using bad language. As I have occasion to pass by often in that vicinity, I see there is a great change for the better.

There are other places in need of attention by the police to keep the unruly element in check. Thanking you for your space I remain

Yours truly,

J. E.

NEW AUTO LAW DISCUSSED

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Senator Allen T. Treadway, president of the Massachusetts senate and Commissioner of Highways S. W. Schrier yesterday conferred with New York state officials relative to the clause in the new Canadian automobile law which has been interpreted as prohibiting owners of automobiles in other states from operating their cars in New York unless they are registered with the secretary of state. The Massachusetts authorities are desirous of establishing reciprocity relations which will permit non-resident motorists to operate their machines for a limited period without securing licenses.

Sum of $106,964.16 Received by Treasurer

F. S. PEARSON HAS PAID IN HIS $10,000

While Many Others Have Paid the Full Amount Pledged—Treasurer Whidden Urges Payment of Pledges in One Sum

The sum of $106,964.16 represents the payments of subscriptions to the Y. M. C. A. building fund up to date. In addition to this amount there is on hand $3000 received from the Dartmouth college and $768.73 income on the investments made of the money received. The $3000 received from the Dartmouth college was for certain concessions on the new site for the building.

The mortgage on the Hurd street property, $14,320 has been paid; the Locke & Canals received $25,000 for the new site. Investments in savings banks, etc., total $46,210.

Two years are allowed on the pledge cards but Treasurer Whidden requests that all who could, should pay their subscriptions in one payment rather than to allow it to drag along for the two years. Quite a number acted upon the suggestion of Mr. Whidden and at the start paid up their full subscriptions.

The following letter from Dr. F. S. Pearson of New York, the largest single contributor to the fund, is self-explanatory:

Great Barrington, Mass., Aug. 21.
Dear Sir: I enclose herewith check for $2500, being the final payment on account of my subscription of $10,000 to the Young Men's Christian Association building fund.

Yours truly,
F. S. Pearson.

Jacob Rogers paid his pledge of $5000 in two payments. He paid $1250 Jan. 1 and the balance July 1. The following letter accompanied his final payment:

Lowell, July 1, 1910.
Dear Mr. Whidden:
I am so glad to do anything to lighten your work that I pay in full.

Yours very truly,
Jacob Rogers.

There remains to be collected, $65,657.79.

GARDE FRONTENAC

WILL COMPETE AT MANCHESTER ON LABOR DAY

At Manchester Labor Day the great joint convention of L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique, the French American volunteer brigade of New England, the Société du Dénier de St. Pierre and the Association de la Jeunesse Catholique Franco-Américaine and a grand street parade will mark the opening. The Garde Frontenac, Garde d'Honneur, Garde des Saints-Anges and the Garde Jacques-Cartier of this city will participate in the parade. In the afternoon a military competition will take place at Vaneh park, in which the Garde Frontenac is entered.

Capt. Albert Bergeron will command the Garde Frontenac; Captain Joseph L. Lamoureux, the Garde d'Honneur; Capt. Joseph L. Pigeon, the Garde Jacques-Cartier; and Capt. Arthur Lamoureux the Garde des Saints-Anges, assisted by First Lieut. Charles Germain and Second Lieut. Eugene Ricard. Rev. Fr. Jerome Ouellette, O. M. I., director of the Garde des Saints-Anges, will accompany the boys to Manchester.

FAT MEN'S CLUB

Lowell Heavyweight is on the Committee

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Four hundred tons of fat men assemble in Boston tomorrow for the annual midsummer convention of the New England Fat Men's club.

Four hundred tons is the estimate of President W. D. Quimby of the club, who does business at 78 Portland street, Boston. Vice President William T. Flanders of Branford, Conn., estimates that the total weight of the club is only 375 tons; but all the other members of the club claim that Mr. Flanders is influenced in his estimate by the paucity of his own weight. Mr. Flanders is the slyph of the organization, weighing only 215 pounds. The other members say that he feels keenly his deficiency, and wears baggy garments to hide his lack of flesh.

No so with Mr. Quimby, however. He blushing owns to 205 pounds, a weight which is regarded with envious eyes by the 218 and 220 pound youngsters who have attained to membership.

There has been for some time a feeling that Committeemen G. B. Bicknell of Lowell, who weighs 360 pounds, and C. B. Amerson of Camden, Mo., who weighs 359 pounds, have not been playing fair with the rest of the organization. It is widely rumored among the club members that both of those men have intentionally added to their weight by the constant consumption of cod liver oil—a fact which, if true, tends to discredit to a certain extent an otherwise marvelous avoirdupois.

Treasurer J. F. Hale of Wells River, Vt., who is deeply chagrined over his pathetically small weight of 217 pounds, is credited with the statement that he wants an investigation. He says that what is fair for one is fair for another, and that he feels he could easily bring his weight from 217 pounds to 236 pounds by adopting a certain diet with which he has been experimenting on one of his draught horses. He has hitherto felt, however, that such tactics would be unfair to the struggling members of the club who cannot

40'S PEROXIDE CREAM

Is the best cream made for the skin. If you have a red, rough, blotched, sore, unsightly skin, try this great product of the American Druggists Syndicate.

You can use it for massaging wrinkles and for a sallow complexion, as it whitens and beautifies, is safe, harmless and does not grow hair.

No woman who values her appearance and who wants a smooth clear skin should let a day go by without trying it for the face, neck, arms and hands.

WHETHER ON INFANT OR GROWN
PERSON CURED BY ZEMO

AN UNUSUAL OFFER
The A. W. Dows Co. says to every person, be it man, woman or child, who has an irritated, tender or itching skin to come to our store and procure a bottle of ZEMO and a cake of ZEMO soap and if you are not entirely satisfied with results, come back and get your money. So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make you this unusual offer.

ZEMO is a clear liquid for external use that has cured so many cases of eczema, pimples, dandruff and other forms of skin eruption. ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person.

push their weight above 225 by ordinary means. He says that if it can be proved that Messrs. Bicknell and Amerson have attained their state of perfection by secret tipping on cod liver oil, he will leave no stone unturned to make their weight a mere bagatelle in comparison with the club members who use his system.

The convention which is to start tomorrow is the sixth annual meeting of the club, which numbers over 2700 in its membership.

On Saturday evening the club will attend the Castle Square theatre, the seats there being particularly solid and indestructible.

On Sunday the club as a whole will attend the services at Tremont Temple, and follow it up by seeking diversion at Revere beach. They have instructed the managers of the resorts at Revere to that effect, and strengthening proper have been placed beneath the roller coasters and the other commoner forms of amusement which the members expect to patronize.

Monday morning will see the club embarking upon the Nahant boat, bound for Bass Point, where the annual athletic games are to be held.

ALL COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2.—Foreign governments are to be represented at the second National Conservation congress in St. Paul, Sept. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9. The question of conservation in European countries, in Canada, in Mexico and in South America will be discussed by some of these representatives.

James Bryce, ambassador from Great Britain to the United States, has written to the executive secretary Thomas R. Shipp that his government will send a representative to the congress from that country. Romulo Escobar, commissioner of agriculture of Mexico, is coming from that country, and Norway is to be represented by O. Skybak, secretary of the Norwegian legation in Washington. Who the representatives from Germany and France will be has not yet been made known to Secretary Shipp. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, will represent the Dominion.

Dr. Edwin Boone Craighead, president of Tulane university of New Orleans, has accepted an invitation to speak on "Making Our People Count." B. A. Fowler of Phoenix, Ariz., is coming to talk on "Irrigation." Mr. Fowler is president of the National Irrigation congress which is soon to meet in Pueblo, Col. Murdo McKenzie of Trinidad, Col., at first wrote that he would not be able to attend, has changed his plans and will be here to lead in the discussion of the address by Senator Francis G. Newlands of Nevada, who is to talk on "Laws That Should Be Passed."

The Federation of Women's clubs is to be represented by Mrs. Emmons Crocker, chairman of the federation's conservation department.

"I think when it is all over, everybody will agree that the program of this congress was as near complete as it could possibly be made," said Secretary Thomas R. Shipp. "We start off the first day with Pres. Taft. On the second day we have the former president of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt. From that time onward men of distinction in the professional, commercial and political life of the country are to take part and as I have said before I know of no subject that could bring such a representative body of men together in a convention. I am not forgetting the women by any means. The Federation of Women's clubs, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Red Cross society and the Woman's National Rivers and Harbors congress are to be represented by women who have done as much in their field of endeavor as most of the men."

TYNGSBORO

The members of Tyngsboro grange held a pleasant outing at Willow Dale, Wednesday, with a large attendance and a fine program. Hibbard's orchestra gave a concert program from 2 to 3 and then furnished music for dancing at the Breezy Point pavilion. The principal feature of the day was the list of sports successfully carried out by Raymond W. Sherburne.

The winners were as follows: 100 yards dash for boys—First prize 20c, second prize 20c. Won by Lawrence Brown first; Charles Coburn second.

Overalls race for men—First prize 20c, second 20c. Won by D. J. Williams; second Murray Parish.

Popcorn race for ladies. First prize 30c, second 20c. Won by Miss Annie Sawyer; Florence Williams second. Driving contest for girls—First prize 30c, second 20c. Won by Ruth Sherburne; Olive Coburn second.

100 yards dash for men—First prize 30c, second 20c. Won by Donald Campbell; Roscoe Brown second.
